THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war stories I like best, Judge, are the ones by the special writers overseas who live right with our troops. They give us a better idea of how our men react to things going on over there and back here at home."

"I agree with you, Sam. I never miss one of those stories in the papers or magazines. And there's one thing those writers seem to agree on no matter where they are stationed with our men...and that is that the men who have left their homes and families to go away and fight this war don't want to come back and find that prohibition has been put over on them while they were away...either nationally or locally. They have heard about the attempts being made and they resent it bitterly."

"I agree with them, Judge, even though I don't happen to drink myself. Furthermore, I don't think it's fair for us at home to be making any major changes while 10,000,000 of our fighting men are away and have no chance to express their opinions."

SAVE FOODS FATS AND FUEL

Grandma Knew Just What To Do...

AND HOW TO DO WITHOUT

Scraps, nails and string... paper, fats and fuel... anything and everything that could serve another time or another purpose was saved by our ancestors as a matter of dire necessity. The frugality of America's rugged pioneers helped to win battle after battle in our nation's history.

Today, our country asks us to practice that same frugality to help win the war, to save our way of life and to protect our freedom of opportunity for every American family.

Peace and the change-over from war-stimulated activity will pose many problems to challenge the ingenuity of every one of us. Fortune will favor the family that has learned to save and has bolstered its future by the purchase of War Bonds. It's so much sounder to save than to wait to be saved.

REMINDER FOR THRIFTY HOUSEWIVES:

There's nourishment in simple, wartime meals, but, to make them taste better—simply serve the world's most popular beer—cold, bubbling Budweiser.

BROOM BOOM

That five acres of broom corn drying on racks in an Emmetsburg building may start a broom boom in the community. Broom corn produces a special kind of fiber stalk, best adapted to the making of household brooms. O. A. Campbell, owner of a mattress factory at Emmetsburg, has conceived the idea that brooms made from locally-grown corn stalks are good products for a postwar industry boom New hard maple handles are now unobtainable, but Campbell proposes to recondition old broom handles and start making brooms even before the war ends."

NO GROCERY STORE

For the first time in 50 years, the community of Dinsdale in Tama county may be without a grocery store. The present manager, Mrs Aenid Smith, is forced to retire because of ill health and as yet no one has been found to take over the business. The post office is in the same building and Mrs. Smith has been postmistress of Dinsdale in addition to running the grocery store.

HELPS COMMUNITY

Tom Avery of New Concord, Minnesota, noticed that the Deep River church was in need of a coat of paint. Mr. Avery, a transport trucker, wrote a check for $10 to be added to the church paint fund However, by the time the check had reached Deep River, work had already been started to paint the church.

HIGH KICK!

Riding a horse does not prevent another horse from kicking high enough to injure the riders. At least, that is what the young son of Emil Loutsch of LeMars learned when a horse ran alongside and kicked at the horse he was riding. The boy's leg was hit by the kicking horse and bones near the ankle were fractured.

ANTIQUES GO WILD

In olden times, injuries attribbutable to buggies occured in runaways but not so today. A buggy stored high in a building was the cause of injuries to two fellows recently. It had been put away and suspended over nails and hooks, but became loosened and fell on some men shelling corn. Harm Meyer and son of Eppo Gremmer, both of Wesley, received injuries

NEEDED GROCERIES

Dr. P. V. Janse of Algona parked his automobile while he made visits in the local hospital. The brakes became released and the car backed down the driveway into the Teenie Weenie grocery store. The south wall of the building was pushed in three feet and groceries on shelves on the wall were scattered over the store.

HARD TRIP

"Trippie" made a fast and rather dangerous trip to school the other day The dog belonging to the Dr. M. G. Bourne family of Algona, had been tied to the rear bumper of the family car to prevent him from following Julia Bourne to school. Julia's mother did not know the dog was tied to the car and drove another daughter, Barbara, to her school. When Trippie arrived at school, too, his toe nails and foot pads were worn but otherwise he seemed in good spirits After all, he wanted to go to scool, too.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

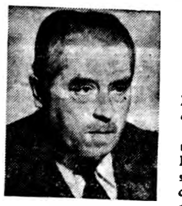
A timely book for today, when the people of France are so rapidly being freed after four years of bondage, is "The Gravediggers of France" by Pertinax.



PERTINAX

Pertinax is the pen name of Andre Geraud, writer for "L'Echo de Paris" for a quarter of a century, and also for British and American newspapers and magazines. The Manchester Guardian once wrote of him that he "usually says today what the French Foreign Office denies tomorrow, but confirms the day after."

In "The Gravediggers of France" he tells the full story of the military defeat of France, the Vichy regime, and the political scene in North Africa. Special sections are devoted to each of the Frenchmen most deeply involved in their country's downfall—Gamelin, Daladier, Reynaud, Petain and Laval. He shows exactly how, why and where disunity, weakness and treason undermined the nation's resistance.

It is a bitter and terrifying story, and we can learn much from it.

No branch of the service surpasses the Seabees in toughness and ingenuity, according to Lieutenant William Bradford Huie, author of a book about them called "Can Do!" He tells this purely apocryphal story. On a certain Pacific island, it is said, natives were mopping up the remaining Japs. One day a group wiped out a party of Japs, but hesitated to kill a strange animal which the Japs had brought along with them. It was a goat, and after observing it closely, they returned to their chief for instructions as to whether or not to kill it. "What manner of beast is it?" the chief asked. "Oh, he's very strange, majesty," the natives replied. "He has fierce eyes, long horns, a shaggy beard, and will eat anything." "Spare him," the chief ruled at once. "Don't kill him. He's what the Americans call a Seabee."

It's a dual selection again for the Book-of-the-Month Club. For November the Club has selected "The American Character" by D. W. Brogan and Herbert Best's novel about revolutionary times, "Young 'Un."

Oliver Morosco never forgot the opening night of his first play, "Mme. Sans Gene," Helen M. Morosco and Leonard Paul Dugger tell us in their book, "The Oracle of Broadway." Instead of staining the seats in the theatre, the famous theatrical producer ordered them painted—with terrible consequences. Much of the paint on the chairs was picked up by the gowns and trousers of the first-nighters. Oliver not only had a hit on his hands, but what threatened to be a number of lawsuits besides.

It is always easy to be generous with somebody else's money.

A lot of "good fellows" are free and easy with dough that somebody else slaved to make.

In recent years we've seen big-hearted open-handed politicians taking credit for throwing your money around.

Any prosperity we've had recently will be out of your pocket.

Unless we put the brakes on, taxes after the war will be $850 yearly for each average family of four. and the national debt will be $7353 for each average family of four. Somebody has been giving a party on YOU.

"Please, Mom, can't you butter both slices?"
READ

Sorry, Sonny, but it may be months before Mom can say "Yes"

Early in life, young folks find butter adds so much to the flavor and enjoyment of other foods. No wonder they want more, even though in months just ahead, America's butter supply may be smaller than ever.

This year, butter-output has been reduced by diversion of milk and cream to other uses, not by any lack of milk production. Despite severe shortages of labor and feed, America's dairy farmers are keeping pace with last year's milk output of 118 billion pounds— near an all-time record. Even though Iowa creameries have topped the nation in butter-making most of the year, wartime requirements have limited the available butter supply. But like yourself, Iowa farmers and creameries look forward to the day when once again golden delicious butter will be plentiful!

Classroom News From The Grades

KINDERGARTEN

The Kindergarten has been washing clothes and curtains this past week. They used Oxydol and hung the washing up to dry with clothespins on a line provided in the room. Then they ironed the clothes with a child-sized iron.

Clay modeling was also introduc- producing everything from bul- snowmen.

boys and girls are to use the gymnasium. They have been using the gym for free play, skipping, running, jumping, etc. with the rythmn of drums, somersaults and jumping on the tumbling mats; and carious games such as Ring Around the Rosie, Drop the Bean Bag, Farmer in the Dell, and London Bridge.

FIRST GRADE

The first grade has had an exhibit of tools which workers use in building houses. They have also brought nails of different sizes to add to the collection.

Thursday morning the children went to the second grade's dramatization of "The Three Bears". They enjoyed it very much.

Next week, the First grade children hope to play some of their favorite stories.

SECOND GRADE

Frances Tyrrell brought the second grade a rice plant with rice on it. Her daddy brought it from Texas. They learned how the rice plant grows and where it grows.

The second grade number classes are learning the meaning of "add" and "subtract". They have been working examples using these words.

This last Tuesday the second grade class visited the Belmond Public Library. Mrs. Wallace showed them how Grandfather's clock worked. They saw many interesting books and liked them very much. They helped Mrs. Wallace make card pockets for new library books. They had a nice time and want to thank Mrs. Wallace again.

THIRD GRADE

In the study of the Indians, the third grade learned that some tribes made part of their utensils from gourds. Dallas Trager, Jim Martin and Eugene Nicholson made some and brought them to school.

Since Thursday was Columbus Day part of the afternoon was spent learning about his life and what he did. They listened to the story of "The Cruise of Christopher Columbus."

They had a quite a bit of work to do when they went to write their own letters, but they finally got them finished and mailed. That finished the unit on letter wrting.

Don Hewlett President Of Student Council

Elected by Student Body

Don Hewlett was elected president of our student council in an election held throughout B. H. S. last week. All classes were asked to select their choice from the three senior members of our governing body. Vice president is Haydn Jones, a junior and Maryls Parker, secretary-treasurer, also of the junior class.

The purpose of the Belmond High School Student Council is to promote a good school spirit, encourage the best school attitude and create a better student-teacher undersatnding. Its duties are to prepare a social calendar for the entire year to assume active supervision of school and to meet and consult with Mr. Faris, their faculty representative, regarding school policy or administration of school activities.

In years past the student council has not been overly active. It is not the fault of the council but that of the student body. If you have an idea about anything concerning school talk to your student council representative. Let's give the council a chance to really do something.

New Stage Equipment

Cyclorama Of Neutral Color

The auditorium of the Belmond Public School is scheduled to become one of the most outstanding entertainment centers of the year. The stage is being equipped with a new cyclorama of netural color, which includes an entire back and side curtain. In addition to this a picture frame effect is to be provided by blue velour curtains across the top and sides. The plans were suggested and drawn by a representative of Scenic Studios in Omaha, Neb., and all priorities are granted by the company. Dressing the stage in its new regalia produces a modern and attractive setting for any activity. The community and student body can well be proud of having a stage equipped as Lane Technical High School is equipped in Chicago.

Expenses for the new equipment will be defrayed in part by various productions during the year. The first glimpse of the stage will be available at the Junior class play, "Reserve Two For Murder", which will be presented in the near future.

Seniors Have Graduation Pictures Taken Monday

At present those who are taking cars are: Mr. Johnson, Mr. Faris, Chris Uhlenhopp, Paul Trees, Roger Pals and McNulty's car is available for use. This arrangement is not quite definite as yet.

EDITORIAL

SPORTSMANSHIP

Sportsmanship is defined as "honest rivalry, courteous relationships, and the ability to accept any results gracefully." Any team or person who has this quality may well be proud of it. Referees who have participated in football games at Belmond have often remarked on the fine sportsmanship of Belmond teams. This has extended to all sports in which Belmond has participated, and Belmond may well be proud of its sportsmanship.

But sportsmanship may be taken from sports and applied to other things. It can be applied in business or in personal affairs. In can be applied in school, church, business, or at home. It can even be applied to the classroom or the school. Here it could come under the lead of "courtesy", but sportsmanship would fit in also. Being courteous to speakers, not disrupting classes, and getting in assignments could all come under this heading. School should be a place to receive learning and not a place to "show off." Our taxpayers help to pay the cost of running the schools, and they expect their money to make better citizens of the graduates from high school. It is all right to have some fun in school, but there are correct times for this as there is for everything else.

Let's all try to keep in this mind and make Belmond a town where SPORTMANSHIP is a reality! -

Learns to Read Meters

The General Mathematics class are reading meters and computing gas and electric bills.

The first year Algebra class is studying positive and negative numbers. It's a bit confusing when you add in subtraction and subtract in addition. In tests this week the following had perfect scores: Jim McLaughlin, Ruth Pals, Irwin Rosheim, Arthur Stockseth, Donald Toft, Mary Jones, Joan Pals.

Advanced Algebra students are at present deeply involved in trying to solve fractional equations.

The Geometry class is now completing a unit dealing with triangles. At present the fourth period class is a little farther advanced than the other class, but the second period class made the best showing in the last test.

Seed Samples Should Be Sent Early for Testing

Seed samples to be tested for purity and germination by the State Seed Laboratory at Iowa State College, Ames, should be sent in as soon as possible this year, according to word received this week by County Extension Director, Aaron R. Bowman.

The laboratory will be able to furnish better service if seed owners send in at least part of their samples during October and November, rather than delaying until mid-winter, states R. H. Porter head of the laboratory.

Samples may be brought to the county extension office at Clarion for mailing to the seed testing laboratory at Ames. A small fee is charged to cover testing and mailing. Amounts of seed needed for a good test are: Clovers and timothy, 2 ounces; corn and small grains, 1 pound; sorghums, millet, or brome grass, 4 ounces. Each sample should be placed in a container that will not be broken open easily.

Bowman says testing for purity and germination leads to use of better seed. Such tests also may be the basis for adjusting seeding rates according to germination.

Porter says the laboratory can test samples now of clover, small grains and grasses.

SEED
SEED
G. Scanlan

Increased production of legume and grass seed is essential to continued maintenance of soil fertility and high food-production levels on American farms, says the War Food Administration. In addition to providing feed and forage, these crops protect the soil from erosion, preserve valuable moisture, and gather life-giving nitrogen from the air.

Unless a big crop of seed is harvested this year, the entire farm-production program will suffer, WFA reports. Farmers who grow seeds will be given assistance under the conservation program administered by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, and special information on saving these seeds is available from the county agent.

Special emphasis is being placed on the harvesting of alfalfa, red clover, and alsike clover, although many others are in dangerously short supply. Both acreage and yield should be increased, according to WFA, if home needs alone are to be met. In addition, hoped-for shipment of large supplies of alfalfa and clover seed to allied countries would make it possible for them to grow feed crops to produce their own livestock and livestock products, releasing valuable cargo space now required for lend-lease meat, eggs, and milk.

Among the legumes, the alfalfa crop that develops during the hottest and driest part of the summer may be expected to produce the most seed, experience has shown. This is usually the second crop, although south of Kansas it may be the third and in the extreme north it will be the first.

Wherever crimson clover grows well the seed can be saved by every farmer, says WFA. The second crop of Medium Red is the one usually harvested for seed throughout the Northern and Western States, and is recommended for large seed yields. White clover heads that develop during the latter part of June and early in July in the Central Eastern States, and farther north during July, have been found to produce the most seed. Ladino clover management is the same as for white clover.

Combining grass-seed production with the raising of grass for pasture, hay, or silage has been found practical, WFA reports. Procedures are determined by the characteristics of the grasses. Controlled grazing, with the removal of livestock in time to insure a seed crop is essential. Fencing off of the field to defer grazing until after the seed is harvested is recommended in early summer, when there is usually a surplus of pasture.

BRIDGE BOLTS

Grant township folks in Story county have reported lost a bridge that spanned a creek in that neighborhood. Though a recent flood dislodged the structure and sent it downstream, they figure it couldn't have been damaged much and they want it back. The mystery of it is how could a bridge disappear so completely and leave no trace. Grant township needs that bridge and will finder please return it to Story County Engineer Sam Steig-

THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Rowan Veteran Killed Defying Law Officer

Sheriff Wilson Shot In Self Defense While Performing Duty

A coroner's jury at Clarion late Monday found that Joseph Simco, 39, died earlier in the day at the Clarion General Hospital, of gunshot wounds inflicted by Sheriff Roy E. Wilson "in self defense in performance of his duty."

Wilson shot Simco Sunday night around 7:00 o'clock after being summoned by Rowan townspeople to come to the home of Mrs. Ed Riley in Rowan where trouble had started during the afternoon.

Simco, who claimed no living relatives, had lived in Rowan for several years at the home of Mrs. Riley and daughter, Dolly. There he had worked on an acreage and intermittently at odd jobs. He was drafted by Selective Service in February, 1943, honorably discharged from the General Hospital at Springfield, Mo. Sept. 30, 1944 after 20 months in the Army which included service in the Marshall Islands and Saipan, and returned to the Riley home in Rowan after his discharge.

When the telephone rang in the Riley home Sunday afternoon, Simco complained that the noise bothered him and tore the wires loose from the wall. From then on he acted more and more peculiar, asking Mrs. Riley and daughter for $1,000 and threatening them with an army knife. They got out of the house once, and he went after them. Mrs. Riley finally got away again on the pretext of finding someone to lend them the money he was demanding, and went for help. Simco yelled to the women, "I'm a soldier, and the Japs are after me."

When Sheriff Wilson arrived shortly after 6:00 o'clock, he found a group of Rowan men in the yard who had been chased out of the house by Simco. Wilson shot tear gas into the house, but Simco came out before the gas became effective, picked up a pick axe and chased them all to the road.

Sheriff Wilson stated that Mrs. Riley and daughter had reached his car parked near the road, and that he attempted to quiet Simco by talking to him, but the man continued lunging towards him, swinging the axe. Wilson fired one shot above Simco's head, another that hit the dust near his feet, and stopped him with the third shot, when Simco was only 6 feet from him. The shot hit Simco in the right side of the abdomen, coming out the left hip. He died at 3:00 a. m. Monday morning, never regaining consciousness.

In addition to the pick axe, it was discovered that Simco was also armed with an 18 inch crow bar which he had concealed inside his trousers.

All witnesses, who were present at the coroners inquest on Monday afternoon, testified that in their judgment the man was insane, and the jury's verdict reached at the inquest read as follows: "Gun shot wound inflicted by Sheriff Roy Wilson, in self defense and in performance of his duty. We find it a clear case, justifiable homicide and that no blame attaches to Sheriff Roy Wilson."

During the inquest Dolly Riley testified that Sunday afternoon Simco had taken out a bunch of Japanese relics he had brought home and was looking them over out on the porch. Suddenly he rushed into the house and shouted that she get him his knife. She got the knife, handed it to him, and then he immediately terrorized both herself and her mother.

Sheriff Wilson stated Tuesday, "In the 16 years I have been Sheriff of Wright County, I have had many occasions to take away from both criminals and insane persons various weapons from garden hoes to loaded guns, but this is the first time I have ever had to resort to the use of firearms."

Funeral services were held for Simco at the Catholic Church in Clarion Wednesday morning. Burial was at Rowan.

Letter Came From Robert Wallace Written "In Port"

Describes Ceremonies Of Crossing The Equator

A letter from Robert T. Wallace, E. M. 1|c, written "in Port" and received last week by the Independent read as follows:

"About two months ago I was on liberty and met Jim Waddington, Merle Bonte, A. Johnson... and then about three days later met Karl Smith...We surely had a good time talking over old times.

"Last night I crossed the Equator for about my 15th time. The morning we crossed, all the Shellbacks (the fellows who have been across before) had ham and eggs for breakfast. The Pollywogs (the ones who hadn't been across before) had coffee and soda crackers...When they got through eating, they had to serve us...At eight o'clock we started to initiate them. First thing that greeted them was a stream of salt water. From there they went in front of the judge to be tried. If they were found guilty they were to lay their hands on the "Royal Bible" (It was charged with electricity). After that they crawled through the tunnel of love (salt water hose turned on them while fellows beat on tunnel, which was made of canvass, with paddles.) When they got through, they went to see the Royal Doctor. He put them on the table and washed out their mouths with salt water, soap, pepper, vinegar and a few other things mixed together. While they were there the "Devil" (that was me) stood jabbing them with a fork charged with electricity. Finally they were given a hair cut and shave, and I mean a hair cut. It was cut any way the barber happened to feel. When they had gone that far, they were declared "Shellbacks."

"Sometime later I hope I can write about some of the places I have been and the things I have seen."

Truck Lot Delivery of Soybeans to General Mills Plant Began Friday

Coming From 30-mile Radius

Quality Is Justifying Maximum $2.10 Per Bushel

Walter Flumerfelt, manager of the General Mills Inc. Soybean Processing Plant, announced this week that the plant began taking truck lots of soybeans on Friday, October 20. Trucks have been coming from all directions within a radius of 30 miles of Belmond from early morning until late in the evening.

"The quality of the soybeans has been excellent, and all but a few truckloads have graded high enough to justify the maximum government support price of $2.10 a bushel to the farmers," Mr. Flumerfelt stated. Very little handling of the soybeans is necessary because the 40-ton truck scale platform can be raised so that the soybeans unload themselves from the trucks almost completely.

Shortage of box cars for shipment of the 1944 soybean crop to market from the country elevators has been very acute, with the result that many of the nearby elevators have been delivering soybeans by truck to relieve their own congestion.

Storage facilities for the [illegible] bushel capacity at the General Mills plant is gradually being prepared for receiving soybeans by both trucks and cars. Due to delays in receiving essential items of soybean handling equipment, the carlot unloading facilities will not be ready for a few days, but it is reported that excellent progress is being made in this respect.

Broncos Last Home Game Is Friday Night

Play Non-Conference Team, Renwick

Belmond football fans will have their last opportunity of the current season to see the fast-stepping Broncos in action on the home field tomorrow night, when the local high school gridders face Renwick High School.

Followers of the B. H. S. squad, who have seen their favorites improve steadily all season in all departments of the game, will see them in action tomorrow against a non-conference opponent. Renwick is reported to have a big, rugged team that has made a very creditable record this season having ing about an equal number of victories and losses.

Those who saw Belmond defeat Renwick there last year will remember that the opposition scored against the Broncos on a forward pass play. According to reports, several of their touchdowns this year have been scored through the air.

Coach Lansing will use the same line-up this week that performed so well against the strong Forest City team last Friday. With Dorr, Mickelson and Dempsey running well behind the savage blocking of Proeger, Meints, Hanson and Rich Stockseth, the locals outgained their rivals last week by a wide margin on the ground, and it was only through their excellent passing attack that the Indians were able to avert defeat.

Tideback, despite a leg injury early in the game, played his usual sensational defensive game at left end, and the other flank was ably handled by Pals and Waddington. Tudor and Art Stockseth and Classick at center together with the guards already mentioned completed the line that for the most part stopped the Forest City running attack cold.

This line-up will be intact for the Renwick game, which should be a tough contest. Belmond will close its season at Buffalo Center next Thursday night, Nov. 2 in a conference tilt.

Attention Football Fans

Your attention is called to the date of the last football game of the season with Buffalo Center. The football advertisement on page four of the second section of this issue gives the date as Friday, November 3. However, since school will be closed all day on November 3 for Teachers' Convention, the date has been changed to Thursday, October 2, the game to be played at Buffalo Center.

Memorial In Belmond For William C. Tyrrell

Community to Benefit by Wife's Gift

Announcement was made this week of a gift made by Mrs. Ella C. Tyrrell in memory of her husband, the late William C. Tyrrell, which is for the benefit of the people of Belmond and community.

Mrs. Tyrrell's gift has made possible the re-equipment of the operating room in the Belmond Hospital. New equipment consists of a modern operating table, lighting system, machine for giving gas anesthesia, and truck for carrying tanks of oxygen.

A plaque will be placed on the door of the operating room, to read as follows:

Surgical Equipment
Given to
The Belmond Hospital
February 29, 1944
In Memory of William C. Tyrrell
By His Devoted Wife
Ella C. Tyrrell

Dr. George H. Steele said this week, "The staff of the Belmond Hospital deeply appreciates the generosity of Mrs. Tyrrell in making completely modern the equipment of the operating room, which will increase so greatly the Belmond Hospital's service to the people of the community."

(Ed. note)—"It seems very fitting and suitable that this gift to aid in the care and health of our community be placed in the home town where Ella and Will, as they are familiarly called, were reared and spent the early part of their lives. It was here they were graduated from high school, married and reared their family, always interested in the activities and public welfare of this community—the church and school and many civic enterprises."

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Papousek returned Monday after spending a week with friends and relatives in Sioux City, Sioux Falls, S. Dak. and Bloomington, Neb.

THE MOST WE CAN HOPE FOR

It looks now that the most we can hope for in a "not too prolonged" war is that the advances of the American forces against Japan will be consistent and determined enough to make possible the cleaning up of the Japs soon after Germany has fallen.

Surely no one can be optimistic enough to believe that the Germans—now that they are fighting on their own homeland—will give up without a terrific struggle.

The experts have been emphasizing in the last week or two—and we don't think they are kidding—that the war in Europe can't be concluded in 1944.

—V—

WE APPROVE OF LIQUOR BAN

We heartily approve of the action of the State of Iowa in banning the sale of liquor for 72 hours after victory in Europe has been annotmced.

There will be cause for rejoicing, yes, but not for unrestrained celebration. Time enough for that when the whole bloody struggle is ended througout the world, for those who think that hilarious and roudy celebration is appropriate for the occasion.

PHEASANT SEASON OPENS OCTOBER 28

In connection with the opening of the 1944 Pheasant season on Saturday October 28 in 64 Iowa counties, the State Conservation Commission has made some important suggestions.

"Farmers, as a group, want to know beforehand who is going to hunt on their land. They want to know that whoever hunts on the farm will be careful about shooting near livestock, that gates will be closed, and that property will be protected against damage. They also want to know how much game is killed so that they will be able to curtail hunting while seedstock still remains for next year. They want to have the assurance that the hunter is sincere and honest and is concerned about perpetuation of game.

"Go now and talk to the farmer on whose land you would like to hunt. Make arrangements with him now. It is to your own advantage, for he is the custodian of all game on his farm. He helps protect and produce game so that you and I may have an open season. The least that any hunter can do is make arrangements in advance for the privilege to hunt. Let us make the '44 hunting season orderly and enjoyable for everyone."

WE SHOULD EDUCATE RETURNED SERVICE MEN

Thousands and thousands of young men who were ready to enter college, or who had just entered, are now in the armed forces doing their bit to preserve for humanity the rights of freedom and democracy on which this nation's government was founded.

The ones who are giving their lives will never return. But their spirits will continue to be with us in our determination to stamp out this awful monster known as war and to guarantee to posterity for years to come, a period of peace and safety for other generations.

Education is the best means of accomplishing this aim. If we can educate the nations of the world to the belief that the only way to settle differences is by way of arbitration, then we shall have accomplished something worthwhile and then perhaps, these dead shall not have died in vain.

These returning soldiers, sailors and marines must be educated at state or federal expense. We cannot expect them to pay for their own education. The state has taken them away from their books, placed them in military outfits and for a long period of time they have been soldiers, sailors or marines. When they get back to civilian life, they have a right to expect the state to help them continue their education which has been interrupted. It will be one way of relieving long bread lines and the dreaded unemployment which so many are anticipating.—Sac City Sun.

As a method of combating juvenile crime, an eastern educator recommends more spanking and other corporal punishment at home. The man may be entirely right but so extensively has public interference crept into private affairs that a parent adopting the suggestion may quickly find himself or herself in court defending a charge of inhumane conduct.—Northwood Anchor.

—V—

We were talking about war—and who doesn't? But the man said he believed the term "unconditional surrender" was told the enemies too soon. He believed that it would have been better to have waited until the allies reached the German borders before presenting terms, because he claimed that when an individual or a country has only one way out they will fight to the bitter end. May be he is right. But if the enemies knew in the beginning that "unconditional surrender" would release them early—what was there to fight for? May be both points are correct!—Thornton Enterprise.

THE MOVIE INDUSTRY PAYS HIGHEST SALARIES

Movie salaries are much higher than the salaries in industry. L. B. Mayer, movie magnate, is tops, according to a Washington A.-P. dispatch, being $1,138,992, including commissions. Second place went to Walter F. Wagner, who received $710,372 from Universal Pictures, while Nicholas M. Schenck received $512,291 from Loew's Incorporated.

Dozens of others in the film industry received from $100,000 to nearly $300,000. There are only a few industrial salaries given which were above $75,000. T. M. Girdler, Consolidated Vultee Aircraft, received $119,166; Donald W. Douglass, Douglass Aircraft, $120,500; E. R. Breech, Bendix Aviation, $137,999; Jack & Heintz paid three partners each $125,000. There were many others reported. It was stated that the lists do not include incomes from investments, such as bonds and stocks.

Of course all of these high incomes pay heavy taxes and when the tax collector gets through with them they do not have such munificent amounts left, but at that, they have plenty, and they can well afford to pay high taxes. If L. B. Mayer paid a tax of 95 per cent he would have $56,949 left, which is really more than he earned.—Webster City Freeman.

—V—

Exorbitant taxes in any community will prevent industry moving in—and if continued will force those concerns already established to move. One of the greatest factors in having a growing town is moderate taxes. The tax rate of a community should be of concern to every civic organization.—Albert Lea (Minn.) Tribune.

"For either political party to claim credit for winning the war is sheer affrontery. Our boys didn't join up as democrats or republicans. They joined as Americans, and have been fighting like Americans. There are no party lines in the casualty lists, and when anybody tries to draw such lines he is treading on sacred ground" says the Washington, Iowa, Evening Journal and all fairminded men and women will agree.—Webster City Freeman.

REMEMBER WHEN

—every political campaign called for torchlight parades? A sight, it was, to watch several hundred men marching along the street, each carrying a flaming torch. Then at the end of the march, in the Court House square or city park, the orator of the occasion blasted the opposition

Today I had the school watch from 0630 to 0700. In the lower passageway, fastened to the bulkhead are pictures of all the Quartermaster and Signalmen graduating classes. I looked for Section 108 and found Lee Lieuwen's face in that group.

This is liberty day as well as Field (cleaning) day at the school house. We have our usual 3 classes in the a. m. then clean our room for the last hour, then to chow. After chow we shower, shave and get ready to fall out for inspection at 1300, after which we can leave for Spokane.

P—P

Scuttlebut persists about Farragut being closed in the near future and those left in boot being sent to Camp Adair, Oregon. In the QM school there are only 460 and in the S.M. school there 717. That is quite different from the 1500-1600 who used to be here.

P—P

This week we have the International-Inland and Piloting Rules of the road to learn. They are the same in theory as traffic laws; but much more complicated. Every light on a ship means something as well as all the whistles and sirens used for signal work.

P—P

Dr. Irsh, formerly of Forest City, is working in the dispensary here at Camp Gilmore. He issued me some Multo-vitamin pills the other day.

P—P

We now have the following inventory of instruments, musical or otherwise, in our barracks: 2 guitars, 3 radios, 2 clarinets, a sax and a trumpet. When they are all going at once the noise is something to hear. I'm so used to it that I seldom hear it anymore. However, when you see me, you'll probobly find that I yell instead of talk normally.

P—P

This week we start to send and receive messages and calls on the Flag Bays, which are repositories for the 66 flags and pennants we have learned. This is supposed to resemble actual conditions on the signal bridge of a ship. Last week was our last week for plane recognition classes. In its place we will have another period of Semaphore.

P—P

I have a sugestion if anyone is wondering what to send a serviceman for a gift. One of the things we use most out here, and all the fellows want them, is shower slippers—also folding bedroom slippers.

P—P

Saturday is the day for Captain's inspection. This time we have to wear dress blues and those dippy flat hats. If we could wear them on the back of our heads, maybe we'd look "cuter" -- Oh, well.

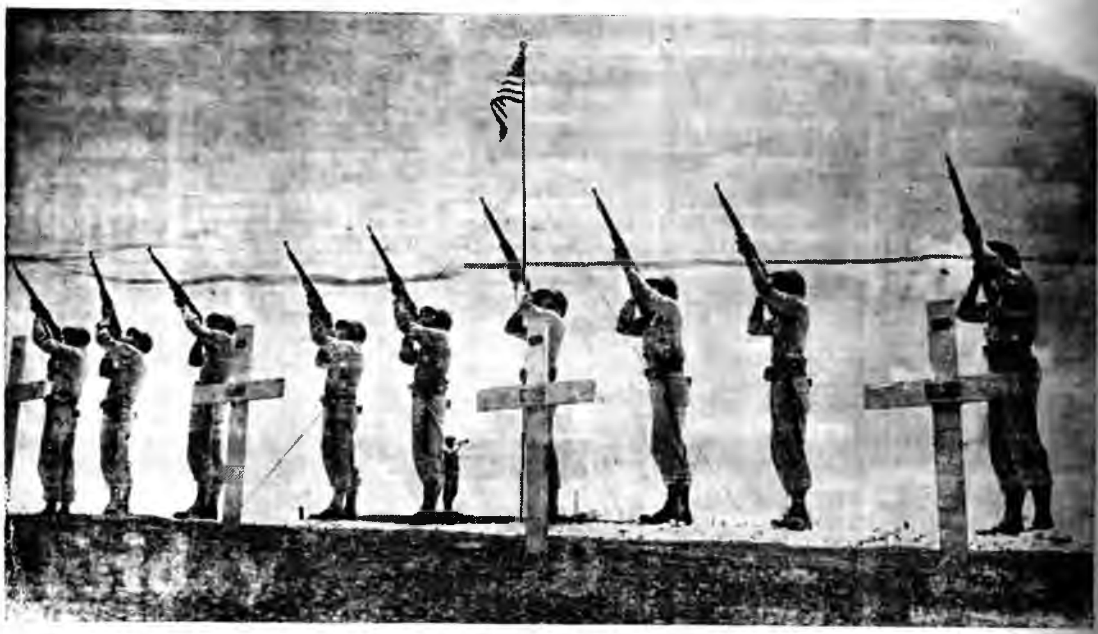
FIRST PRIZE!

This advertisement presents the prize winning editorial in a nationwide contest among high school and college publications, conducted by the Education Section of the War Finance Division in cooperation with the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, as part of the Treasury Department's Schools-at-War program. It was written by Barbara Brown, Olney High School, Philadelphia, for the OLNEY HIGHLIGHTS, and was selected from thousands of editorials which were submitted.



Memorial service for American Soldiers and Marines killed on Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Signal Corps Photo

Suppose there were no tomorrow—

Suppose there were no tomorrow? . . . Think about it for just a minute . . . No tomorrow for you, or your kid sister at home—or the brother who left for the Army yesterday. Did you ever think that we, who have had so few yesterdays, may have no tomorrows?

It has happened, you know. To Jack Feldman, and Bob Ernest—and fifteen others who sat in our classes just last term . . .

They will have no tomorrow. They died before they ever had a try at living . . . so that we might have our chance.

There are millions who were asked to give up more than a double feature at the Earle . . . or a spiffy, new pair of pumps for next week's formal. A soda is a pretty insignificant sacrifice, when you think of—

The kids in Russia, who live on a few ounces of cereal a day. They've never seen an ice cream soda.

The Polish boys and girls, who would be in school right now, just as we are . . . if there were any schools left.

The French youths who've never had a hamburger on a date—or any other time, for that matter. They are old, very old . . . older than you and I will ever be . . .

There are millions of them . . . in Norway . . . Holland . . . Denmark . . . Belgium . . . They would stare in amazement if they could be here to see—

A jalopy painted bright yellow. "The Tin You Love to Touch" printed in big, green letters on the back.

A high school senior, uncomfortable in his first tuxedo . . . calling for his date, looking nervous.

Millions of things that we take for granted . . .

"Hey, Maestro! Play 'Stardust'!"

. . . There is such a feeling of permanency in our tight little world. We'll go to school with the gang, today . . . and tomorrow . . .

But, WHAT IF THERE WERE NO TOMORROW? There's only one way to be sure, you know—

Buy War Bonds . . . That's a simple little phrase. It's the American way of saying what we mean in a few direct words. Buy War Bonds.

Yes—you and everybody must buy War Bonds. We've got to buy more and more, and more of 'em. Just get the idea into your head that your $18.75 might—just might end the war one-fifth of one second sooner. That maybe, in that one-fifth of a second, the boy next door could be on the receiving end of a bullet . . . Then you'll know it's worth it!

We've got to keep on plugging, saving, convincing. Giving our pin money . . .

Tell everybody—sell everybody! We can't take no for an answer . . . tomorrow—and tomorrow—and tomorrow.

Let's All KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK!

Don Herold says:

How can I build a better mousetrap to sell for 5 cents?

A Washington hot-shot defines a liberal as a person who is continuously asking, "What is best for all the people—not merely what is best for me personally?"

If that isn't a perfect definition of a good business man, I never heard one!

Every business man that I know lies awake nights trying to figure how he can lick his competitors by giving the world a better product for less money.

My own definition of a liberal is somebody who has nothing and wants to share it with everybody.

School days, yes, they are getting longer and longer. After school football practice, a jog down to our favorite hangout and then supper. After supper, studies (kidding of course). After supper there's nothing to do except drink cokes. Our freshman party was a success so why not have some more and break the monotony.

This is the first time that Belmond schools have been dismissed for this cause in several years.

To Present a Novel Mystery

"Something different, something new" is the cry of every group when seeking for a play, and the Junior Class believes they have found just that when they selected "Reserve Two For Murder" written by John Randall and published by Samuel French as their annual Junior class play.

This new play by John Randall is a novelty mystery—not only unique in setting but it is crammed with surprises throughout the course of its action. Upon its original presentation it was described as a "fantastic offering combining the features of 'Hellzapoppin' and 'Charlie Chan in Greenwich Village.'

The play, which is being directed by Miss DeVries, is now in rehearsal and will be presented at the auditorium of the Belmond Public School in the near future. We'll be seeing you then!

Classroom News From The Grades

KINDERGARTEN

"Lucky" is a tiny white bunny who spent several days in the kindergarten pet cage last week. Betty Eccles brought him to school. The day they had carrots for lunch, the children fed "Lucky" a small piece too, but "Lucky" was such a little rabbit that he did not know what carrots were for, and went right on nibbling a blade of grass.

Marion Martin brought a pumpkin to school, and the morning children made a jack-o-lantern out of it. The afternoon children did the same thing with a pumpkin brought by Carol Pals.

Recent visitors in the kindergarten have beene Mrs. Albert Martin, Mrs. Lloyd Bruner and Mrs. Galen H. Johnson.

FIRST GRADE

The first graders have finished their "Mac and Muff" books, which are for reading readiness. They will start the first pre-primer "Off We Go."

This week the children are making individual scrap books about rooms in the home. They are getting their pictures from magazines. When the books are finished, the children will design their own covers. (By the way, if anyone has any old magazines, the first grade would welcome a donation.)

SECOND GRADE

Second grade science class has had an interesting discussion on trees. They found pictures of things in the homes made from wood. They compared leaves of many different trees. To conclude their study Autumn leaves were dipped in paraffin for preservation.

The Bluebird reading class expects to finish their fourth reading book next week.

They are having a lot of fun adding and subtracting in number story classes. Sometimes the "sign" fools them.

They are finding that the spelling words are becoming more difficult. This week they have eight words to spell.

THIRD GRADE

Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Gowdy and Mrs. Jacobson visited the third grade classes.

The third graders are working very hard on their spelling. Everyone wants to get all his words right. Last time there were 14 who got both the new words and the review words right.

They made some Halloween decorations for their room.

FOURTH GRADE

In Social studies the fourth graders started a new unit "The Story of Fire'. This includes "he Discovery of Fire" in primitive times, inventions and progress up to the present time.

FIFTH GRADE

Fifth grade has a new student, Claude Larkin. Everyone is very glad to have him going to Belmond.

In Social studies the fifth graders are making plans for a city of the future.

School Policies On Punctuality And Absences

Punctuality:

Pupils who are punctual in attendance benefit materially and thus work is much better as a result. Employers frequently inspect school records of attendance as a check on character. Carelessnes in being tardy is detrimental to the school record, the attitude of other pupils and to the pupil himself. For types of tardiness the student is required to obtain an admission slip from the principal.

The rule on absences:

Pupils are expected to be regular in attendance and ordinarily satisfactory excuses will be granted only to those who are absent because of sickness or death in the family or becauc of avoidable emergencies. Students absent for any cause are required to present to the Principal a written excuse signed by one of the parents upon return to school. Any absence which is not accepted by the Principal will subject the student to a cut in the final quarterly grade of (⅓) letter. All students are required to make up his work on time.

Any student dismissed from his class will be treated the same as an unexcused absence, and will be required to make up double time during the ninth period.

Forest City Leads at Half 13-6

Friday night the spectators at the Belmond-Forest City game witnessed one of the best exhibitions of football that Belmond has had for a time. Each team took advantage of every break they got and the game ended with the score 13-13. The Forest City Conference leaders, though they possessed one of the best passers in high school football, was handicapped by the excellent defensive work of the Belmond eleven. The Belmond line was said by Coach Lansing to have been like a wall of granite. Hanson, Jansen and the two Stockseth brothers proved to be very valuable in the line. Les Classick as center played his part to its best advantage. Tideback and pals as ends received many magnificent passes which helped in Belmond's offense.

The back field did a grand job. Larry Dorr ran over both touchdowns with Mickelson tallying the only extra point in a spectacular fake punt play. Proeger did some excellent tackling and blocking while Mickelson and Meints made considerable yardage.

Repairs On School Building

Working representing the Western Water Proofing Company of Kansas City, Mo., are rapidly improving repairs being done on the south elevation of the school building. This work was made necessary because of the poor condition of the mortar between the bricks and several bulges in the brick wall.

The work, first of all consists of testing all joints and walls that are hollow and disintegrated. Then all joints both new and old are being treated with an expanding water proof mortar. This will prevent the seepage of water into the mortar and the disintegrated action of freezing and thawing.

In addition to the repairs and water proofing, all windows and door areas will have old caulking removed and new in its place. In places where a bulge shows, the brick was actually torn down and then relayed.

Three workmen were on the job last week and two or three additional workmen will be here this week to hasten completion of the job.

EDITORIAL

How many times a day do you see a door slammed in someone's face or somebody knocked down and never a word of pardon spoken? Never a day seems to pass but what you don't see this. An ignoramus believes that being polite proves to the public that you are a big sissy. The impolite person shows that he is ignorant and conceited because he never stops to think what a poor impression he had made on the people around him at the time he performs an act of impoliteness. A day will come, however, when these impolite people will realize how foolish they were when a job is refused them or they lose many friends. If everyone would treat other people in the manner in which they like to be treated they would never be impolite. Many people think it very funny to be impolite but just as soon as some impolite act is done by someone else involving them they think it a crime. To be polite does not mean to be polite just to your elders but to the people of your own age too. The way you act at all times reflects your character and if you are polite that advances you just one more step closer to having a good personality which is something to be proud of. Just remember other people will treat you just as you treat them.

Seen And Heard On And Off The Grid

This is "Welcome Home" week for two former stars and students of Belmond High School. Wm. Walrod and Dick "Hooks" Foss of U. S. N. and the army respectively. Bill is home after serving 26 months in the South Pacific and "Hooks" just got out of "Boots" at Camp Fannin, Texas.

You remember these boys from the past years of athletics. Bill played under Earl Spicer and was a star in football and basketball. Hooks did his "bit" under John Prasch, now a lieutenant in the navy and Coach J. J. Lansing, who is our present coach.

Bill was one of the bunch of fighting marines and Sea-Bees to land on Guadacanal and from there to all points in the South Pacific.

"Hooks" is one in a million or maybe one in a thousand shall we say. He really likes the infantry. But like all the rest of the G. I's he doesn't like Texas.

Dick had a chance to go to Officers Candidate School, but is not old enough.

Phil Lowenberg is coming home soon. He will be a guest star of Hoofbeats.

Jack McGuire.

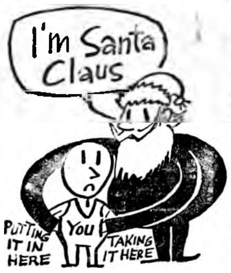
don herold says:



The air these days is full of postwar schemes whereby somebody else is going to take care of us forever, but in all these Santa Claus schemes, you are just as soaked as anybody.

In the first place, a big part of every dollar you spend for bread, shirts, automobiles and nearly everything else is for taxes.

Secondly, the company you work for is probably paying terrific taxes—and these taxes are, after all, partly out of your production. If taxes were less, your wages might be more.

YOU—working in conjunction with the stockholders and management of your company—are one of the producers of the money out of which corporation taxes are taken.

So don't believe in anybody posing as economic Santa Claus—he is just taking it out of one of your pockets and giving it back to you in another.

VOL. 26 NO. 1 — BELMOND, WRIGHT COUNTY, IOWA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1944. — THE FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Clean Storage Vital In Handling
High Moisture Content

Clean storage plus adequate ventilation can solve the wet corn problem for Wright County farmers this season, advises Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director.

He explains that, in the early stages of development, the kernels on an ear of corn contain as much as 85 per cent water. As they develop, they gradually become harder and drier. Under favorable conditions, at harvest time they may contain 20 per cent or less water.

Where corn does not reach maturity until in October--a situation common this year--drying goes on at a slower rate due to cooler weather, and there is not sufficient time for proper drying in the field.

Corn containing 20 to 25 per cent moisture in the kernels may be severly damaged if it is harvested and cribbed without special precautions. Harvesting of corn with more than 20 per cent moisture should be delayed as long as possible—until late October in central Iowa. Then the corn needs special handling at the bins, according to C. H. Van Vlack, extension agriculture engineer at Iowa State College.

Clean husking is important. Any material such as shelled corn, chaff or dirt that tends to fill the void space between ears in storage retards aeration. It should be removed before the corn is cribbed.

Portable elevators are now generally equipped with screens for taking out this material. If a shelled corn remover is not available, a simple home-made seperator can be made by building a section of the spouting with rod bottom. The ears pass over the rods but the shelled corn drops through. This material can be fed to livestock immediately or else spread out in layers thin enough to prevent heating. It usually is too damp to be stored in quantity. Green or soft ears should be sorted out as the corn goes into the bin.

Crib ventilators with spacing between ventilators or between ventilator and crib wall not more than half the width of the crib are another aid to drying. If these conditions are provided, with normal drying weather in the spring, the corn may dry out and store through the following summer without any severe damage. However, it should be watched closely for any signs of heat or mold damage in the spring. Plans for removable ventilators are available from the Extension Service, Iowa State College, Ames.

Crib width is another important factor in adequate drying. Tests show that the air movement per bushel of corn through a 10-foot crib is only about two thirds that through an 8-foot crib. Maximum crib width recommended for this area is: Select appropriate section (southwestern Iowa, 9 feet; the extreme tip of northeastern Iowa, 7 feet; and balance of the state, 8 feet.)

If corn of more than 30 per cent moisture must be kept in storage after cold weather ends, the possibility of artificial drying may be investigated. Forced ventilation is another possibility. Otherwise, a good deal of moving and spreading in thin layers may be necessary to save the corn from destruction by heating and growth of molds.

While it has been shown that one-half to one pound of salt per 100 pounds of corn is beneficial in reducing fermentation and mold growth, under severe conditions spoilage is not prevented by its use. Larger proportions of salt may cause difficulties in feeding the corn. Salting is not a substitute for other measures; it is still necessay to provide good aeration to dry the corn.

42-day Pheasant Season Opens Saturday, 28th

Wright County In Long Season Area

The longest pheasant hunting season in the history of Iowa was announced following a meeting of the State Conservation Commission early in October.

The pheasant season will be open in a total of 64 counties—37 from Oct. 28 to Dec. 8, inclusive, and in 27 counties from Oct. 28 to Nov. 6, inclusive. Wright county is in the long season area.

The long-term pheasant season is 42 days, five days longer than last year.

The quail season is open in 36 counties—34 from Nov. 1 to Dec. 15 and 2 from Nov. 1 to Nov. 30.

Pheasant shooting will be allowed each day of the open season from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The daily bag limit in the long season counties is six cock birds. Possession limit is 18 cock birds. after the second day.

Most important change made by the commission was the discontinuance of legal hen shooting, and this year no hens may be included in the bag limit. Conservation officers have been instructed to enforce this ruling strictly.

The pheasant census revealed a surprising number of birds (more than in 1943) and a shift of the center of abundance in northeast Iowa counties.

The 37 long-term counties are Pocahontas, Lyon, Osceola, Dickinson, Emmet, Kossuth, Winnebago, Winneshiek, Worth, Mitchell, Howard, Sioux, O'Brien, Clay, Palo Alto, Hancock, Cerro Gordo, Floyd, Chickasaw, Plymouth, Cherokee, Buena Vista, Humboldt, Franklin, Wright, Butler, Bremer, Fayette, Ida, Sac, Calhoun, Webster, Hamilton, Hardin, Grundy, Black Hawk and Buchanan.

The Hungarian partridge season in 1944 will be open in O'Brien, Sioux, Lyon, Osceola, Dickinson, Emmet, Kossuth, Winnebago, Palo Alto, Worth and Clay counties. Shooting is allowed from 12:00 to 5:00 p.m. November 12 to 14, inclusive. Bag and possession limit are two birds.

Court Notes

Petit jurors have been excused subject to call. They were to have reported on Monday, Oct. 23.

Monday, Oct. 16th was the first day of the fall term of district court with John M. Schaupp, the presiding judge.

Eugene Brown Williams of Clarion was fined $300.00 and costs. Upon payment of $150.00 and costs, the remaining $150.00 of the fine was suspended. Williams was charged with driving while intoxicated. He was arrested on October 6, when the car he was driving left highway 10 and wrecked a porch on the Chester Isenberger property, rented by the Charles Kellogg family.

In the case of Ada Fitts et al vs. Lloyd Newgard, et al, the court ordered that a sale of real estate in Belmond be approved, in the amount of $2,000.00. Referee's deed was also approved by the court.

Ernest Severtsgaard was fined $10.00 and costs in the court of Justice of the Peace Richards in Clarion on Friday, October 13. He was charged with driving without a license.

John K. Byers and Lura Klein, a petition in equity, to quiet title for the plaintiffs against adverse claims of any Unknown Claimants et al.

Alma I. Bowers asks that a citation issued from the court directing Lester H Bowers of Clarion to appear Oct. 23rd at 1:30 to show cause why he should not be dealt with as being in contempt of court. Bowers has wilfully neglected, failed and refused to pay maintenance and support which he was ordered by the court to pay on the 15th day of Sept. 1944 and has informed Alma Bowers that he does not intend to pay. The defendant is employed as a fireman on the CGW R. R. Co. and has been earning sufficient sums as a salary with which to pay the amount due and owing from him.

Amos Sann has purchased the Wigg acreage for $3125.00. The form of deed to the proposed purchased was submitted by the Referee and was approved by the court and the Referee was authorized to complete the sale and make conveyance of the property.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."

"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?

"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."

"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

Political Announcement

Today we have the privilege of studying the sample ballot of our election to be held November 7, on this page. Let us all study this sample ballot so that we shall know how to vote.

There are three ways of marking your ballot correctly. In either case you can vote for me by making a cross in the square in front of my name for Supervisor without spoiling your ballot. Do not let anyone confuse you or tell you any different. My name will be in the 6th column in the lower right hand corner of the ballot.

To the farmers of this District—I want to say that 75% of the farmers know there is a "the day" to kill Canadian Thistles. But no one seems to know when this day is. If I am elected supervisor, I will publish these dates in our local papers so that you can get results if you care to cooperate. I can produce affidavits from men who know I have "something there."

F. D. GEITZ

Candidate for Supervisor in First District on Independent Ticket.

Belmond Shoppers

It is an easy matter for you to carry a shopping bag or basket when you go to town to buy meat, groceries, milk, thread, bias tape, shoe polish, candy, ice cream, toothpaste—whatever it is you may need.

But it isn't an easy matter in these days, when there is an acute shortage of paper, for Belmond Merchants to wrap each and every little purchase of merchandise or put it in a paper sack.

On behalf of this one phase of the war effort—the conservation of paper—and to relieve the paper shortage problem for local merchants, the Belmond Chamber of Commerce urges Belmond shoppers to cooperate with their merchants in solving this problem by carrying shopping bags or baskets with them so that merchandise purchased may be taken home unwrapped, in so far as possible.

Do This Today, Tomorrow, Next Week, Next Month. Your Belmond Merchants Will Appreciate Your Cooperation.

On display at the Independent Office is a dwarf lemon tree which has been growing like a potted plant in the Arthur Ruka home near Goodell since the Ruka's daughter, Eleanor, brought it back from California about a year ago.

The small lemon tree is weighted down with one large lemon. Two other lemons developed from the blossoms on the tree but dropped off when about half grown. Mr. Ruka describes the blossoms as being white, quite large and very fragrant. The Rukas plan to experiment with the tree by setting it outdoors next spring and then covering it up for protection against cold weather the following winter.

910 Bags Milkweed Pods Collected In County

Enough for 570 Aviators' Suits

Incomplete returns from the collection of Milkweed Pods by the rural school children of Wright County show that 901 bags have been reported to state headquarters at Sioux City, according to a report this week by C. W. Sankey, County Superintendent of Schools. About 100 more will be reported making at least 1,000 bags collected.

Pleasant No. 9 school, with Marian Lee as teacher collected 74 bags; the Holmes school, Mildred Teadahl, teacher, gathered 25 sacks full; Theresa Deimerly Mraz and her pupils at Dayton No. 6 reported 45 bags and Odette Kastler of Woolstock No. 7 had 41. Goldfield, one of the few town schools to take part in the collecting through Frances Kabele gathered 42.

The collections were not uniform over the county. Belmond and Pleasant townships led in the amount gathered while some townships such as Troy did not seem to have the pods to gather.

The pods have been collected by county trucks and stored in an AAA grain bin near the Rock Island Depot at Clarion and will be shipped to the processing plant at Petoskey, Mich.

Already every school that has reported at least five bags of pods has been paid 20 cents per bag and others reporting less may secure the money at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools.

The floss from the seed pods will be used for life jackets and aviators suits and may well save the life of some relative or friend in the armed forces. Two sacks are expected to furnish one and three-fourths pounds of floss or enough for a life jacket. Thus the school children of Wright County have collected enough floss to make 570 aviators suits.

The enterprise has proven not only helpful and patriotic but the $180.20 already received is being used in many instances for the betterment of the schools.

He was foreman of an electrical test crew on oil and gas tankers which had been built by the "Cargill Company" for the Navy. Six Seniors Play Last Game at Buffalo Center

Six seniors will play their last football game for B. H. S. tonight as the Broncos travel to Buffalo Center for the closing game of the season.

Richard Mickelson, hard-running and hard-tackling right halfback; speedy Paul Dempsey, who developed from a green beginner into a dangerous breakaway runner in this one season; and Linden Proeger, probably the best blocking back the school has ever had, are the graduating backfield members.

One senior end will play his last game for the Purple and White—Roger Pals, who has developed into a strong defensive and offensive wingman in his first season out for football.

Playing his last game after four years of faithful service will be Art Stockseth, a Rock of Gibralter at left tackle. Although he rides a bicycle, during the football season, six miles to and from school, Art has rarely missed a practice in his four years on the squad.

Merle Janssen, a new boy on the team this year, will be in his last game at a guard position.

Results of tonight's game will determine Belmond's standing in the conference. To date the Broncos have lost two, won two and tied one for a percentage of .500. If they win tonight they will take undisputed possession of third place in the standing.

Buffalo Center is reported to have a young but speedy team featuring a tricky passing attack. A close game is in prospect.

Scrap Paper And Tin Collection Is Friday

Legion To Make Pick-up After 3:00 P. M. Friday

Eimbrink Post of the American Legion will conduct its third Scrap Drive in Belmond on Friday, November 3. The committee will start out with trucks for collections at 3:00 o'clock p. m. and will work through the remainder of the afternoon and evening.

This collection will include both scrap paper and tin. Homemakers in Belmond and business men are urged to cooperate in this drive by having the scrap prepared for easy collection, keeping in mind the following instruction:

Paper—All papers and magazines are to be tied up in bundles and waste basket paper packed securely in paste board or paper cartons.

Tin—Tin Cans, washed clean and flattened, and placed in containers for easy pick-up.

Both business houses and homes in the residence section of the city are asked to have their scrap paper or tin, or both, placed on the curb near the street before 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Systematic collections of scrap paper and tin are being made in the towns and cities of the county once each month, and rural schools are doing the collecting in the country. Letters from Wright County Superintendent of Schools C. W. Sankey have gone out to all the rural teachers asking their cooperation in the accumulation of paper and tin.

This drive for paper and tin is called for by the War Production Board which gives the following facts:

The Pulp and Paper Division of the War Production Board says that today we are facing a waste paper shortage which might result in an inadequate supply to make the necessary victory containers available to our Armed Services. According to figures of the Pulp and Paper division, during 1942 a total of approximately 5,700,000 tons of waste paper was returned to the mills. Because of the increasing demands from the Armed Forces for strong paper containers and because of the decreasing supply of virgin pulp an over-all increase in waste paper of 1,000,000 tons in 1943, as against 1942, was indicated by the Pulp and Paper Division.

The United States has virtually no native TIN ore. With the exception of a small quantity from Alaska, all of our tin ore must be imported. 90 per cent of our imports before Pearl Harbor came from tin mines in Malaya, Samatra and the Dutch East Indies. Today, every tin can is important, for there is no substitute for tin.

ARMISTICE DAY—

"Armistice Day" comes again, and it is a holiday to celebrate. It recalls that Americans fought in a big war; and helped win it. It brings assurance that our country will fight to victory again.

For every citizen now, Armistice Day should mean staying on the job actively on the home front and doing all we can in the way of civilian support of our armed forces to help shorten the war and bring closer another and bigger day of celebration.

Let the recollection of one war's end bring promise to us all that this war will end too, and when it does we should all be on the job to help those veterans returning home adjust themselves to happy, prosperous and contented lives in the country they loved well enough to sacrifice their most precious possession, their lives. They will have earned the right to our help and they must have it. Let us all remember this and pledge ourselves on Armistice Day never to forget what we owe them—the boys who are gone, and the boys who will be coming back.

GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE—

Next Tuesday, November 7, 1944, is an important day in this country, a day when every adult American citizen has the privilege of going to the polls and voting for the men of his choice for public office.

Some of these folks, with excitement and anticipation, are eagerly awaiting election day, which will climax several weeks of speech-making, argumentation, discussion — all the events that center around political campaigning.

There will also be many men and women who will go quietly and without hulla-ba-loo to the polls to cast their votes, conscious of the grave responsibility involved in choosing candidates who can best serve their country in positions of responsibility and trust.

Too many others—those people who are satsfied to live their own little lives and let the rest of the world go by—may not even remember the day, much less take the little time it takes to mark an election ballot.

Election day is important, no matter how you vote. SO GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE. A generous vote of the American people is assurance to the candidates or the parties elected that they have won fairly and in accordance with our American rights and tradition: Government of the people, by the people and for the people.

ADAMS PHARMACY

Prittle... Prattle....

We have certainly reviewed the last few days and it is surprising how much of the stuff I've forgotten. We are getting ready for the semi-final test. I never did care much about this last minute cramming, so I'll look the books over a bit tonight and then forget studying until after the test.

PP

It is now the next day and the famous tests are over. We had 96 questions in CI, 90 inFH and 50 in QM and it kept us plugging right along to finish all 3 tests in 3 hours and 25 minutes. The questions are so tricky that one can't hurry.

PP

The war news in the Pacific looks so good recently that it almost possible to wish that it might be over there before it is in Europe. Wouldn't that be something? However it looks from where I sit, that there is a long old gow to hoe in both theatres. Certainly only the most over-optimistic could expect Germany to fold up his year.

PP

I have been amused in my observation of 2 civilian employees who have been repairing a water fountain in the barracks the last 3 days. That is the length of time it took them at $1.50 per hour. The threads on the faucet were stripped, so they tore aut the entire fountain and put in another. That took a day and a half. The next day and a half was spent in adjusting the new fountain. First they had it turned on so full that the least turn of the wrist would send water shooting clear into the dormitory. Anyway, it finally is finished!

PP

The Lt. who inspected us yesterday ran his finger up the back of my head as an indication that I should get a hair-cut I went to the barber shop but there was a line about a mile long waiting, so I came back to the barracks and one of my buddies trimmed me up with an electric razor, so I can get by for now.

PP

Ah me! I wonder if I will ever get over this habit of working at five every morning and if I'll ever be able to sleep on anything but a straw mattress and unforgiving spring.

THE RECORD

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY came into power in the midst of the worst depression the nation had ever known. Countless millions were unemployed; farmers were bankrupt; banks were closing; small savings of a lifetime were wiped out in a moment. What followed the election of President Roosevelt in 1932 is a matter of public record. It is a record of brilliant achievement; of social gains the like of which the nation had never previously witnessed; of economic restoration which took people from the breadlines and placed them in respectable employent; of the intelligent approach to and solution of the agricultural problem. Today, that record includes successful prosecution of the war; it has placed the United States in world leadership; it has brought us now to the verge of an honorable and a lasting peace; it has made the world safe for the common man just as the nation itself, since 1933, has been made tenable for the common man within its confines.

TODAY, that record stands upon its own merits; demands no apologies. Briefly it has accomplished these things:

AGRICULTURE:

The Roosevelt administration saved the life of the nation's basic industry. Through corn loans, prices were lifted and mortgage foreclosures were stopped. Through A. A. A., managed by the farmers themselves, an intelligent program of soil conservation and soil building was inaugurated and has been perpetuated, which placed agriculture in a position to perform its tremendous task with surprising results.

Through Farm Security Administration and rehabilitation the impoverished tenant farmer was given new life. Through R. E. A. modern comforts and conveniences, long denied the farmer, were brought to his home, and today make life comfortable on thousands of Iowa farms.

A national farm income in 1933 of 2.9 billion dollars, rose to 16 billions of dollars in 1943, with an even greater figure in prospect for 1944. In Iowa alone the farm income of 494 millions in 1935 was increased to a billion and a quarter in 1942. For the average citizen the Roosevelt administration has brought security. Through a Democratic program of state administration it has given him homestead exemption and relief from taxes.

It has given him social security, unemployment insurance, old age benefits. It has given him bank stabilization and guaranteed bank deposits. It has made his life more comfortable.

LABOR:

In 1939, before the present conflict, total non-agricultural employment in the nation was 9,000,000 greater than it was in 1932; weekly factory payrolls were $113,000,000 greater than they had been in 1932; construction work of all kinds, which had a value in 1933 of four billion dollars, had increased to nine billion, nine hundred million dollars in 1939. Labor's constant friend has been the Democratic party; that friendship has come into full flower in the Roosevelt administration. The Roosevelt administration has given women full recognition under the franchise; has permitted them to assume their rightful place in administrative and government affairs; has made them a part of the economic and social life. President Roosevelt stands today unchallenged in world leaderhip and the United States tomorrow will help write the peace that will bring equality to all nations, large and small. Seasoned troops are winning the war on the battlefields; seasoned statemanhip will win the peace which must follow.

According to a statement by War Mobilizer, Jimmy Byrnes, government contracts will be maintained until Japan is completely whipped.

According to the War Department it will not be physically possible to release all men in the service in Europe immediately following the defeat of Germany. The reasons: there will not be sufficient transportation to bring them home; if the army discharges 1000 men in an hour it would take nearly 10 months to muster out from two to two and a half million soldiers; the army will be maintained at full strength until the defeat of Japan.

At the present time service men are being released by the army at the rate of 70,000 a month. More than 1,500,000 already are out of uniform. So far industry is absorbing men released from service at the rate of about 50,000 a month.

A national lottery as a means of paying the public debt will be presented to Congress again. Previous efforts to introduce the lottery as a money raising plan in this country in the past have met with Congressional disapproval.

Giving as its excuse a big corn crop the government will allow whiskey distillers permission to use corn for the purpose of making whiskey. The Holiday as it is called will be for a limited time and will be granted within a month or two.

● That last worming before sheep go into winter quarters is an important one. A remedy that is effective against only two or three worm species is not satisfactory.

Worm with PTZ, our phenothiazine worm remedy. PTZ is effective against six species, including stomach worms and the nodular worms that often do so much damage in winter.

Use either PTZ Pellets or PTZ Drench. Both forms assure an accurate, efficient dose—accuracy is highly important in worming sheep. Get PTZ now—use according to directions on the package. Come in and see us about it.

In The Bronco Corral

It may be new to Bob Rodemeyer but the other night I was sitting beside a stranger in Gov's when Fayetta walked in with one hand to his chin apparently thinking of a particularly amusing joke. The afore mentioned stranger turned to me and said "Is he nuts." You know sometimes we wonder. A certain down town business man is beginning to wonder what goes on between a small Freshman girl and a certain Athletic Sophomore while he is attending social functions—such as the Fireman's Ball— You have probably heard this but here goes—It seems a certain Moron decided to visit a seldom seen cousin on the east coast. He hired a taxi to the depot, hopped a freight to Chicago, took a plane from there to the east coast town in which his cousin lived. He there took a bus to the nearest stop to the cousin's suburban home and walked 14 blocks only to find his long lost relative gone for the month. He left the following note "Was just passing by so I thought I'd drop in and say hello"...

Arnold Jenison asked me to say something about his grand physique so you can consider it done now, Arnold.

I heard from a reliable source Muriel Soma has been writing letters...Does anyone know who Cuddly Wuddles is...Why didn't someone help Carl Val with his books...Maybe they should put a mattress in the south study hall door...

Duffy singing 'My Beloved is Rugged'? ? ? ?...Plenty of back talk in this school, better have a debate team.

Doughnuts and cheerioats would like to know who 'I'll Get By' is any how...I know a guy who goes around hating Roosevelt just to make people think he's rich...Well as Pat Patterson would say "and that's 30."

Extensive Physical Training Program

The schools are playing an active part in the improvement of the physical fitness of the high school boy and girl. I think everyone will agree that more time should be given to such an important subject and that this program should begin as far down as the fourth or fifth grades as well as just the high school.

Just playing games is not enough in this program but should include calisthenics and postural exercises. Games of course have a lot of value, they help build muscles along with building strong lungs and legs. There are nine activities that some schools have chosen as best meeting the requirements. These are: Chinning, push-ups, standing broad jump, high jump, 75 yard dash, running broad jump, 70 yard hurdles, shot put and baseball throw for distance. You can see that all these things can be of great help in the kind of warfare our boys are waging on the far off battle fields.

The Belmond High School physical training classes are now testing themselves in the following things: 50 yard dash, one-half mile run, pull ups, push ups, sit ups, shot put, football throw for distance, running broad jump, running high jump and squat jumps.

After the completion of the football season next week, the sqad will also be tested in these things.

The fifth and sixth grades and Junior high are competing in contests of running type relays, and games of low organization. Following are some of them: Frog jump race, rope skipping race, Dizzy Izzy race, lame dog race, seal race.

The Junior High have completed one months instruction in the fundamentals of football, to prepare them for entering the high school squad when they enter high school.

They have played two games under lights against the third squad high school team before the spectators of the Garner and Forest City games.

Achievement Tests Given

The intermediate grades and junior high pupils devoted Wednesday, Oct. 25, entirely to the annual testing program.

The test given was the Sanford Achievement Test. It tests the student in reading, language, arithmetic, literature, social studies, elementary science and spelling. This has been given to thousands of pupils all over the country and is standardized on that basis. The chief purpose of this test is to find the strength and weaknesses of individual pupil in comparison o other pupils.

From the information received through these tests the teachers are able to put into effect a program of instruction designed to fit the needs of their particular pupils.

A permanent record of each chld's performance is kept from year to year in a graphic form A graph showing the child's achievement in each test is recorded on the same chart each year and thus shows the child's progress in each field from one year to another as well as his general standing in comparison to othe pupils.

Parents are welcome to examine the charts of their children and to consult with teachers regarding the educational problems that concern them.

Heard and Seen on the Grid

All the football players are talking about the big feed coming up that is given to the team every year by the Gridiron Club. Don't forget the after effects, fellows, eating an extra big meal is alright, but....

Everyone is so stiff from pheasant hunting that football will be a welcomed activity to limber up stiff muscles.

On a certain play in a certain game a certain referee gave more interference to a certain player than a certain team managed to produce.

Roosevelt Wins In High School Election

President Roosevelt for a fourth term!! That seems to be the wishes of the majority of high school students. This was revealed after tabulating the votes cast in the "straw" election that was held last week.

Each person was given a list with the names of all the Republicans and Democrats that are running for the national and state offices. Everyone was allowed to vote for the candidate of his choice.

Despite the fact that President Roosevelt had an almost two to one lead over Gov. Dewey it seems that the Republicans have the majority for the state offices. Hickenlooper had 84 and Gillette had 64 for the place of Senator. For Governor, Blue had the large majority of 105 while Mitchell had only 43 votes. Evans had 73 and Johnson had 71 votes for the office of Lt. Governor.

Comparing the votes cast for each candidate the list was as follows:

President — Thomas Dewey 59, Franklin Roosevelt, 91.

U. S. Senator—Bourke Hickenlooper, 84; Guy M. Gillette, 64.

Governor— Robert Blue, 105; Richard Mitchell, 43.

Lt. Governor—K. A. Evans, 73; Oscar Johnson, 71.

Secretary of State — Wayne Ropes, 69; Genevieve Nichols, 74.

Auditor of State—Chet B. Akers, 66; Peter Kier, 70.

Secretary of Agriculture— Harry Finn, 84; Arch McGreevy, 62.

Attorney General—John Rankin, 72; Harry Garrett, 72.

Commerce Commissioner— Carl Reed, 72; James Bell, 69.

Treasurer of State—J. M. Grimes 67; James V. Curran, 74.

Judges of Supreme Court—William Bliss, 62; Oscar Hale, 63; Frederick Miller, 60; John A. Graham ,78; William Hart 69; Gebson Holliday 76.

EDITORIAL

A new drive is being held at the local school for new members for the band. Miss Hanson is sponsoring the campaign which is to include pupils from fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

Our band is one of the finest that can be found in a school this size. Due to war conditions all the bands have suffered. Marching and concert band contests have not been held because of the gasoline situtation. The last exhibition we put on was when we won first at State which was held a Eldora and first in National held at St. Paul.

We can still be proud of our band because many have broken up. The local band suffered greatly this year because of the many seniors who graduated last year.

So come on all you boys and girls, let's give the band a boost.

Studies Classification Of Plants and Animals

For the past week and a half, the biology classes have been studying the classification of plants and how living things are grouped and named. A chart was made by each pupil showing how living things are classified and, also, one concerning the characteristics of certain plants belonging to the four great plant phyla. The next topic to be taken up will be a study of the simpler animals.

The leaf notebooks were completed several weeks ago and there will be no further projects until spring.

Belmond's football fans witnessed the last home game of the season Friday night. A large crowd turned out to see the Belmond team grind up Renwick's squad in a rambling game in which the Broncos ran over 4 touchdowns to Renwick's none. After the kickoff at the beginning of the game, Renwick lost possession of the ball and Tideback in a sleeper play ran over for the first goal. After that it was a series of advances for Belmond and many excellent plays were executed. The Renwick team, though from a much smaller town, put up a good fight, but lacked the ability to score against Belmond.

Our thanks to a Country Editor

YOU get a pretty good view of the world from a small-town newspaper office. Sometimes you see things that other folks overlook. For instance, this frank statement by the editor of The Dierks (Arkansas) Banner:

The Banner is one of the last papers in the country to raise its subscription price, many over the U. S. having done so a year or more ago. The cost of practically everything that goes into the production of a newspaper has advanced, except the electricity used in running the machinery and lighting the plant. In normal times there was little if any profit in subscriptions at $1.00 a year. If the information contained in even a newspaper pub-

Broncos Closed 1944 Grid Season Last Week

Team Scored 71 Points During Season To Opponents 33

Belmond's hard driving Broncos closed their 1944 grid campaign last Thursday night with a 20 to 0 conference victory over Buffalo Center.

Held to a scoreless tie the first half, the Belmond gridders came back strong after the intermission to score three touchdowns and two extra points for the 20-point margin.

Larry Dorr caught the opening kick off of the second half and raced 80 yards before he was stopped within the opponents' 10-yard line. Two plays later he crossed the goal-line for the first touchdown of the game.

Belmond's second touchdown was scored by George Tideback, end, as a result of a pass from Dorr. The play netted 20 yards.

Linden Proeger, who is better known for his powerhouse blocking than his ball-carrying, plunged 10 yards through a fine hole for the third score.

Both conversions were made from a fake kick formation, Richard Mickelson plunging for one and Tideback receiving a pass from Lee Classick for the other.

Although fooled by the Buffalo Center spinner plays during the first half, the Belmond line held when the opposition threatened and came back strong in the second half to completely outplay their opponents.

Art Stockseth, tackle, Merle Janssen, guard, and Roger Pals, end, wound up their high school gridiron careers, all playing fine football.

Paul Dempsey and Mickelson, seniors, alternating at right half, both turned in sparkling runs on the beautiful Belmond reverse, a play that has become the talk of the Conference. Mickelson's tackling from his backer-up position was of the bone-crushing variety.

Proeger turned in his usual fine exhibition of blocking as he cleared the path for the other backfield members.

Stockseth and Mickelson were honored by their teammates at the close of the season by being elected co-captains.

By defeating the Bisons Belmond finished the season with a record of four wins, one tie, and three losses. Through perseverance, fight and team spirit, they pulled what might have been a disastrous season out of the fire and finished with a great showing of power and polish.

Losing to Clarion by a one-sided score in the opener, the Broncos faced a lighter, weaker Britt team in their second game but went down to their second defeat.

The turning point came against Northwood when they overcame their discouragement and rose to defeat the Vikings by a touchdown. Still improving they next defeated Garner by three touchdowns.

Their third loss was at the hands of Lake Mills 7 to 0 in one of the best played games of the season. Again the spirit of the Broncos surged back as they met and tied the favored Forest City Indians the following week, as the offensive play of the local boys reached new heights.

The Broncos finished with victories over Renwick, in a non-conference tilt, and Buffalo Center last week.

Coach John Lansing developed this season one of the best running attacks ever shown by a Belmond team and what was probably the best in the conference. His line also developed and improved as the season went by, holding four opponents scoreless.

In conference play the Belmond team scored 71 points to 33 scored by opponents.

Squad Was Honored By Gridiron Club At Chicken Dinner

Climax of the 1944 football season ended with a chicken dinner served at the Clarmond Country Club last Monday night, Nov. 6. The entire squad was guest of the Gridiron club for the third consecutive year.

Following the dinner, President C. C. Christie introduced Coach John Lansing who gave a short resume' of the past grid season. Co-Captains were then presented to the group. They were Richard Mickelson and Arthur Stockseth. Coach Lansing also introduced the six graduating seniors from this year's team: Richard Mickelson, Paul Dempsey, Roger Pale, Art Stockseth, Merle Janssen and Linden Proeger.

Coach Larsen of Clarion high school was introduced by the President and he gave a tribute to the Belmond team and coach for their fine spirit displayed during the season.

Newly elected president for the coming year, Clark McNeal, was asked to give a few words as well as Ted Johnson, superintendent of the local schools, who replaces Dr A. M. Larson as secretary-treasurer.

The entire membership congratulated Mr. Christie and Dr. Larson for the excellent job they had performed in their three years as leaders of the gridiron organization.

U. S. Wants 178 Million in 6th Loan Drive

Quota Decreased From Previous Campaign

Des Moines, Iowa.—Iowa's quota for the Sixth War Loan Campaign is 178 million dollars, V. L. Clark, executive manager of the Iowa War Finance committee, announced last week.

The important series E bond quota is 61 million dollars and sales to individuals, including the E bond quota, total 106 million dollars.

Making up the remainder of the quota is a corporation goal of 52 million and an insurance quota of 20 million, Clark said.

This is a decrease as compared with the quota of 202 million for the Fifth War Loan campaign, which was oversubscribed. The E bond goal is a decrease of 13 million dollars.

War Finance committee officials were not over-optimistic about reaching the goal in the Sixth War Loan Campaign, which runs from November 20th to December 16th, pointing out that this would probably be one of the most difficult campaigns of all, because people generally seemed to be somewhat apathetic and many feel that the war is almost over.

Clark, however, said that the most costly phase of the war was just ahead of us and pointed out that the war in the Pacific had now become a more costly war than the European war, in that superfortresses were being used, at $600,000 each and that transportation costs are more than 25 per cent greater than the European costs.

The theme of the campaign will center around the Japanese war. Through advertising, publicity, motion pictures, radio and other mediums, the need for the sale of 14 billion dollars in war bonds nationally will be presented. The national E bond goal is 2½ billion dollars of this amount.

"We still have 11 or 12 million

OPA Sets Up New Rules and Regulations

Affects Procedure of Renewing "B" and "C" Gas Books

The Local Board Operations Officer of this area spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week working with the personnel in the Belmond O. P. A. office, setting up some new rules and regulations.

One of the most important changes affecting the public will be the procedure for the renewal of "B" and "C" books.

The use of the old form of renewal, R-543, will be discontinued and the new form, R-535, will be used in its place.

Motorists will be required to present their "MILEAGE RATIONING RECORD", which they received with their new "A" books, with each application for special or supplemental gas rations.

The speedometer reading must be entered on each application, and in case the speedometer is broken the applicant must present a garageman's statement that it cannot be repaired.

Owing to the additional clerical work imposed upon the local office because of new O. P. A. regulations, the public is asked to cooperate by observing the following office hours:

Monday through Fridays—12:45 to 4:00 p m
Saturday—9:00 to 12:00 a. m.

Republicans Elected For State Offices

Smith Only Democrat To Win In County

With the presidential election past history for another four years, Wright County voters were 148 votes short of the number cast in the 1940 campaign. The unofficial count shows that 9152 ballots were cast last Tuesday compared to 9350 votes four years ago.

Wright county went democratic as far as the national ticket was concerned but favored the republican party in electing all candidates to state and county offices. The only exception was in the Belmond district, where A. W. Smith, democratic candidate for supervisor, won easily over his opponent. Fred Geitz.

President Roosevelt's 4th term victory looming larger by the hour, held the prospect of surpassing his 3rd term triumph. Late yesterday, the President's electoral count was 407 to 124 for the GOP nominee.

One of the widest victory margins for the Iowa Governorship, went to Wright county's Robert D. Blue, Eagle Grove, who defeated former State Supreme Court Justice Richard F. Mitchell of Fort Dodge.

Seven of the 8 victorious republican representatives to Congress were incumbents. The only newcomer to the delegation is James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, who defeated Charles Hanna of Jefferson. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Iowa Governor, took out Guy Gillette in the U. S. Senator race.

Report Made on Wright County War Chest

$14,748.34 Turned In To Date To Henry, County Treasurer

Contributions to the Wright County War Chest drive have amounted to $14,784.34, according to a compilation this week by F. Ross Henry, County War Chest Treasurer. Three towns, Belmond, Woolstock and Eagle Grove have not reported as yet. The quota for Wright County is $20,000.00, and when final returns are in, it is likely the County will go well over, Mr. Henry stated.

City of Belmond had reached a total of $2025.05 in contributions last week, according to a report to the Independent by Chairman R. W. Courson.

Elmer Bisbey, Wright County War Chest chairman reported very good cooperation received from the towns and townships during the recent drive for funds. Some of the towns and townships went further over the quota this year than last year. The need for these funds continues to be of the utmost importance.

Totals to date are as follows:

Belmond township	$729.50
Blaine township	642.40
Boone township	793.00
Dayton township	678.00

Fredric Bohning Interprets

German Prisoner Verifies Nazi Cruelties

"They Tell us Nothing But Lies"

Mr. and Mrs. George Bohning of Belmond received a letter recently from their son, Fredric, from overseas dated October 16, which tells about his recent hospitalization and gives information about the Nazis gained from his contacts with Germans taken prisoner by the Allies. His letter in part read as follows:

"Don't let the fact that I am hospitalized worry you any. They put one in for every little thing. I have been up and around for a week now and feeling as well as ever, but they still won't let me go. They took an x-ray this morning and said if everything was O. K. I could go back tomorrow.

"I've been brushing up a little on my German since I've been here. Quite a few Jerry casualties come through here and since the 'Artz' can't speak German, he always calls on me to serve as his interpreter. One German is quite bad and has been here quite a while. He is getting better now and I generally visit with him for a while each day. He has told me much about conditions in Germany. All the stories we have heard about Hitler and his gang are absolutely true. He says that he's a Nazi by compulion, not by choice and that most of the people hold the same view as he but if they say one word against the government they are shot.

"According to him one can't believe the horrible conditions existing in Germany today unless one has seen it. He wanted to know how much damage German bombers had done to New York City. They had been told that both New York and London had been practically wiped out. He was also told that the English and Americans shot their German prisoners, but he said about the first thing they did was give him a cigarette and something to eat, and now he's here in a hospital in a bed and next to an English soldier and getting exactly the same medical care that the Englishman is getting... "All lies," he said, 'they tell us nothing but lies in the German army.'

"The German prisoners we are now taking are in very bad shape. Their clothes are old, tattered, dirty, and they 'stink' to high heaven.

"In about six weeks I should be ready to board a ship for home. Hope we don't have to wait too long for a boat so that I'll be able to be home for Christmas. By that time things should be pretty well over, over here."

Broncos Closed 1944 Grid Season Last Week

Team Scored 71 Points During Season To Opponents 33

Belmond's hard driving Broncos closed their 1944 grid campaign last Thursday night with a 20 to 0 conference victory over Buffalo Center.

Held to a scoreless tie the first half, the Belmond gridders came back strong after the intermission to score three touchdowns and two extra points for the 20-point margin.

Larry Dorr caught the opening kick off of the second half and raced 80 yards before he was stopped within the opponents' 10-yard line. Two plays later he crossed the goal-line for the first touchdown of the game.

Belmond's second touchdown was scored by George Tideback, end, as a result of a pass from Dorr. The play netted 20 yards.

Linden Proeger, who is better known for his powerhouse blocking than his ball-carrying, plunged 10 yards through a fine hole for the third score.

Both conversions were made from a fake kick formation, Richard Mickelson plunging for one and Tideback receiving a pass from Les Classick for the other.

Although fooled by the Buffalo Center spinner plays during the first half, the Belmond line held when the opposition threatened and came back strong in the second half to completely outplay their opponents.

Art Stockseth, tackle, Merle Janssen, guard, and Roger Pals, end, wound up their high school gridiron careers, all playing fine football.

Paul Dempsey and Mickelson, seniors, alternating at right half, both turned in sparkling runs on the beautiful Belmond reverse, a play that has become the talk of the Conference. Mickelson's tackling from his backer-up position was of the bone-crushing variety.

Proeger turned in his usual fine exhibition of blocking as he cleared the path for the other backfield members.

Stockseth and Mickelson were honored by their teammates at the close of the season by being elected co-captains.

By defeating the Bisons Belmond finished the season with a record of four wins, one tie, and three losses. Through perseverance, fight and team spirit, they pulled what might have been a disastrous season out of the fire and finished with a great showing of power and polish.

Losing to Clarion by a one-sided score in the opener, the Broncos faced a lighter, weaker Britt team in their second game but went down to their second defeat.

The turning point came against Northwood when they overcame their discouragement and rose to defeat the Vikings by a touchdown. Still improving they next defeated Garner by three touchdowns.

Their third loss was at the hands of Lake Mills 7 to 0 in one of the best played games of the season. Again the spirit of the Broncos surged back as they met and tied the favored Forest City Indians the following week, as the offensive play of the local boys reached new heights.

The Broncos finished with victories over Renwick, in a non-conference tilt, and Buffalo Center last week.

Coach John Lansing developed this season one of the best running attacks ever shown by a Belmond team and what was probably the best in the conference. His line also developed and improved as the season went by, holding four opponents scoreless.

In conference play the Belmond team scored 71 points to 33 scored by opponents.

Squad Was Honored By Gridiron Club At Chicken Dinner

Climax of the 1944 football season ended with a chicken dinner served at the Clarmond Country Club last Monday night, Nov. 6. The entire squad was guest of the Gridiron club for the third consecutive year.

Following the dinner, President C. C. Christie introduced Coach John Lansing who gave a short resume' of the past grid season. Co-Captains were then presented to the group. They were Richard Mickelson and Arthur Stockseth. Coach Lansing also introduced the six graduating seniors from this year's team: Richard Mickelson, Paul Dempsey, Roger Pals, Art Stockseth, Merle Janssen and Linden Proeger.

Coach Larsen of Clarion high school was introduced by the President and he gave a tribute to the Belmond team and coach for their fine spirit displayed during the season.

Newly elected president for the coming year, Clark McNeal, was asked to give a few words as well as Ted Johnson, superintendent of the local schools, who replaces Dr. A. M. Larson as secretary-treasurer.

The entire membership congratulated Mr. Christie and Dr. Larson for the excellent job they had performed in their three years as leaders of the gridiron organization.

U. S. Wants 178 Million in 6th Loan Drive

Quota Decreased From Previous Campaign

Des Moines, Iowa.—Iowa's quota for the Sixth War Loan Campaign is 178 million dollars, V. L. Clark, executive manager of the Iowa War Finance committee, announced last week.

The important series E bond quota is 61 million dollars and sales to individuals, including the E bond quota, total 106 million dollars.

Making up the remainder of the quota is a corporation goal of 52 million and an insurance quota of 20 million, Clark said.

This is a decrease as compared with the quota of 202 million for the Fifth War Loan campaign, which was oversubscribed. The E bond goal is a decrease of 13 million dollars.

War Finance committee officials were not over-optimistic about reaching the goal in the Sixth War Loan Campaign, which runs from November 20th to December 16th, pointing out that this would probably be one of the most difficult campaigns of all, because people generally seemed to be somewhat apathetic and many feel that the war is almost over.

Clark, however, said that the most costly phase of the war was just ahead of us and pointed out that the war in the Pacific had now become a more costly war than the European war, in that superfortresses were being used, at $600,000 each and that transportation costs are more than 25 per cent greater than the European costs.

The theme of the campaign will center around the Japanese war. Through advertising, publicity, motion pictures, radio and other mediums, the need for the sale of 14 billion dollars in war bonds nationally will be presented. The national E bond goal is 2½ billion dollars of this amount.

"We still have 11 or 12 million

Affects Procedure of Renewing "B" and "C" Gas Books

The Local Board Operations Officer of this area spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week working with the personnel in the Belmond O. P. A. office, setting up some new rules and regulations.

One of the most important changes affecting the public will be the procedure for the renewal of "B" and "C" books.

The use of the old form of renewal, R-543, will be discontinued and the new form, R-535, will be used in its place.

Motorists will be required to present their "MILEAGE RATIONING RECORD", which they received with their new "A" books, with each application for special or supplemental gas rations.

The speedometer reading must be entered on each application, and in case the speedometer is broken the applicant must present a garageman's statement that it cannot be repaired.

Owing to the additional clerical work imposed upon the local office because of new O. P. A. regulations, the public is asked to cooperate by observing the following office hours:

Monday through Fridays—12:45 to 4:00 p. m.
Saturday—9:00 to 12:00 a. m.

Republicans Elected For State Offices

Smith Only Democrat To Win In County

With the presidential election past history for another four years, Wright County voters were 148 votes short of the number cast in the 1940 campaign. The unofficial count shows that 9152 ballots were cast last Tuesday compared to 9350 votes four years ago.

Wright county went democratic as far as the national ticket was concerned but favored the republican party in electing all candidates to state and county offices. The only exception was in the Belmond district, where A. W. Smith, democratic candidate for supervisor, won easily over his opponent. Fred Geitz.

President Roosevelt's 4th term victory looming larger by the hour, held the prospect of surpassing his 3rd term triumph. Late yesterday, the President's electoral count was 407 to 124 for the GOP nominee.

One of the widest victory margins for the Iowa Governorship, went to Wright county's Robert D. Blue, Eagle Grove, who defeated former State Supreme Court Justice Richard F. Mitchell of Fort Dodge.

Seven of the 8 victorious republican representatives to Congress were incumbents. The only newcomer to the delegation is James I. Dolliver of Fort Dodge, who defeated Charles Hanna of Jefferson. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Iowa Governor, took out Guy Gillette in the U. S. Senator race.

Report Made on Wright County War Chest

$14,748.34 Turned In To Date To Henry, County Treasurer

Contributions to the Wright County War Chest drive have amounted to $14,784.34, according to a compilation this week by F. Ross Henry, County War Chest Treasurer. Three towns, Belmond, Woolstock and Eagle Grove have not reported as yet. The quota for Wright County is $20,000.00, and when final returns are in, it is likely the County will go well over, Mr. Henry stated.

City of Belmond had reached a total of $2025.05 in contributions last week, according to a report to the Independent by Chairman R. W. Courson.

Elmer Bisbey, Wright County War Chest chairman reported very good cooperation received from the towns and townships during the recent drive for funds. Some of the towns and townships went further over the quota this year than last year. The need for these funds continues to be of the utmost importance.

Totals to date are as follows:

Belmond township	$729.50
Blaine township	642.40
Boone township	793.00
Dayton township	678.00

Fredric Bohning Interprets

German Prisoner Verifies Nazi Cruelties

"They Tell us Nothing But Lies"

Mr. and Mrs. George Bohning of Belmond received a letter recently from their son, Fredric, from overseas dated October 16, which tells about his recent hospitalization and gives information about the Nazis gained from his contacts with Germans taken prisoner by the Allies. His letter in part read as follows:

"Don't let the fact that I am hospitalized worry you any. They put one in for every little thing... I have been up and around for a week now and feeling as well as ever, but they still won't let me go. They took an x-ray this morning and said if everything was O. K. I could go back tomorrow.

"I've been brushing up a little on my German since I've been here. Quite a few Jerry casualties come through here and since the 'Artz' can't speak German, he always calls on me to serve as his interpreter. One German is quite bad and has been here quite a while. He is getting better now and I generally visit with him for a while each day. He has told me much about conditions in Germany. All the stories we have heard about Hitler and his gang are absolutely true. He says that he's a Nazi by compulion, not by choice and that most of the people hold the same view as he but if they say one word against the government they are shot.

"According to him one can't believe the horrible conditions existing in Germany today unless one has seen it. He wanted to know how much damage German bombers had done to New York City. They had been told that both New York and London had been practically wiped out. He was also told that the English and Americans shot their German prisoners, but he said about the first thing they did was give him a cigarette and something to eat, and now he's here in a hospital in a bed and next to an English soldier and getting exactly the same medical care that the Englishman is getting... "All lies,' he said, 'they tell us nothing but lies in the German army.'

"The German prisoners we are now taking are in very bad shape. Their clothes are old, tattered, dirty, and they 'stink' to high heaven.

"In about six weeks I should be ready to board a ship for home. Hope we don't have to wait too long for a boat so that I'll be able to be home for Christmas. By that time things should be pretty well over, over here."

IT IS IN YOUR DEFENSE

Last week the Eagle Grove Eagle put into words in its editorial column, some opinions we had formed but didn't know just how to express in connection with an unfortunate incident that involved the law enforcement agencies of the county. The Eagle's editorial read as follows:

It Is In Your Defense

"When a law officer has the courage to shoot when the occasion in his judgment requires it, it is in YOUR defense. You may not happen to be the one whose life is in danger, but in reality, that officer is always protecting you. His own safety is a secondary consideration. Sheriff Wilson shot the crazed Mexican at Rowan Monday night, not because his own life was threatened, but for the protection of others who were under the domination of this unfortunate man whose mental illness made him a menace to the lives of several people. Wright County citizens have reason to feel an added sense of security because of this unhappy incident. They know they have a sheriff who has the nerve to do just what is necessary in the line of duty In fact, Sheriff Wilson too often in the past has exposed himself to serious injury to avoid hurting men he has arrested. Too often he uses his fists instead of the black jack or billy club. Too aften has he taken off his star when challenged to do so and subdued unruly prisoners in rough and tumble, man to man encounters. The law does not ask this of him, nor do the thinking people he serves so efficiently desire him to take these chances. But he has in the past and probably will in the future. We just wish for his own safety as well as our own, he would use the stern measures first and his bare fists last. But we do have this satisfaction; we know that "Lefty" will bring 'em in when he goes after them. And that, people of Wright county, is in YOUR protection."—Eagle Grove Eagle.

NEW WAR PROBLEMS EVERY DAY—

No doubt there are new problems arising each day to change the well laid plans of our military leaders in the conduct of the war on the various war fronts Right now, probably the most vexing of these is the Chinese situation which is apparently so complicated that not even war correspondents who have been living and working amid the Chinese armies and peoples can give us here at home a clear picture of what it is all about.

What's corn got to do with your hunting trip? Think once and you'll say the corn stubble from which you may flush a covey of quail. Think twice and you'll say the corn syrup for the flapjacks.

Not one hunter in ten knows that such varied and important equipment as his shells , cruiser boots, canvas coat and trousers, his pipe tobacco and cigarettes, all contain corn starch in one or more of its many modifications, or used it in their manufacture.

That's only a partial list, a glimpse into the vast field of little known uses of the familiar American grain.—Hampton Chronicle.

While passing through Clear Lake the other day, I saw a new kind of invention. A man was clearing the leaves from his lawn at the time. He was pushing a small hand cultivator on the front of which was attached a four foot rake which slid under the leaves. He even had side racks on it so he could scoop up a big load—and you know leaves are not heavy. Raking leaves is just one of those fall jobs which is difficult to start. And yet experts say it is good to leave the leaves on the ground all winter. Others say they should be scooped up because of fire danger and other things. Thornton Enterprise.

Isn't it too bad that the Russians, Great Britain and the United States are violating the "holy, sacred soil" of Germany. Hitler had no compulsions about invading the sacred soil of other countries, but now when he is getting some of his own medicine it makes him sick at the stomach, and that goes for all people of Germany who endorse the course of nazism.—Webster City Freeman.

WHAT NEXT?

Mechanized manure removal is the latest wrinkle now being developed for dairy farmers. Agricultural engineers are experimenting with a slow moving, endless belt conveyor placed in the droppings trough. It is designed to deliver its load direct to the manure spreader outside the barn This is not all that has come to light of late in the line of farm invention. A farmer, tired of pitching in hay by hand, cut off the blower end of his threshing machine, put the discharge shoot in the loft, and did as much work with two men as five would normally do

People wonder how the American farmer has managed to get along during the war, in the face of labor shortage. He has done it through determination and ingenuity. If it had not been for these assets plus the effective help of his marketing organizations, the farmer would have been out of business long ago.—Sheffield Press.

The indispensable man is the chap we know as "John Q. Citizen," who does his work and cares for his family and takes his part in local affairs, rears and educates his children and is one of the citizens who make this great land what it is. He holds no office, receives no emoluments, and usually dies unheard and unsung. He is the only indispensable man.—Wright County Monitor.

Highly encouraging for residents of the middle west is that recent report of the Farm Credit Administration regarding farm indebtedness. According to the figures farmers of Iowa have reduced their debts twenty-five per cent since a year ago If farm land speculation can be held down to a reasonable figure the future of agriculture has promise of brightness.—Northwood Anchor.

A series of eight bulkhead murals have become the feature attraction at the Camp Gilmore game room topside the Recreation building. The murols, depicting training in the Navy, and geographical scenes, were originated, designed and executed by the Service Schools Training Aids division.

P-P

Lt. Willard M. Sanzenbacher, USNR, Training Aids officer, Service School Command, conceived the ideas for the murals and planned them. Frederick Seyfarth, Sp(X)3c, made the original drawings and then completed the murals.

P-P

Four of the murals are on the forward bulkhead of the game room and the other four are on the aft bulkhead. Four scenes depict Recruit Training, Service School Training, Forces Afloat Training, and Battle Action. The forward bulkhead contains geographical scenes—Camp Gilmore, Farragut Naval Training Center, Inland Empire, and the United States.

P-P

Men using the facilities of the game room show considerable interest in the murals, not only because of their attractiveness, but because of the interesting subject material portrayed.

P-P

The Camp Gilmore game room is proving one of the most popular spots in the Recreation building. It is here thhe Service School men find relaxation and enjoyment aftr a strenuous duty-occupied day.

P-P

Attractive monks cloth drapes at the windows, comfortable upholstered chairs and davenports, and green potted plants all add to the appeal and charm of the room.

P-P

Facilities for recreation include a combination radio and record player, piano, cabinet projector on which short general interest 16mm motion pictures are shown, automatic rater or push button grading machine, ping pong tables and recognition table with projector, slides and reference magazines. Other materials available to the men include such popular games as checkers, dominoes, monopoly, playing cards, jig saw puzzles, chinese checkers and chess

P-P

Casual reading material such as newspapers and popular magazines are available for the men to read.

P-P

Various elementary training devices are provided for the men for spare-time use. These devices includ light trainers, semaphore trainers, compass rose trainers, radio buzzers, telegraph and blinker signalers.

P-P

In conjunction with the program and activities of the game room, a one-hour program of evening motion pictures is operated in a small adjacent theatre for those men who prefer to attend. The theater seats 300 men. The films shown on this program are of general interest, war-information and indoctrination nature. As there is no place for films of this type in the regular training program, the men appreciate this opportunity to see some of these worthwhile films.

ILLEGAL PARKER

Marengo officers are endeavoring to put a stop to motorists parking too close to fire hydrants. One night recently officers ordered a garage owner to pull three cars in-- it cost the drivers $2.50 to regain possession of their own machines. Another help to proper parking in the business section is the repainted yellow lines showing where to and where not to park.

One of the many plans that have been completed and which will be put into immediate operation as soon as the defeat of Germany takes place is the matter of freight transportation in this country. When official word of the surrender of Germany comes freight trains hauling munitions of war to the east coast will be stopped wherever they are and ordered to head for the nearest yards, reclassify, and then turn about and head for the west coast with material for the Pacific war.

The Farmer Buys War Bonds

by O. B. Jesness

Chief, Division of Agricultural Economics

University of Minnesota

FARMER Brown does not have to ask himself whether he ought to buy War Bonds. He knows that every citizen with an income should lend part of it to the government to help win this war. The real question which Mr. Brown and all his fellow farmers must decide is how large his investment should be. The simplest and best answer to this is "buy all you can."

But what are some of the points which a farmer needs to weigh in deciding what that amount is in his particular case? Farm income certainly is one. Most farmers are receiving considerably larger cash incomes because of the war. Some of the increase may be needed to pay pressing debt. Higher taxes will take some. But most of it ought to be salted away in War Bonds for future use.

Part of the current cash income represents wear and tear on machinery and equipment. War shortages prevent farmers from buying machinery or building freely. Less money can be spent for these purposes now, but more cash will be needed later on because of this. Each farmer ought to figure the amount which this involves. The best storage place for the money which prudent farmers will set aside for this use is War Bonds.

Farm homes will need new equipment as well. Electricity has recently been installed in many farm homes and more will get this service as soon as possible. Funds saved up now can be used later to buy things to add to the comforts of the home and to ease the drudgery of farm work.

War prices will not last forever. The future will bring years of low prices or bad crops as well as good years. Some of the present income will come in mighty handy in times of low return. Farmers also are saving for educating their children, for old age and for the proverbial rainy day. Each family should think about all of these needs and set aside money to meet them. There is no safer place for such savings than War Bonds.

Should debts be paid before Bonds are bought? Each farmer must answer for himself. Due and pressing debt should be paid. If necessary, long-term debt should be reduced to a point where it can be carried. After that, available income better go into Bonds. Your own conscience will tell you when you are using debt merely as an excuse for neglecting to do your share in buying Bonds.

What about buying land? Can you handle more land profitably? Is it worth the price asked? Can you pay for it out of earnings when prices drop? A speculative boom in land may get out of hand. Better buy Bonds than speculate in land.

What about the farmer who says "I prefer to keep my funds in cash?" Stop to think, brother, how smart is that? Do you believe it good business to have idle dollars lying around? If they are hid away somewheres, they may get lost, stolen or destroyed. Put them to work and make them produce a return for you. War Bonds are the safest investment available. They are backed by the same government as the dollar. One is as safe as the other. While farmers buy Bonds intending to hold them, the E, F and G bonds ordinarily bought by individual investors can be redeemed for cash if need arises. Unlike the liberty bonds of the last war, these cannot be sold on the open market and, hence, will never sell for fewer dollars than they cost.

Farmers have done a good job in buying War Bonds. They can make an even better showing if each one will buy all he can. Remember, you help yourself as well as your country.

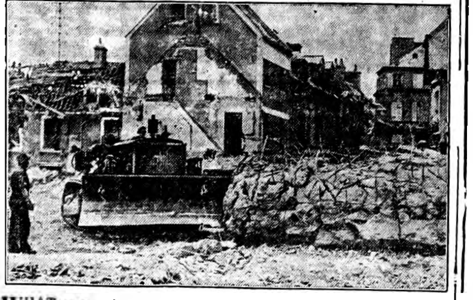
WE'RE BULLDOZING HITLER!



WHAT may well be called one of America's unexpected weapons is the bulldozer, developed for the American contractor by equipment manufacturers. The bulldozer has made a great name for itself in the war. Aside from its scheduled duties of making roads, clearing jungles and sundry other jobs, the bulldozer played a vital part in the D-Day landing on the Normandy coast, clearing huge masses of cement and barbed wire which comprised the much vaunted Nazi Atlantic Wall, pictured above. In the Pacific war it is used as a combat vehicle, burying Jap pill boxes and in general riding rough-shod over the napping Nips. The bulldozer is one of the many contributions of the American construction industry to the war effort.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

How can Germany and Japan be kept from embarking on future wars of conquest? The Brookings Institution has just issued a research study on this subject called "The Control of Germany and Japan," prepared by Dr. Harold G. Moulton, President of the Institution, and Dr. Louis Marlio, French economist and industrialist. The five judges of the Book-of-the-Month Club thought so highly of this work that they have arranged to send copies to the Club's entire membership.

H. G. MOULTON

Writes Harry Scherman, President of the Book-of-the-Month Club: "Our Editorial Committee regards the Brookings study as the most enlightening document on the peace, from the point of view of practicality, that has yet been published. The study reveals that there are a certain few economic controls which, if supported by available military force, can be fully effectual in all the foreseeable circumstances. These conclusions are so well buttressed with fact and sensible reasoning, and they are so likely to appeal to sober opinion over the world, that they can hardly be ignored by the peacemakers."

In "Tall Talk from Texas" by Boyce House, we found this one about Jake Lyerla, who was a candidate for county office out in Central West Texas a good many years ago. One day Lyerla was making a speech, when somebody interrupted: "Are you for or against organized labor?" Lyerla promptly replied: "I'm opposed to labor, organized or unorganized; that's why I'm a-runnin' for public office."

Commander Kenneth D. McCracken, in "Baby Flat-Top," tells of paying a call to the navigator of another ship for some local data. The man, with whom he had previously been on good terms, scowled when he came in, paced back and forth, and spoke in angry monosyllables. McCracken was about to give up and leave, when a sailor rushed in. "Air mail letter for you, sir," he said. The navigator grabbed it, studied the handwriting a moment, then his face relaxed. Suddenly he became gracious, charming and talkative. "Sit down while I read this letter from my wife," he said. "When I don't get letters from her, I'm irritable. However," he added earnestly, "I never show my feelings."

It's a curious commentary on the world we live in that the word "politics" has become connected in our minds with trickery of some sort. Miscellaneous items of interest: Thomas Jefferson was known to have run for his first campaign on a personal outlay of $50. . . . In 1940 the total national outlay for the presidential campaign was $50,000,000. . . . In New York the election of 1856 was the most disorderly in history; the list of casualties after it read like a military announcement."

Graft in the Federal service has been notorious in times past. Lincoln, inspecting the equipment of his soldiers, discovered the gunpowder wet, guns defective, uniforms which shrank and disintegrated in the rain, shoddy blankets, sick and unfit horses, and unseaworthy ships. During the Spanish-American War, the packers furnished the soldiers with "embalmed beef" so bad that those who were not killed by bullets risked death in the mess hall.

Voting rights were granted by Queen Elizabeth to the husbands of freemen's daughters as a special dowry. Out of this law grew a curious abuse. The women would marry several men on election day in order to get them to vote for their fathers' causes. After a marriage, and after the new husband had voted, the couple would shake hands over a grave, saying "now death do us part." This was regarded as a divorce, and the lady was free to marry another "voter."

Ludwig Bemelmans, who has been in Hollywood writing movie scripts, went through several weeks receiving no assignment. Finding time heavy on his hands, he occupied himself with painting murals on his studio walls, including such fantasies as a sketch of a kangaroo in whose pouch four offspring were engaged in a hand of bridge. His Hollywood bosses, when they discovered this, were first indignant and ordered that the walls be cleaned. Then someone pointed out that Bemelmans was a famous artist as well as a writer. Now his office become a showplace to which favorite guests are admitted. "Now I Me Down to Sleep," Mr. Bemelmans' recent novel, is to be dramatized over CBS next month, on a program called "This Is My Best."

Farmers: Help Prevent Inflation

by Asher Hobson

Chairman, Dept. of Agricultural Economics

University of Wisconsin

FARMERS remember the "Silk Shirt" era of the last war. That era was marked by 75 cent butterfat, 20 dollar hogs, and 100, 200 and in some states 300 dollars an acre for farm land. Farmers also remember the "no shirt" era of the Thirties — 25 cent butterfat, 5 dollar hogs, and land so low the mortgage took it. One way of keeping one's shirt after this war is not to buy too many silk shirts now, so to speak.

There is an old saying to the effect that he who sleeps on the floor never falls out of bed. None of us want to sleep on the floor, but we should see to it that our beds are not so high as to cause serious injury in case of a fall. Unduly high prices are likely to be followed by unduly low prices. That is one reason why most people in responsible walks of life appreciate the necessity of acting now to prevent inflation. Farmers are equally concerned.

Inflation is another term for unhealthy high prices. Inflation has a younger brother. He is a bad actor His name is deflation. He has a habit of following his brother inflation. Deflation often means serious unemployment, lower property values, more tax delinquency, and mounting foreclosures. Add these together and the sum is farm relief. That is not the answer farmers want.

Farmers can well afford to take steps now in an attempt to avoid that sort of a situation. But inflation is not easily handled after it arrives. One cannot build a cyclone cellar after the old clouds begin to roll. Then one has time only to grab the baby and run—with no place to go. Something like that is apt to happen when inflation strikes. The best way to handle inflation is to prevent its striking.

What can farmers do? They can help keep prices from getting out of hand by helping to hold prices down now. If prices are to be held in line, the pressure under prices must be removed. The Government cannot do this job alone. There are no anti-inflation white rabbits in the magician's hat. Only the concerted efforts of you and me can turn the trick.

The forces causing prices to go up may be summarized in the statement that there is more money available for spending than there are goods and services to be bought. This is another way of saying that the demand for goods and services exceeds the available supply. Let us be specific. At the end of 1943 it was estimated that there were 42 billion dollars of spendable income in this country in excess of goods and services to be bought at the then existing prices. A year earlier the excess was 33 billion dollars. If prices are to be held in line this excess purchasing power must be brought down to the level of the supply of goods and services, or the supply of goods and services must be boosted in keeping with purchasing power.

Farmers are doing their utmost to increase the supply of agricultural products. In this way they are helping to prevent inflation. The other way in which they may help is to buy less. In general there are two ways of reducing consumer purchasing power. They are:

Heavier taxes
Voluntary savings

The greater the voluntary savings the less the need for more taxes. Let us do it the voluntary way by buying more WAR BONDS and holding those Bonds until manpower, plant capacity, and raw materials are available for increasing the supply of consumer goods. Spending then will be less likely to boost prices through the ceiling. Saving has always been an outstanding farmer trait. It is now a patriotic duty.

Farmers: Help Prevent Inflation

by Asher Hobson
University of Wisconsin

FARMERS remember the "Silk Shirt" era of the last war. That era was marked by 75 cent butterfat, 20 dollar hogs, and 100, 200 and in some states 300 dollars an acre for farm land. Farmers also remember the "no shirt" era of the Thirties — 25 cent butterfat, 5 dollar hogs, and land so low the mortgage took it. One way of keeping one's shirt after this war is not to buy too many silk shirts now, so to speak.

There is an old saying to the effect that he who sleeps on the floor never falls out of bed. None of us want to sleep on the floor, but we should see to it that our beds are not so high as to cause serious injury in case of a fall. Unduly high prices are likely to be followed by unduly low prices. That is one reason why most people in responsible walks of life appreciate the necessity of acting now to prevent inflation. Farmers are equally concerned.

Inflation is another term for unhealthy high prices. Inflation has a younger brother. He is a bad actor. His name is deflation. He has a habit of following his brother inflation. Deflation often means serious unemployment, lower property values, more tax delinquency, and mounting foreclosures. Add these together and the sum is farm relief. That is not the answer farmers want.

Farmers can well afford to take steps now in an attempt to avoid that sort of a situation. But inflation is not easily handled after it arrives. One cannot build a cyclone cellar after the old clouds begin to roll. Then one has time only to grab the baby and run—with no place to go. Something like that is apt to happen when inflation strikes. The best way to handle inflation is to prevent its striking.

What can farmers do? They can help keep prices from getting out of hand by helping to hold prices down now. If prices are to be held in line, the pressure under prices must be removed. The Government cannot do this job alone. There are no anti-inflation white rabbits in the magician's hat. Only the concerted efforts of you and me can turn the trick.

The forces causing prices to go up may be summarized in the statement that there is more money available for spending than there are goods and services to be bought. This is another way of saying that the demand for goods and services exceeds the available supply. Let us be specific. At the end of 1943 it was estimated that there were 42 billion dollars of spendable income in this country in excess of goods and services to be bought at the then existing prices. A year earlier the excess was 33 billion dollars. If prices are to be held in line this excess purchasing power must be brought down to the level of the supply of goods and services, or the supply of goods and services must be boosted in keeping with purchasing power.

Farmers are doing their utmost to increase the supply of agricultural products. In this way they are helping to prevent inflation. The other way in which they may help is to buy less. In general there are two ways of reducing consumer purchasing power. They are:

Heavier taxes
Voluntary savings

The greater the voluntary savings the less the need for more taxes. Let us do it the voluntary way by buying more WAR BONDS and holding those Bonds until manpower, plant capacity, and raw materials are available for increasing the supply of consumer goods. Spending then will be less likely to boost prices through the ceiling. Saving has always been an outstanding farmer trait. It is now a patriotic duty.

Classroom News From The Grades

KINDERGARTEN

The most exciting day in the kindergarten this week was the day the guppies, or tropical minnows, bore their little ones. Unlike other fish, guppies are live-bearing, and as soon as the young are born, the carnivorous adults swim about eating those which cannot swim fast enough to get out of the way or cannot manage to hide in the seaweed. The parent fish are only three quarters of an inch long, and the young fish are proportionally smaller, so there were only six young fish left out of a probable 25 or 50. The grown fish were immediately scooped out of the bowl and housed temporarily with the snails.

The children are anxious for the remaining six to survive so that they may watch them grow.

FIRST GRADE

Science has been interesting this week. Victor brought a small snapping turtle to the first grade and Bradley brought a Robin's nest.

The plants Betty Carel's grandmother gave the first graders have begun to root. Next week, the children will plant them in flower pots.

Along with planting flowers to beautify the room, some of the children are hemming a piece of bright cloth for a table cloth This will be used in the playhouse.

SECOND CRADE

The second grade made Halloween cats, witches and bats for their room decoration. They had lots of fun.

This next week second grade boys and girls are going to begin a big unit on "Transportation." This unit will last for a period of about nine weeks.

Two second grade girls have a perfect spelling record thus far this year. They are, Faye Janssen and Alice June Koppernagel.

THIRD GRADE

Bonny Fleener brought a little painted turtle to school.

Eugene Nicholson had a birthday October 23 and treated all third graders to cookies. Afterwards they played "Dog and the Bone."

They have decorated their room with black cats, owls, bats, and jack-o-lanterns. They are about ready for Halloween now. They will have a party Halloween day.

Juniors To Present Armistice Day Program

Completes Unit On Foods

The Freshman Science Class has just finished the unit on "Foods and How We Use Them." In this unit they studied the vitamins and their deficiency diseases, how the human body is like a machine, what type of food one should eat, how foods are made available to cells of the body, and how foods may be kept from spoiling. All foods should be carefully selected, protected, and prepared. There are both chemical and physical processes involved in getting foods to the body cells. One's appetite is not the only or the best guide for eating. The selection of food involves expert knowledge.

Also in each unit there is a number of experiments which are preformed by students in the class. Last week the following demonstrations were performed.

1. The test for starch by Marion Tyrrell.
2. The test for starch in green plants by Joan Pals.
3. The test for grape sugar by Dorothy Severseike.
4. The test for protien by Mary Jones.
5. Test of potato under the microscope by Myrna Van Gerpen.
6. The test to see how plants use food by Gilman Soma.
7. The test for substances which will pass through a membrane by Raymond Mehl.
8. How to pasteurize milk was performed by Jim Pierce.

D. S.

FIFTH GRADE

Wednesday the fifth graders took their Achievement Tests from nine o'clock to two o'clock.

Friday, Halloween decorations for the room were made during art period. Last week they began making plans for a Halloween party. The chairmen of the different committees are Jeanette McGuire, Howard Wagner, and Lynne Tyrrell.

So far this year, sixty book reports have been written on the library reading.

The president of the fifth grade class for this year is Deloris Faris and the secretary is Lyle Zeigler.

Frances Palmer

EDITORIAL

Adapting yourself to any kind of situation is one of the important qualities of a person who wishes to be successful in the game of life.

Not only is the ability of being able to adapt yourself to things around home necessary but also it is very important away from home.

For instance young men and women who now leave high school have a very different world to face than that of a few years ago. It is almost certain that the greatest share of the group will be in new surroundings. Therefore it is vital to you to have the ability to make the correct adjustments.

The longer it takes to adjust yourself the harder will be that time of your life. Men and women in the service of our country, war workers away from home, and others that are in distant places have to adapt themselves if they want to or not.

Success depends a great deal on how you get your start and upon how soon that right progress can be made. The right progress can be made only if you have correctly adapted yourself for the duties to be done.

In The Bronco Corral

If you wanna make some easy money, bet anyone that, standing with his left ankle, knee, hip, shoulder and cheek pressed against the wall, he can't lift his right leg off the floor. He can't ! !

One of the towns playboys, Bert Hewlett, was needling the intelligence of a certain blonde down to Gov's. Here's the dope:

Bert: "Another thing about you dames, you can never write a note without a postscript."

"Oh no?" argued the long legged beauty, "I'll write you one tomorrow."

A few days later he got her note and at the end was scribbled: P. S.—"What did I tell you."

A very good proverb put on the English board was "Flattery is soft soap, soft soap is 90 per cent lye."

On the subject of soap, where did it all come from October 31?

1. Where did a carload of kids go Hallowe'en night in a blue car with white side walls?
2. A Senior boy didn't get the benefit of wearing his class ring long, did he Muriel?
3. Did anyone object to the one day vacation last week? Shoot him! ! !
4. Some day J. Mc. is going to turn purple and stay purple. Don't you think? ?
5. How about a Flunkers Folly?

The Nazis are getting new uniforms—Zoot suits with a reet treat; the best seller in Japan now is "Guam With the Wind."

Physics Quite Confusing

The physics class under Mr. Faris is struggling through the study of those great men such as Pascal, Archimedes, Hooke and Boyle. Their laws and principles are quite confusing but have been mastered by the industrious students of this class.

Along with these men they learn of pressure, force, buoyancy of air and water, stress and strain. Sounds hard, doesn't it? Well, we think so too, that's why so many Halloweeners didn't come around. An exam followed that, what might have been a wonderful evening.

RURAL EVENTS

Thursday, Nov. 9th — Annual I. O. O. F. Hall, Clarion Iowa, 7:30 County Farm Bureau meeting at p. m.

Saturday, Nov. 11th—Armistice Day, Legal Holiday.

Monday, Nov. 13th—Grant township meeting, "School Code Revision." Mrs. Lynn Thompson from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Tuesday, Nov. 14th — Belmond Township meeting ,"School Code Revision." Center School 8:00 p. m.

Wednesday, Nov. 15th—Norway township meeting, "School Code Revision." Center school 8:00 p. m.

In regard to the above meetings for discussion of the "School Code Revision" the Farm Bureau Office has this to say:

"Every adult should be interested in the recommendations of the school code commission for the revision of the school code for the improvement of Iowa schools. Although there are good schools and good teachers in every county there are certain weaknesses that should be improved. There is great inequality of educational opportunity among the youth of Iowa. The methods of financial support of our schools are both inadequate and inequitable. Iowa's position is at the bottom of all states with only 1.4 per cent of school costs coming from state funds. These, and other facts are the basis of the recommendations of the commission on administration, organization, support, educational program, and teacher status. It is vitally important that all adults acquaint themselves with the facts in regard to the county and state schools and the recommendation of the code commission. These problems will be discussed at a series of meetings this month in Wright County. Everyone is welcome to attend these meetings."

men and women in the army and navy who are fighting, that must be fed, housed and transported and cared for in 101 different ways," Clark said.

"This costs money and will continue to cost money until the men and women are demobilized and back in civilian clothes.

"We must also remember that millions of dollars will be required for mustering out pay and before these men are mustered out, we must win victory in Europe and in the Pacific and everything costs more in the war against Japan.

"Just bear in mind it costs 25 per cent more to ship men and materials in the South Pacific than to Europe and it takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size, since the turn-around time is twice as great."

Wright County Asked to Reach 6th War Loan Quota November 20

$922,000 Is County Goal

Citizens Urged To Buy Full Share First Day

C. J. Christiansen, Wright County Chairman of the War Finance Committee is asking Wright county citizens to help the county reach its quota of $922,000 the first day of the Sixth War Loan Campaign on Monday, November 20, by going to their nearest issuing agent and buying their full share of bonds on that day.

In announcing the campaign, Chairman Christiansen made the following statement addressed to the members of the Home Front Army:

"On D-day our army and navy received their orders. The hour was set. Every man was at his post ready to go. There was no begging, pleading or cajoling. They landed in France, set up beachheads and are proceeding to Victory.

"November 20 is Bond Day in Wright County. The Sixth War Loan is set to begin. Our objective is $922,000 in bonds. We must not fail.

"You are members of the great army on the home front. Your job is cut out for you. Dont' wait to be solicited. Go to your bank Nov 20 and buy your share in American Victory. The boys in Normandy didnt' wait. Why should you? Don't put it off. Act now!

"Our command has been given. March forward on Wright County Bond Day. Every man, woman and child will carry the banner of victory."

State war bond officials in announcing Iowa's Sixth War Loan Quota of $178,000,000 including the Series E bond goal of $61,000,000, said,

"In every case both the total quota and series E goal are less than county quotas for the Fifth War Loan. However, there must be no let down on effort as a difficult campaign is expected. In order to reach goals set, it will take real effort and sales contacts with every possible purchaser."

Gerhard Thompson Re-elected President of Farm Bureau

Minneapolis Editor Was Guest Speaker

Resolutions Include One On Iowa School Code Revision

Farm Bureau members voting at the annual Farm Bureau meeting at Clarion, Nov. 9th reelected Gerhard Thompson of Norway township as President for the third term.

Only one change was made in the County Farm Bureau officers. Trask of Boone Township was elected treasurer, replacing L. W. Collins, who was not a candidate for the office this year. Other officers reelected were: Lawrence Woodley of Iowa township, vice president; Maurice Mechem of Lincoln township, secretary; Mrs. Nels J. Lindvall, Grant township, County women's chairman and Wm. McCormick, Lincoln township, voting delegate, with Harry Poundstone of Dayton township as alternate voting delegate. Mrs. R K. Uhr of Eagle Grove was reelected County 4-H Girls chairman and Ed Kirstein of Woolstock township was reelected County boys 4-H chairman.

George C. Jordan, Editorial writer for the Minneapolis Star Journal, spoke on the subject "Behind the War News." He stated that the war would not solve all international problems of the European countries. The difficulty of negotiating peace would be handicapped by the wide difference of political and economic views of the people concerned. He illustrated this by explaining political conditions in Spain, Italy and to some extent in Russia. Mr. Jordan spent several years in these countries and has been in close contact with conditions both abroad and in Washington.

Reports given at the annual Farm Bureau meeting included County Home Economist's report by Miss Elizabeth Deihl. County Extension Director's report by Aaron R. Bowman, Treasurer's report read by the Secretary, Boys 4-H club report, Girls 4-H Club report and Farm Bureau service reports. A skit "Grandma Time" was given by the following women of Iowa Township: Mrs. I. C. Aldrich, Mrs. Florence Aldinger, Mrs. I. H. Ainslie, Mrs. J. R. Groom, Mrs. Ray Aldrich and Mrs. G. Aldrich.

The County Farm Bureau resolutions this year were of special importance because they included a resolution on the County School Code Revision. Considerable time was spent on this resolution, mainly by the voters requesting more information on specific parts of the recommended code.

The County Farm Bureau resolutions as passed are as follows:

1. We, the farmers of Wright County, realizing the vital importance of food in winning the war and writing the peace, pledge ourselves to give of our time, our strength and our ability as far as is humanly possible in producing food for our Armed forces and our Allies. We recommend that the people purchase as many bonds as possible and keep them until maturity.

2. We pledge our continued support of the fundamental policies of the AAA and to the end that this agency will be continued and available for increased use in the future, if needed. We further recommend that it should be nonpartisan and farmer controlled and encourage more and better soil conservation practices.

3. We recommend the further use and expansion of the R. E. A. and also recommend that it be returned to an independent agency in our national setup.

4 We recommend the present system of taxing cooperatives should be continued as it is now and that the Farm Bureau be active in supporting the cooperatives in the coming fight.

5. We favor the continuation of the Farm Security Administration and recommend using the principal payments of former loans as a revolving fund to finance new tenant purchase loans.

6. We favor the revision of the Iowa School Code as recommended by the Iowa School Code Commission and that we ask the state support of schools.

7. We believe the Farm Bureau should continue its vigorous legislative program: continue sponsoring the work of 4-H club and the women's and men's programs in cooperation with the extension service.

8. We favor that a general survey be made of the drainage of Wright County with possibility of enlarging the program to include the county in a soil conservation district.

9. We recommend that prices of all farm products should be guaranteed far enough in advance to sustain an orderly production of food products.

10. We believe that the price of hogs should be supported on a graduated scale, both as to ceilings and floors and said price should be governed by a fair and just parity in the market place. We also favor parity on all farm products.

11. We recommend that the Farm Bureau assist in sponsoring legislation, eliminating trade barriers in transportation between states.

12. We favor a definite program of post-war planning which should include rehabilitation of ex-service men.

13 We recommend that more emphasis be placed on weed control in the county with close cooperation between supervisors and other agencies in this work

14. In conclusion we wish to commend the business and professional men and women of the county, schools, county officials and other organizations for the excellent service and support they have given the farmers during this war time emergency.

Merging Churches Select New Name

Joint Committee Chooses "United Church of Christ"

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 10— The "United Church of Christ" will be the name of the merged Congregational Christian and the Evangelical and Reformed Church after unification has been completed. This decision was reached by a joint committee of the two bodies meeting here.

The meeting was one of a number of "official conversations" which will be held during the next two years to develop mutual understanding between the two churches.

Unification would begin with the merging of the general council of the Congregational Christian Churches and the general synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, according to proposals of the joint committee. Other church boards would "grow together" gradually as convenient and desirable.—"The Protestant Voice."

Dr. G. H. Steele Dies Early Wednesday

Funeral Services At Congregational Church Are Friday

This community was shocked and saddened by the sudden death of Dr. George H Steele, Belmond physician and surgeon, who passed away early Wednesday morning, November 15, 1944 at his home in Belmond, Iowa. His death was caused by heart failure.

Coming to Belmond in 1915, Dr. Steele has served this community faithfully and continuously from that time until his death.

Dr. Steele was born April 16, 1884 at Greenfield, Indiana. He was the son of Marion Steele—Margaret Bryce, who have preceded him in death. On January 4, 1938, he was united in marriage to Inga Hill, who survives him. He is survived also by a sister, Mrs. Ruth Brooks of Gloucester, Massachusetts, and a brother, Edward, of Newburgh New York.

Dr. Steele was graduated from the University of Indiana in the year 1908, received his medical training at Rush Medical College and took his internship at the Presbyterian Hospital at Chicago. He also received graduate work in European clinics.

Dr. Steele established the Belmond Hospital in the year 1915, which he owned and operated until the year 1937, at which time he formed a partnership with Dr. S. P. Leinbach, and this partnership reorganized the hospital, obtained new quarters which they remodeled, and also built a modern clinic building. In the fall of 1942 Dr. Robert F. Hansen of Forest City was admitted as a member of this partnership. Dr. Steele was active in the operation of this hospital until the time of his death, and was one of the most prominent and widely known physicians and surgeons in Northern Iowa.

During World War I, he enlisted in the United States Army and served in the capacity of Captain in the Medical Corps, returning to his practice in the spring of 1919. He assisted in the organization of Eimbrink Post No. 35 of the American Legion, was a charter mem- of the post, and was its first Commander.

Dr. Steele was a past president of the Wright County Medical Society, a member of the Iowa State Medical Association, the Masonic Lodge, and Congregational Church at Belmond, a stockholder and director of the First State Bank of Belmond, Iowa and held memberships in many other civic and professional organizations.

Largely through his efforts, the Clarmond Country Club was organized in the year 1920, and Dr. Steele has been one the most enthusiastic members and supporters of the Club since its organization.

Through his death, this community has lost an honorable, faithful, and progressive citizen; an energetic, active, and skilled physician and surgeon; and a true friend. Words cannot express the loss to this community which will become ever more apparent as time goes by.

Funeral services will be held Friday, November 17, 1944, at 2:00 o'clock p. m. at the Congregational Church in Belmond.

Because of the lack of flowers for the funeral of Dr. George H. Steele, friends of Dr. and Mrs. Steele have suggested that those wishing to give sympathetic remembrances to Mrs. Steele at this time, may leave such gifts at the Belmond Independent office, to be used as a memorial to Dr. George H. Steele by his wife.

Belmond High School's Stage Has New Setting

Belmond High School's auditorium has had its face lifted; the stage is decked out in a brand new setting.

The most modern type of equipment, recentry purchased from Metropolitan Scenic Studios of Omaha, has been installed. It consists of a deep blue velour "picture frame" border across the top and up and down the sides just back of the stage opening, with drapes of biege material covering the back and sides.

The public will have their first opportunity to see the newly fitted stage at the performance of the Junior Class Play tomorrow night Friday, November 17.

Correne Dorr, who works in the State House in Des Moines, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Dorr.

Gridiron To Sponsor Benefit Basketball

Pepsi-Cola Girls Take On A. I. B. Team Here

The Pepsi-Cola girls' basketball team takes on the American Institute of Business at Belmond's gymnasium Friday night, Nov. 24, in a benefit game for the Gridiron Club, the money raised to start a stadium fund for the football field.

Preceding the game, which starts at 8:30, will be a boys' exhibition directed by Coach Lansing at 7:30.

Fans will see the key to the defensive side of Wiota High's state championship outft. Lois Steffens has discarded the gray uniform of Wiota and is now wearing the Red, White and Blue of Pepsi Cola. The five foot 10 inch guard was a deciding factor in Wiota High's drive through an undefeated season and on to the Iowa title last season.

Last year these same two teams played before a packed house in Belmond in an overtime game in a thrilling struggle when the A. I. B. nosed out its Des Moines rival. Both clubs have strengthened their lineups. The A. I. B. has added the Watson twins, Joann and Joyce, who starred at Centerville, Iowa and also has Leona Campen, star forward of Wiota High in the lineup.

Pepsi-Cola will also have Jackie Morris, star of Valley High, ready for action, besides its powerful starting six which includes its two two-time all-Americans, Jeanette Haas and Mary Link. Link was the high average scorer of the national tournament.

Gridiron committees in charge of arrangements for the game are as follows:

POST-WAR PLANNING

Although published during the days of political campaigning previous to election on November 7, the following discussion by the Belle Plaine Union of post-war employment problems has no partisan agreement, rather it suggests ways and describes a plan already underway in one progressive city, in which communities may shoulder some of the burden of possible unemployment following the war and thereby accomplish a two-fold purpose—jobs for men and prosperity for the town and community.

"Disregarding all political motives which the Republicans claim were there, and the Democrats deny, the best that can be said about many of the alphabetical agencies that were created and flourished during he 30's, is that they kept people from starving. And, had they not been created, and had people just been given straight relief the situation would not have been any better as far the recipients were concerned, for relief set ups regardless of their fancy title, are still just relief. Their primary objectives is to feed people and if a new building, an improved road or an airport is thrown in the deal, it is generally considered just so much velvet.

"What is needed and neither political party will deny it is jobs, good jobs that pay those who work at them decent wages that they may provide for themselves and their families the three necessities of food, clothing and shelter, and a reasonable amount of time and cash to enjoy some of the pleasures of living. No matter where one lives, what language he speaks or what occupation he follows, these are the ideals that all men seek whether they are poor or wealthy.

"So it was rather refreshing for me Thursday evening when I had the pleasure of listening to Rev. Richard Emery, of Albert Lea, Minnesota, describe what the Albert Lea Chamber of Commerce has started in what they are pleased to call, "Jobs Incorporated," or what the United States Chamber of Commerce has described as the Albert Lea Plan.

"Albert Lea, it seems, according to the Rev. Emery, takes the attiude that when the war is over, the boys come home and the war plants shut down or reconvert to peace time production, that there will very likely be about 592 unemployed persons in that community of some 10,000 people. By that is meant men, women, boys and girls who will want and need wage paying jobs, and that rather than being a problem for the United States Government to cope with, it is Albert Lea's problem.

"Taking this attitude, which is the first essential step—placing responsibility, they have created a plan to encourage men to start businesses of their own. So far the plan is still in the paper stage, for the speaker admitted that at the present time Albert Lea is faced with a labor shortage, rather than unemployment. Like other things that look good, it may not work. Nobody has been able it try it yet to see. Nevertheless, it is certainly a step in the right direction and might well be copied by many another small city, both larger and smaller than Albert Lea, including Belle Plaine.

"It's probably wishful thinking, as are most things when they start out, but in Albert Lea's case, let's suppose that fifty small manufacturing businesses could be started who would employ an average of ten people as office clerks, foreman, workers and salesman. That would mean that 500 of the 593 unemployed would have jobs rather than doles or relief. That would mean that 500 families would be able to honestly work for their food, clothing, shelter and entertainment. Certainly no WPA school house paid for from tax money could compare with such a situation, for these five hundred would not only find steady jobs, but the tax payers would not be socked again for building a school house in addition to paying for a war.

"In Albert Lea $10,000 worth of "risk" money has been raised. They are making their plans to raise $100,000 for the same purpose. In other words, for less than the price of a good school house, and with money that has been contributed by those who can most easily afford it, a start has been given to fifty going businesses that are in themselves producers of more wealth for their thriving community.

Somehow one sees in the Albert Lea plan the spirit of the old middle west and the pioneer day where men and women created a civilization out of the endless prairies. The one difference is that they are pioneering in industrial development, whereas the pioneers of old, pioneered in land development. The problem is the same. Only the scene and the tools to work with are different. Belle Plaine Union.

AMERICA CAN LICK PROBLEMS OF PEACE

No real American believes that America is going to be defeated by the problems of readjustment that will face us after the war. That isn't America, it isn't the spirit of real red-blooded American citizens. The whole history of this nation has been one of unbroken progress. The nation which entered the war with a handful of obsolete planes and in three years reached a production basis of 100,000 planes a year, and at the same time produced ships and other material on the same gigantic scale, has no excuse to be licked by the problems of peace. The brilliant genius that solved the war time problems can solve the peace problems. We have been amazed at what this country did in the production of tools for war, and we should likewise be amazed at what it can do in the matter of working out the problems of peace.

MacArthur pulled a fast one on the Japs to deceive them about Philippine invasion plans. Before leaving New Guinea correspondents made a chain of records to be broadcast for a week from New Guinea after the correspondents had sailed with the invasion fleet. This led the Japs to believe MacArthur was still in New Guinea when actually he was several days enroute to the island of Leyte. All's fair in war, they say. — Marshalltown Times-Republican

Jack Morrow, former editor of Tokyo papers and an Oriental resident for a quarter of a century, said last week when he lectured to the high school assembly on 'Our Part in the Asia of Tomorrow," that "Japan must be invaded." The theory is often expressed that we must never invade the islands of Japan, but Mr. Morrow thoroughly disagrees.

"Never once in the history of war has war been brought home to the Japanese people, because Japan is the house, the place where God lives, Hirohito is practically the god of the 100 million people. To explode this myth, we must invade Japan and bring war home to them" said Mr. Morrow.

His talk puts the war with Japan in a different light. He says that the religion of the Japanese people must be broken before we can really defeat Japan. Shintoism is a sort of hero worship going back to the day when the sun god came down and married the first emporor of Japan making all rulers a partner with God. Mr. Morrow says we won't break Japan's spirit until we break Shintoism and invasion is the best answer to that.—Clear Lake Mirror.

MORE BOOKS FOR RURAL LIBRARIES

What happens to the millions of books in army camp libraries after the war is over? Carl Vitz, president of the American Library Association, suggests that these books be turned over to the states "for use of people without libraries or with very limited library facilities in proportion to each state's rural populaton." It sounds like a good idea —Wallace's Farmer.

Announce Candidates For Basketball Queen

First Quarter Report

In connection with the sale of basketball season tickets this year there will be a basketball queen contest. A girl from High School will be elected Queen of Basketball and presented between halves of the second home game. This game will be held Tuesday, Dec. 12.

Each grade from seven to twelve will elect one girl to represent their class. The only restriction on this is that the girl must be in High School. Therefore seventh and eighth grade will pick a high school girl to represent them. Then they will receive votes from the sale of tickets which will be placed in a ballot box on first floor. This ballot box will not be opened until the night of Dec. 12. Each student ticket will have a value of 100 points and each adult ticket will have a value of 250 points. Each member of the official basketball team and each member of the Pep Band will have 100 votes. A student may have votes for a ticket for himself or for tickets he has sold. Therefore the queen will not only be elected for beauty or personality but also for the pep and energy which she has in connection with the contest. The contest opens Monday, Nov. 13, and closes Tuesday, Dec. 12.

The ceremony for the coronation of the Queen and her attendants will be enducted by the Pep Club under the direction of Miss Gantenbein and the Pep Band under the direction of Miss Hansen.

Student tickets will cost 83c plus a tax of 17c or a total of $1.00 for 9 or possibly 10 home games. Adult tickets will cost $1.67 plus 33c tax or a total of $2.00. Single admission at the gate will be 25c and 40c, tax included.

The candidates chosen to represent the various grades are: 12th grade, Eunice Mehl; 11th grade, Loretta Rubendall; 10th grade, Doris Easton; ninth grade, Grace Meints; eighth grade, Betty Green; seventh grade, Doris Christie. Everyone get out and bring in the votes for your favorite candidate so she will be crowned Queen of Basketball.

EDITORIAL

A 'conceited person" as defined by the dictionary is a person having a flattering opinion of one's self. What the general public cannot understand is just what good the conceited person thinks he is doing by being conceited. It is found that the conceited is doing more harm to his personality than he ever does good. He thinks that he is showing the public that he is so much better than they are but if the truth is known all he is doing is degrading himself in the minds of the public. Conceit is usually brought about by good looks, money, and the ability to do something better than anyone else. POST-WAR PLANNING

Although published during the days of political campaigning previous to election on November 7, the following discussion by the Belle Plaine Union of post-war employment problems has no partisan agreement, rather it suggests ways and describes a plan already underway in one progressive city, in which communities may shoulder some of the burden of possible unemployment following the war and thereby accomplish a two-fold purpose—jobs for men and prosperity for the town and community.

"Disregarding all political motives which the Republicans claim were there, and the Democrats deny, the best that can be said about many of the alphabetical agencies that were created and flourished during he 30's, is that they kept people from starving. And, had they not been created, and had people just been given straight relief the situation would not have been any better as far the recipients were concerned, for relief setups regardless of their fancy title, are still just relief. Their primary objectives is to feed people and if a new building, an improved road or an airport is thrown in the deal, it is generally considered just so much velvet.

"What is needed and neither political party will deny it is jobs, good jobs that pay those who work at them decent wages that they may provide for themselves and their families the three necessities of food, clothing and shelter, and a reasonable amount of time and cash to enjoy some of the pleasures of living. No matter where one lives, what language he speaks or what occupation he follows, these are the ideals that all men seek whether they are poor or wealthy.

"So it was rather refreshing for me Thursday evening when I had the pleasure of listening to Rev Richard Emery, of Albert Lea, Minnesota, describe what the Albert Lea Chamber of Commerce has started in what they are pleased to call, "Jobs Incorporated," or what the United States Chamber of Commerce has described as the Albert Lea Plan.

"Albert Lea, it seems, according to the Rev. Emery, takes the attiude that when the war is over, the boys come home and the war plants shut down or reconvert to peace time production, that there will very likely be about 592 unemployed persons in that community of some 10,000 people. By that is meant men, women, boys and girls who will want and need wage paying jobs, and that rather than being a problem for the United States Government to cope with, it is Albert Lea's problem.

"Taking this attitude, which is the first essential step—placing responsibility, they have created a plan to encourage men to start businesses of their own. So far the plan is still in the paper stage, for the speaker admitted that at the present time Albert Lea is faced with a labor shortage, rather than unemployment. Like other things that look good, it may not work. Nobody has been able it try it yet to see. Nevertheless, it is certainly a step in the right direction and might well be copied by many another small city, both larger and smaller than Albert Lea, including Belle Plaine.

"It's probably wishful think--ing, as are most things when they start out, but in Albert Lea's case, let's suppose that fifty small manufacturing businesses could be started who would employ an average of ten people as office clerks, foreman, workers and salesman. That would mean that 500 of the 593 unemployed would have jobs rather than doles or relief. That would mean that 500 families would be able to honestly work for their food, clothing, shelter and entertainment. Certainly no WPA school house paid for from tax money could compare with such a situation, for these five hundred would not only find steady jobs, but the tax payers would not be socked again for building a school house in addition to paying for a war.

"In Albert Lea $10,000 worth of "risk" money has been raised. They are making their plans to raise $100,000 for the same purpose. In other words, for less than the price of a good school house, and with money that has been contributed by those who can most easily afford it, a start has been given to fifty going businesses that are in themselves producers of more wealth for their thriving community.

Somehow one sees in the Albert Lea plan the spirit of the old middle west and the pioneer day where men and women created a civilization out of the endless prairies. The one difference is that they are pioneering in industrial development, whereas the pioneers of old, pioneered in land development. The problem is the same. Only the scene and the tools to work with are different. Belle Plaine Union.

AMERICA CAN LICK PROBLEMS OF PEACE

No real American believes that America is going to be defeated by the problems of readjustment that will face us after the war. That isn't America, it isn't the spirit of real red-blooded American citizens. The whole history of this nation has been one of unbroken progress. The nation which entered the war with a handful of obsolete planes and in three years reached a production basis of 100,000 planes a year, and at the same time produced ships and other material on the same gigantic scale, has no excuse to be licked by the problems of peace. The brilliant genius that solved the war time problems can solve the peace problems. We have been amazed at what this country did in the production of tools for war, and we should likewise be amazed at what it can do in the matter of working out the problems of peace.

MacArhur pulled a fast one on the Japs to deceive them about Philippine invasion plans. Before leaving New Guinea correspondents made a chain of records to be broadcast for a week from New Guinea after the correspondents,had sailed with the invasion fleet. This led the Japs to believe MacArthur was still in New Guinea when actually he was several days enroute to the island of Leyte. All's fair in war, they say. — Marshalltown Times-Republican.

Jack Morrow, former editor of Tokyo papers and an Oriental resident for a quarter of a century, said last week when he lectured to the high school assembly on 'Our Part in the Asia of Tomorrow," that "Japan must be invaded." The theory is often expressed that we must never invade the islands of Japan, but Mr. Morrow thoroughly disagrees.

"Never once in the history of war has war been brought home to the Japanese people, because Japan is the house, the place where God lives, Hirohito is practically the god of the 100 million people To explode this myth, we must invade Japan and bring war home to them" said Mr. Morrow.

His talk puts the war with Japan in a different light. He says that the religion of the Japanese people must be broken before we can really defeat Japan. Shintoism is a sort of hero worship going back to the day when the sun god came down and married the first emporor of Japan making all rulers a partner with God. Mr. Morrow says we won't break Japan's spirit until we break Shintoism and invasion is the best answer to that.—Clear Lake Mirror.

MORE BOOKS FOR RURAL LIBRARIES

What happens to the millions of books in army camp libraries after the war is over? Carl Vitz, president of the American Library Association, suggests that these books be turned over to the states "for use of people without libraries or with very limited library facilities.. in proportion to each state's rural populaton." It sounds like a good idea.—Wallace's Farmer.

Yes, corn in the makings of your car! You hardly think of the two in the same instant, but without certain products of the familiar American grain your automobile wouldn't take you around the block.

Its battery contain corn starch. Its cylinder heads were cast in molds using another grade of corn starch as a binder for their sand cores. Its aluminum parts wouldn't be there at all except for starch's essential function in making this metal. Its upholstery, if cotton cloth, had all its threads treated by starch before and after weaving: if leather, it was tanned with the help of starch.

Even the rubber tires got a starch treatment. Maybe it doesn't look so, in this third year of war, but it's a well starched car nevertheless.—Hampton Chronicle.

Each grade from seven to twelve will elect one girl to represent their class. The only restriction on this is that the girl must be in High School. EDITORIAL

A 'conceited person" as defined by the dictionary is a person having a flattering opinion of one's self. What the general public cannot understand is just what good the conceited person thinks he is doing by being conceited. It is found that the conceited is doing more harm to his personality than he ever does good. He thinks that he is showing the public that he is so much better than they are but if the truth is known all he is doing is degrading himself in the minds of the public. READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

You often find Americans writing historical novels about England, but it's rare to find an Englishman writing a novel about pioneer America. One who has done just that and made a success of it is Herbert Best, whose novel, "Young 'Un," is a Book-of-the-Month Club selection for November.

HERBERT BEST

"Young 'Un" is a story of life in upper New York State, about a century and a half ago. It begins dramatically when Old Man Post drives his oxen back to his home, to find that his cabin has burned down and that his wife has perished in the flames. Old Man Post has never been much of one for settling down. When this happens, he goes off to the North woods, leaving his three children to fend for themselves. The rest of the book tells how they made out.

The three children are Eldest, whose real name was Elvira and who was seventeen; Dan'l, a stalwart lad not given much to words, and Young 'Un, this story's heroine. In his characterization of her, the author paints an endearing picture of a young girl on the verge of womanhood, torn between her curiosity of what it would be like to be grown up and wear a long rose gown, and her very natural pride in her tomboy prowess.

When the father finally returned, it was Young 'Un's feminine intuition that prompted her to send him back to the woods; she knew he wouldn't ever be happy as a farmer. But that decision nearly spelt tragedy for her. For Young 'Un was in love then, but she knew that Dan'l needed her on the farm, and the land had to come first. Fortunately a way is found out of these difficulties, and the story has a happy ending.

Herbert Best, author of "Young 'Un," has had an interesting career. A veteran of the last war, he was subsequently for several years District Officer in Nigeria. He met his American wife, an artist, Erick Berry, when he was on leave in London, and married her on his next leave, in New York. Since then, she has been his collaborator n a number of boys' books about Africa. have had all kinds of working consays Mrs. Best: "In a bush house a during the tornado season; on a nge-freighter, waddling with a dangerous list to port, up st of Turkey; shivering before a seven-feet-wide fireplace in ent stone house in Devon." They w live on a farm overlo wooded hills and the headwaters ke Champlain, the ve h Mr. Best chose for his novel.

• Eggs for the breakfast table mean energy to build planes and ships and tanks. We'll help lick 'em with eggs!

That means produce more eggs. That means give the hens what it takes to make eggs. That means, on the Dr. Hess Research Farm, add Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-min to the ration.

Pan-a-min is a two-job product, it supplies the hen with both tonics and minerals. Tonics stimulate appetite and the consumption of feed. Minerals are as essential to egg production as the proteins and carbohydrates in grain.

Dr. Hess & Clark get as many as 23 extra eggs per bird per year from their Pan-a-min birds. We think you'll get more eggs if you use Pan-a-min. Will you try it?

OBITUARY

Mrs. Herbert Hawe Bailey, was born in Feaugh Pub.iss. County Monaghen, Ireland. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs George Hawe, and came with her parents to this country at the age of five years. They settled in Dubuque County, Iowa, where they remained for the first ten years. After this they moved to Wright County near Rowan where her parens remained to the end of their lives.

She was born Nov 14, 1880, and passed away at their home in Belmond, Iowa, at 7:15 o clock Saturday morning, Nov. 4, 1944 She was 63 years, 11 months, and 20 days old.

Eliza Jane was united in marriage to Herbert J. Bailey on Jan. 20, 1904. To their union was born one daughter.

They began life together on a farm north of Dows where they remained eight years. From there they moved to Hancock County near Klemme where they again farmed a number of years During that time the daughter Ruth reached college age, and they moved to Sioux City. After a few years there, they returned to Klemme where they farmed again until in 1943 they retired and moved to Belmond, their present home.

She was baptized at the age of 6 years, and united with the Methodist Church in Dows, but was not converted until the year 1902, during a revival in the church in Dows. During a revival at Klemme in 1912, she was blessedly sanctified, and lived in that state of grace until she was called home. Anyone who knew Mrs. Herbert Bailey, knew her as a beautiful Chistian character. Her family who knew her better than anyone else say "She lived what she professed." During our time as pastor of the Klemme church, she taught a Sunday school class, and was very faithful as well as delighted to do so. She was a good Bible instructor.

Her parents preceded her in death in 1919, and passed away just 14 days apart.

Those who remain to mourn her passing are her husband, and one daughter, Mrs. Merril Willcutt of Keokuk, Iowa. With three brothers as follows: William of Seattle, Washington, Geo. of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., and John of Dows, Iowa. There are other relatives and a host of fine friends.

Funeral services were held in the Dows Methodist Church Monday afternoon. Rev. J. M. Howdeshell of the Morgan church was in charge with Rev. W. N. Baker assisting. The remains were laid to rest in the Fairview Cemetery, Dows, Iowa.

Obituary

Mrs. D. R. Schmidt, (nee Anna Blau) was born at Alexander, Iowa, on Nov. 24, 1890. All the years of her life were spent in this community. She was united in marriage with D. R. Schmidt on Jan. 19, 1916. Together they began farming on a place northwest of Alexander. After one year they moved to a farm northeast of here, and farmed there for 23 years. Since 1940 they have lived on their farm southwest of town.

Their life together was blessed and made happy by the birth of three children. In her home, and with her family, she was always a concerned, but a jolly, friendly mother and wife

She became a confessing member of the Alexander Reformed Church on Nov. 23, 1936, and remained an active and regular member until she was translated into the triumphant and everlasting church. Now today (just a week later) her soul has gone to be with the congregation of the eternal church of our Lord. We have this assurance from the promise or God, nevertheless we will miss her.

On Monday night, Nov. 6, at 9:30-10:00 p. m. she became suddenly ill, within a few hours entering a diabetic coma and having a stroke She was immediately taken to the hospital and though all that was possible was done, she never rallied again. She passed away, quietly and peacefully, at 7:45 a. m. on Nov. 9th, reaching the age of 53 years, 11 months and 16 days.

Three brothers, Dick, George, Jerry, and one sister, Rosy, preceded her in death, also the parents.

She leaves to mourn her sudden and early departure, her husband. D. R. Schmidt. three children, Richard. with the armed forces somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, Walter and Leona, both at home. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Hilko Pals of Meservey; Mr. Otto Ostendorf of Alexander; and Mrs. John Modderman of Belmond; Mrs. Charles Neilson of Minneapolis; Mrs. Bert Hemmes of Hampton; two brothers, Clyde Blau and John Blau of Alexander; besides other relatives, neighbors and many friends.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Reformed Church conducted by the local pastor. Burial was made at the Alexander Cemetery, with E. Ray Green of Hampton in charge.

BELMOND LOCALS

Emory and Myrna Van Gerpen spent Sunday at Greene, where they attended the dedication of the Calvary Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ahlman, former Belmond residents, are the parents of a baby girl born on Nov. 7. at the Mercy Hospital at Iowa City. The baby weighs 6 pounds and 13 ounces and has been named Judy Ann.

Predict Large Crowd for Benefit Basketball Tilt

Gridiron Club Invites Girls' Teams of National Reputation

More than 700 tickets have been sold for the Benefit basketball game between A. I. B. and Pepsi Cola Girls' teams of Des Moines, which is being sponsored on Friday evening November 24, at the school gymnasium, by the Gridiron Club of Belmond, to start a stadium fund. Predictions by the committee in charge are that there will be a larger crowd than the last time these two teams met on the the Belmond floor.

A. I. B. was defeated by the Pepsi-Cola team at the State Teachers Convention by five points, but A. I. B. led throughout the game, the turning point coming when "Dixie" Adams fouled out, with the game ending 31-26.

In Belmond Friday night, the A. I. B.'s should be the favorite with their new players, the Watson twins from Centerville, and Cromwell, star guard, from their last year's team. This combination should give A. I. B. the edge in the back court while the front court of Pepsi-Cola has the most experience of the two teams.

A. I. B. and Pepsi-Cola girls have had opportunities to play all the large cities in the United States. This year A. I. B. is scheduled for the Chicago Stadium, Pittsburgh, Memphis, Tennessee; Tulsa, Oklahoma; in North Carolina and Texas. The team was slated to start east on a trip when the Belmond Gridiron Club sent an invitation to return here for the benefit game on the 24th.

The game Friday night starts at 8:30 but is preceded by an exhibition on basketall fundamentals and rules under the direction of Jack Lansing. This is an opportunity for basketball fans to learn the fine points of basketball.

"Shop Now" and Mail in November

Public response to the Post Office department's "Shop Now! Mail In November' campaign is good but needs to be better, according to Postmaster General F. C. Walker.

'Extraordinary wartime conditions face us," Mr. Walker said. "Unless more people buy and mail this month the Postal Service cannot do its job of delivering all Christmas gifts on time.

"It is not pleasing to us to have to ask the American people to mail packages so far in advance of the delivery date. We do so only because it has to be done. The job is a tremendous one, but we are confident that it will be done because we know from experience that given sound reasons Americans cooperate magnificently.

"Unprecedented shortages of man power and transportation facilities growing out of the war compel early mailing. The Postal Service has given 50,000 experienced employes to the armed forces and 300,000 railroad workers have gone to war.

"The way in which everyone responded in making it possible for us to handle a volume of 70,000,000 parcels for the armed forces overseas leaves no doubt in my mind that the November Christmas mailing will be equally successful.

"We urge everyone to buy now, mail in November and mark gifts, 'Do not Open until Christmas."'

Discovered New Weed Growing Near Clarion

John Ross, County Weed Commissioner, recently discovered a new weed growing near Clarion which he could not identify. The County Extension Service sent the speciman to Iowa State College for identification and found that it was known as Japanese Hops, scientifically known as Humulus japonicus.

E. P. Sylvester, State Botanist who identified this weed, informs us that there is only one other speciman recorded for the State of Iowa and asked that other specimens be sent to them to be placed in the State Herbarium. These have recently been placed in the Herbarium with Mr. Ross' name as the one who discovered this new weed in Iowa.

Mileage Record Needed For Special Gas

District Office Makes Regulations

The Belmond War Price and Rationing Board is again reminding motorists to mail in their "Mileage Rationing Record," when applying for gasoline rations, whether for specials or renewals, of their present rations.

Failure to do so results in valuable loss of time as no rations are to be issued until this slip has been presented for proper notations. This slip was mailed out with each new "A" book and is about the size of the old tire inspection record.

Speedometer readings must also be presented with the application or written thereon. If the speedometer is broken it must be repaired or a statement must be secured from a garageman stating that it cannot be repaired. This is in line with new regulations from the District Office.

Following are the hours this office is open to the public:

Monday through Friday—12:45 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Saturdays—9:00 a. m. to 12 noon).

War Finance Leaders Stress Importance of Sixth War Drive

Urge Everyone To Buy Full Share of Bonds

State War Finance committee leaders look upon the Sixth War Loan campaign as the most difficult of them all, despite the fact the state quota is somewhat lower than in previous campaigns. It is apparent, the committee says, that people generally are of the opinion that the war is about over and that there isn't as great a need as during past campaigns.

Citing figures, the committee points out that the European war is expensive, but almost everything in the Pacific war is costing more. Because of longer distances the same amount of freight costs 25 per cent more when shipped to the South Pacific than to Europe. It takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size, since turn around time is twice as great.

Today in the South Pacific, more B-29 superfortresses, at $600,000 each, more P-47 thunderbolts, at $50,000 each and more M-4 tanks with bulldozer blades, at $67,000 are needed.

"We definitely have a long way to go yet" V. L. Clark, executive manager, Iowa War Finance committee, said.

"We still have an army and navy of 11 or 12 million men and women to maintain. Whether these men are fighting or not, they must be fed, housed and clothed and cared for in hundreds of different ways. That costs money and will continue to cost great sums until these men and women are demobilized and the army and navy is on a peace time basis. "Remember, millions of dollars will be required for mustering out pay for the various benefits and services voted by Congress. We cannot let these fighting sons and daughters of ours down now. We must realize that we've got a big job ahead and that the Sixth War Loan campaign must be a success.

"We want to urge everyone to realize the importance of buying bonds and doing their full share in the Sixth War Loan campaign."

County Quota Is $2,461.58

Many Organizations To Have Part in Sale

Campaign plans for the [illegible] Christmas Seal Sale, which [illegible] Monday, Nov. 27, were mapped [illegible] at the annual fall meeting of [illegible] Wright County Tuberculosis [illegible] sociation which was held at [illegible] Court House, Clarion, Wedn[illegible] evening, Nov. 15, according [illegible] announcement by C. To the People of this Community

The best way to observe the defeat of Hitler is to buy an extra War Bond. In thousands upon thousands of American homes today there is pride and sadness. From these homes have come fighting men who died to bring us this far on the road to decisive victory over all our enemies. It will take more sweat, more tears, more toil, more and greater individual War Bond buying before we see Japan in the ruins these barbarians of the Pacific planned for us. How much more blood and tears depends on every individual American war worker and bond buyer. The Sixth War Loan symbol—a bomb hurtling down on the Rising Sun—can only come to reality with your individual help. Buy at least an extra $100 War Bond above your normal payroll savings. That's the least you can do to back up your fighting men.

THANKSGIVING, 1944

The attitude of giving Thanks is more than the experience of one day's activities. It is a full time vacation. Too long have we as Americans, crammed our attitude of Thankfulness into one day. Too long have we associated it with ball games, turkey dinners and visiting relatives.

In the coming year we should be Thankful every one of the 365 days.

We have been spared invasion. We have been spared starvation. We have been spared tremendous suffering through casuality lists. We have not seen our cities go down in rubble. We have not been visited by any great plague taking its toll of diseased and dying.

We have been given food, enough and to spare. We have been given blessings for body, mind and spirit. We have been given a sense of world-wide responsibility. These things we have received.

For them we should be thankful, we should recognize the Giver, and we should go forth in Thanksgiving, seeking to be worthy of such privileges and blessings.

LOSS OF NAVY VERY SERIOUS TO JAPAN

Decisive defeat of the main part of Japan's navy, Business Week says in its weekly analysis of "The War and Business Abroad," means that:

"(1) Tokyo can no longer effectively defend its conquests in Burma, Malaya, the Netherlands Indies, French Indo-China, or the Philippines because it cannot deliver reinforcements.

"(2) Raw materials essential to Nippon's basic war industries cannot be guaranteed from any region south of Formosa.

"(3) The united nations, as soon as Manila is occupied, will attack Formosa, key to Japan's inner circle of defense. Without full naval strength and command of the air, Tokyo cannot possibly hold out for long in the four port which are keys to the entire island.

"(4) There is no longer any reason to plan an overland drive against Japan from southern Chinese bases nearly 2,000 miles away. With the Nipponese navy neutralized, the allies can continue their bold overseas hops in a drive straight for the China coast at the point where it is nearest Japan.

"The war in the Pacific may yet end in a great showdown on the plains around Tientsin and in southern Manchukuo (in which Russia almost surely will play a part,) and in devastating sea and air attacks on Japan's vulnerable industrial centers. Or in an amphibious invasion of the mainland from bases still to be won via the west coast of Korea."—Webster City Freeman.

We read some figures the other day that interested us. The Department of Commerce has estimated retail sales for 1944 at only 15 per cent greater than in 1939 and five per cent less than in 1941. However, it is pointed out that the dollar value of retail sales this year is estimated at an all time peak of 67 million dollars, which is an increase of 60 per cent over 1939 and 20 per cent over 1941.

Reading these figures leads one to wonder where we get all this talk of "holding the line" on prices. Apparently the line has been pretty well shot when such an increase is possible. Any housewife who does the buying for the family we believe will bear witness that these figures are somewhere nearly correct.

However, we believe that we can well be thankful to the price organization if it has kept prices of the food we eat and the clothes we wear and everything else that we use from going even higher.

These figures at least indicate the plight of the worker who has to pay these increased prices on a frozen salary which does not permit him any increase in income.

We sincerely hope that some genius some day will devise a way to bring these warring elements of our everyday life into equilibrium.—Grinnell Herald-Register.

If you just happened into the auditorium last week and saw some junior boys, Larry (correction O'Larry Dorr, Rich Wagoner or Les Classick hanging from the skin of their teeth, it's because they have been working on the curtains for the Junior class play and other plays in the future.

Since the Junior Class play is over it seems that there will be no more 500 games at grammas, does it Duane?

All the basketball boys are certainly giving more time to school work. I wonder why.

Girls in seventh and eighth grades are playing games that lead up to basketball. These improve skill in throwing and catching. Some of these lead up games are Newcomb, Punch Ball, Goal Keep Away and Field Dodge Ball.

EDITORIAL

Students from kindergarten to the twelfth grade grieved the death of Belmond's noted surgeon, Dr. Steele. His fine character and grand personality is an indelible imprint in the minds of all who ever came in contact with him. His friendliness will always be remembered by all of the children as well as the adults.

He was an inspiration to all of the youths of Belmond who will forever remember him as one of the grandest men that have been or will be connected with the history of Belmond.

He always placed the welfare of the public before his own comfort and personal desires. Dr. Steele strove for the betterment of this community to his dying day. His time was completely devoted to the sick and dying.

All of the students of Belmond Public Schools are very grateful that they were blessed with the splendid leadership of Dr. Steele and wish to express their deepest sorrow over the death of Dr. Steele.

To the People of this Community

The best way to observe the defeat of Hitler is to buy an extra War Bond. In thousands upon thousands of American homes today there is pride and sadness. From these homes have come fighting men who died to bring us this far on the road to decisive victory over all our enemies. It will take more sweat, more tears, more toil, more and greater individual War Bond buying before we see Japan in the ruins these barbarians of the Pacific planned for us. How much more blood and tears depends on every individual American war worker and bond buyer.

The Sixth War Loan symbol—a bomb hurtling down on the Rising Sun—can only come to reality with your individual help. Buy at least an extra $100 War Bond above your normal payroll savings. That's the least you can do to back up your fighting men.

THANKSGIVING, 1944

The attitude of giving Thanks is more than the experience of one day's activities. It is a full time vocation. Too long have we as Americans, crammed our attitude of Thankfulness into one day. Too long have we associated it with ball games, turkey dinners and visiting relatives.

In the coming year we should be Thankful every one of the 365 days.

We have been spared invasion. We have been spared starvation. We have been spared tremendous suffering through casuality lists. We have not seen our cities go down in rubble. We have not been visited by any great plague taking its toll of diseased and dying.

We have been given food, enough and to spare. We have been given blessings for body, mind and spirit. We have been given a sense of world-wide responsibility. These things we have received.

For them we should be thankful, we should recognize the Giver, and we should go forth in Thanksgiving, seeking to be worthy of such privileges and blessings.

LOSS OF NAVY VERY SERIOUS TO JAPAN

Decisive defeat of the main part of Japan's navy, Business Week says in its weekly analysis of "The War and Business Abroad," means that:

"(1) Tokyo can no longer effectively defend its conquests in Burma, Malaya, the Netherlands Indies, French Indo-China, or the Philippines because it cannot deliver reinforcements.

"(2) Raw materials essential to Nippon's basic war industries cannot be guaranteed from any region south of Formosa.

"(3) The united nations, as soon as Manila is occupied, will attack Formosa, key to Japan's inner circle of defense. Without full naval strength and command of the air, Tokyo cannot possibly hold out for long in the four port which are keys to the entire island.

"(4) There is no longer any reason to plan an overland drive against Japan from southern Chinese bases nearly 2,000 miles away With the Nipponese navy neutralized, the allies can continue their bold overseas hops in a drive straight for the China coast at the point where it is nearest Japan.

"The war in the Pacific may yet end in a great showdown on the plains around Tientsin and in southern Manchukuo (in which Russia almost surely will play a part,) and in devastating sea and air attacks on Japan's vulnerable industrial centers. Or in an amphibious invasion of the mainland from bases still to be won via the west coast of Korea."—Webster City Freeman.

We read some figures the other day that interested us. The Department of Commerce has estimated retail sales for 1944 at only 15 per cent greater than in 1939 and five per cent less than in 1941. However, it is pointed out that the dollar value of retail sales this year is estimated at an all time peak of 67 million dollars, which is an increase of 60 per cent over 1939 and 20 per cent over 1941.

Reading these figures leads one to wonder where we get all this talk of "holding the line" on prices. Apparently the line has been pretty well shot when such an increase is possible. Any housewife who does the buying for the family we believe will bear witness that these figures are somewhere nearly correct.

However, we believe that we can well be thankful to the price organization if it has kept prices of the food we eat and the clothes we wear and everything else that we use from going even higher.

These figures at least indicate the plight of the worker who has to pay these increased prices on a frozen salary which does not permit him any increase in income.

THANKS..

. . . for outstanding war production

This week we give thanks for a miracle . . . the miracle of wartime production that is saving our nation. In this miracle, all America shares . . . the farm side by side with the factory. And in the amazing records of farm-production, none outshines the record of the Dairy Cow. Fighters need dairy foods . . . so to our armed forces and Allies go tremendous quantities of butter and evaporated milk. Workers need dairy foods . . . so to men and women in our war plants, go bottles of milk by the millions. With so much extra demand for milk, you can't get all the butter you want, of course. But don't blame the dairy farmer. Along with the creamery, he's doing his best to meet the urgent needs of war. Before next Thanksgiving, he hopes again to provide you and all America with plenty of butter and all the other dairy foods so important to our way of life.

A Prayer of Thanksgiving God of our fathers . . . at this Thanksgiving time our hearts are filled to overflowing . . . our eyes, once wet with tears, are drier now . . . and broken hearts are surely mending because of Thy blessings unto us. A mighty fortress is our God! . . . And that Divine guidance which has always been our priceless heritage is showing us the way! For this we offer thanks. Thou hast stood beside our leaders . . . our loved ones, departed . . . and those who have remained at home. Thou hast given us courage and led us victoriously into battle . . . to build those things which Thou hast taught us to be righteous! For this we offer thanks. May we in turn bring to Thee, as proof of our devotion, the day when righteousness shall cover the earth . . . as the waters cover the sea.

Wright County's Sixth War Loan Campaign Has "Bogged Down"

22% of Quota Purchased to November 27

Report Shows Sales To Date Over County

"It seems that the Sixth War Loan has bogged down," was the statement made on Wednesday by C. J. Christiansen, Wright County War Finance Chairman.

On Nov. 27, Wright county had purchased only $274,490 in bonds towards the quota of $922,000, and this amount was sold to 1104 individuals. The amount purchased to Wednesday represented only 29 per cent of the county quota.

Chairman Christiansen urges every Wright county citizen to get on the band wagon and help get the job done. He says, "On Dec. 7 every citizen should take out a moment for quiet prayer and rededication to the war effort. Our bond quota should be met by tnat time."

The following statistical report shows how the issuing agencies have fared in their respective territories to Nov. 27. This report does not include post office receipts which were not available at this time.

Issuing Agents	Total Sales
Belmond	$ 35,956.00
Clarion	119,093.00
Dows	11,093.75
Eagle Grove	83,097.75
Goldfield	13,381.25
Galt	11,867.75
Rowan, not reported
Woolstock, not reported
Total	$274,490.00

The community quotas, as set up by a formula, are as follows:

Town	Total	E Bonds
Belmond	$184,400	$105,800
Clarion	267,380	153,410
Eagle Grove	239,720	137,540
Dows	110,640	63,480
Goldfield	60,760	37,030
Galt	27,660	15,870
Rowan	16,200	8,600
Woolstock	15,240	8,270
Total	$922,000	$529,000

Chairman Christiansen states further: "Information from the selective service board shows that over 1700 Wright County boys are offering their lives in the armed services of our country. Already many gold stars are appearing on the service boards throughout the county. Far less than the number of boys on the service rolls have responded to the call to purchase bonds. This is a matter that cannot be put off until tomorrow. General Eisenhowser has called for more ammunition. The boys expect us to come through with the money to buy it."

Urge Women to Reach "Pin Money Bond" Quota of $64,000

Mrs. Carroll Swanger, Wright County Women's War Finance chairman, announces the "Pin Money Bond" project as an all-out effort to enlist every woman in Iowa to buy a bond in her own name or as a co-owner during the Sixth War Loan Campaign.

Any organization, 90 per cent of whose members buy Pin Money Bonds during November and December, will receive the U. S. Treasury Citation.

Every woman is asked to participate in this campaign and thus do her share in filling Wright County's quota of $64,000.

"A "Pin-Money" bond, Mrs. Swanger explained, is any E or G series bond bought by any woman or girl in the county in her own name or with co-owner or beneficiary, during the Sixth War Loan Drive. These bonds will count on both the county "Pin-Money" quota and on the county war bond quota. Every county in Iowa is conducting a "Pin-Money" bond purchasing campaign.

O. P. A. Warns Merchants About Tie-In Sales Of Unwanted Items

Attention of the Belmond OPA office has been called to the fact that a number of local merchants are requiring customers to buy an unwanted item with another item which they wish to purchase.

OPA Maximum Price Regulation 423, Paragraph 11,442 says—"You must not, as a condition of selling any particular item, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation." This is a tie-in sale and is a flagrant price violation.

The offenders may not have been aware of the serious nature of the violation but they are warned that any customer complaint will necessarily have to be reported to the District Office for action.

It is the duty of any consumer or purchaser to report any such violation to the local office of the OPA in order to cooperate with the OPA Program which is for the protection of every American.

Broncos Play First Home Game Friday

2 Contests to Date Give Local Team 500 Percentage Wins

Local basketball fans will have the opportunity of seeing the Broncos in action on the home court for the first time this season on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock when they play Northwood.

This will be the initial contest in the conference and from all indications, a close game is expected.

To date the Belmond quintet has played two games and has a 500 percentage, winning from Dows 32-17 while losing to Webster City, 33-18.

The Broncos, third place contenders in the conference last year, are hard at work under Coach Lansing. The game at Webster City was not up to the coach's expectations, and a few changes may be made.

The past two games were played without the services of Les Classick, pivot player, and it appears as if Coach Lansing will use him at center. The forward positions will be taken care of by Roger Pals and George Tideback, while the guard posts will be protected by Larry Dorr and Hadyn Jones.

The squad this year is composed of two seniors; namely, Roger Pals and Paul Dempsey, while the remaining eight boys are juniors and sophomores as follows: Les Classick, Larry Dorr, Hadyn Jones, Daryl Beavers, Ray Waddington, George Tideback, Glenn Meints and Willard Meyers.

A special treat will be added for the opening home game when Goodell high school opposes the Belmond "B" club at 7:00 p m.

Mr. Luther from Scarville will officiate for the evening.

"SHOP EARLY" FOR CHRISTMAS

"Shop Early" is not an idle slogan this year- It is a vital wartime necessity in which both stores and public alike have a definite personal interest.

Being the logical and preferred shopping center of this area, Belmond will attract more Christmas shoppers this year than before. Naturally, your local retail stores again look forward to serving both new and old customers, but this year again certain shopping problems must be met.

Stores are short of help. Even with available "extras", few stores will have all of the help they want and need during the Christmas shopping season.

Uncle Sam is pleading for cooperation in not only shopping early, but also mailing early. The volume of mail already handled gives promise of being the greatest in the history of the nation. Early buying and mailing are absolutely necessary if packages are to reach their destination in time for Christmas.

It is the patriotic duty of both stores and their customers to do everything possible to avoid any "last-minute" shopping peak. The only way trouble and disappointment can be avoided is for everyone to do their Christmas shopping earlier this year than ever before.

MORE IMPORTANT THAN MONEY

The late Al Smith was an example of a man who held many things above mere accumulation of money. He left a modest estate of $15,000, yet few men have lived more fully than did Al Smith. He knew life in all its phases from the tenements of New York City up.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

Wishful thinking will not establish nor maintain peace. The men who fought World War I have, through the American Legion, offered this blueprint:

A will for peace.

Teamwork with other nations for peace.

A punch behind our will for peace.

Military training of our youth the core of that punch.

This blueprint recognizes the flower of America's manhood now fighting the war as a dominant force in leading our nation along the paths of peace to a happy and prosperous future when the war is ended.

It also recognizes the necessity of restoring disabled veterans to full ability to aid themselves to a life of useful citizenship, with victory and peace a hollow mockery unless those who fought to win them can share in them with dignity.—Mason City Globe-Gazette.

Every American ought to do at least one hour of combat duty—infantry style.

But that's not a practical idea and we know it. But until a man has done a doggie's job he simply doesn't know the score.

He doesn't know how danger punishes the human nervous system. He can't imagine what it's like to creep down a street of empty houses wondering if they're really as empty as they look. Hearing window shades flap and doors creak and expecting the crack of a Karbiner or the burp of a Jerry MG—the last sound on earth.

He doesn't know how much guts it takes to move forward a yard, a foot, an inch. How a second can seem a year and a minute an eternity.

Until he's lived and fought in the mud and blood, he cant' realize what an all-time miracle a doughboy is. To stick in there day after day after day after day. And night after night after night after night.

Until then, a worker can't understand what a murderous thing he does when he peddles supplies needed up front.

Until then, War Department officials can not attach enough importance to combat duty in administering its demobilization plan. Nor can they know the inequality of the present system of special pay and privilege for some—with just a few extra dollars a month for the man in the mud.

Until then, the nation cant' realize—as it cheers the greatest backfield of the greatest team in history—the job being done by the muddy, bloody men of the line.—Stars and Stripes.

(Editor's Note, In Pocahontas Record-Democrat: The above editorial should be an inspiration for every reader to do his or her full share in the Sixth War Loan Campaign.)

It would seem that the Greeks could be forgiven if, absorbed in their own tragic problems, if they paid scant attention to anything more than the task of trying to restore their own health, stability and prosperity. Yet their government has announced that the Greek navy will be at the allies disposal for use in the far eastern war.—Muscatine Journal.

MESERVEY

Funeral services for Will Messelheiser were held last Tuesday afternoon at the Evangelical church with Rev. S. H. Roser officiating, and a mixed quartet consisting of Mrs. R. C. Hill, Mrs. G. E. Raecker and Roland Wendel, singing several selections, and Dale Smith, Bob Gobeli, Bill Prelipp, Ernest Unverferth, Fred Sprau and Albert Haferman as pallbearers.

William Samuel Messelheiser was born at Madison, Wis. on Feb. 8, 1866 and passed away at his farm home north of Meservey on Nov. 19, 1944. He was the son of Mike and Anna Messelheiser.

Mr. Messelheiser was one of the pioneers of this community, having come here when but a young man. He broke the prairie on the farm on which he lived for over a half century. For many years he has been a member of the Farm Bureau, and since childhood had been associated with the Evangelical Church.

On Jan. 8, 1915 Mr. Messelneiser was united with Miss Frieda Carolyn Drewes and to this union were born a son Elmer of this community, and a daughter, Elfrieda, who lived with her mother. Together with a daughter-in-law and granddaughter, these all remain to mourn the passing of their husband and father. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Lydia Zieman of Thornton, Mrs. Emma Dobbert of LeMars and Miss Harriett Messelheiser of Chicago; and a brother George of Los Angeles, Calif.

Although besieged by asthma and heart trouble during the many of these later years, Mr. Messelheiser actively engaged in farm work up until a couple of weeks before he passed away. By nature he was quiet and unassuming, wholly engaged with family and farm interests. He was highly respected by his neighbors and an honored citizen of this community. Besides, he was loving, devoted husband as well as a kind and considerate father and gave support to everything that assured his family's welfare and community progress.

INVEST IN THE NEXT RAID ON JAPAN!

IT TAKES PLENTY OF WAR BONDS TO BUILD B-29s

THE WAR in the Pacific is the most costly war America has ever engaged in. It's simple arithmetic. A mountain of special, costly equipment is needed. A B-29 Superfortress used in the bombing of Japan costs $600,000 in War Bonds. And this is just one of the many extra costly implements of war needed to achieve final victory in the Pacific.

That's why the 6th War Loan Drive is so important. That's why you must back it as generously as you have every other war loan drive. Invest in the next raid on Japan...

Guests of Home Economics Girls

Classroom News From the Grades

KINDERGARTEN

The kindergarten children were guests of the Home Economics department one day last week. They watched the girls mix cookies and had a chance to cut out fancy cookies, decorate them with nuts and raisins and carry the pans to the oven for baking. They had freedom to explore the room at will, with high school girls happy to answer their questions. Next to the business of making cookies, the boys and girls seemed to enjoy most the garbage pail with its foot pedal to raise the cover.

Recent enrollees in the kindergarten are Larry Kinseth and Larry Schimp.

Comments On Algebra

Advanced or Otherwise

Who was it that said "t's not the problem that confuses you, it's the answer you get?" Oh, well, no matter it is certainly not far from true as witness an Algebra III answer in yesterday's assignment. Needless to say the answer was not as written but then I gues it is possible. At the present we are in the midst of exponents roots and radicals. Perhaps I should say, mist, or fog, as you prefer, since that is the way it affects many would be mathematicians, engineers or morons. Algebra I students seem to like Algebra very well and I guess if you really concentrate it's not so hard. All I ask is that someone stop ringing those bells in my head and please keep those men in the white coats from taking me back. Don't let what I've said in this column scare you out. Algebra is really a lot of fun after you get into the swing of it. Ask anybody..

New Freshman From Albert Lea, Minn.

A new freshman is Bradford Smith from Albert Lea, Minn. His favorite sport and hobby is football. When asked how he liked Belmond High School he said, "It's O. K. with me, we can have a lot more fun here!!"

While gaining one student we lost two other studens. They are Bonnie Lou Jansen who has returned to her former home in Iowa Falls and Leann Kinseth who is moving to Beatrice, Nebraska.

Heard and Seen On The Court

The basketball season has got under way. The team is practicing diligently and Coach Lansing is hard at it again. The prospects for a good team are large in number, with several lettermen of last year back again. Classick, Jones, Dorr, Pals, Dempsey, Tideback and many other excellent players make up the squad this year. It looks like a winning team so let's all buy and sell season tickets.

It seems as though a certain basketball letterman of last year lost most of his hair at the beginning of the season this year, why did he throw away his blond curls at Sheller's Barber Shop?

A school mate of most of us has been seen in the halls of B. H. S. again. He is Ed Banning who is in the Army Air Corpss. Ed still looks just as healthy as he ever did and hasn't lost his old nick-name of "Girls Banning."

I wonder why there was such a large boys cheering section at the game Friday, maybe it was to get up enthusiasm toward our own basketball team or else to???? The Chief just can't understand it.

EDITORIAL

"To err is human, to forgive is divine", a quotation from Alexander Pope. Every human being makes mistakes at some time or other but every mistake is not forgiven. Many people will not forgive other people for making mistakes but they always want their own mistakes forgiven. If they claim they don't care if they are forgiven they are telling you a falsehood.

Laughing at other people's mistakes shows the public that you would have made the same mistake if you were in the same situation—in other words it shows your ignorance. It not only makes the person who made the mistake feel twice as bad about their mistake, but you will be sure to be embarrassed at some future date when you make a public mistake.

If you value being forgiven at all you will be more lenient in forgiving the mistakes made by other people.

One thing that is most uncourteous is to constantly nag another person about some mistake they made in their life. It not only becomes very tiresome for the person but also for the people around. You will soon discover that your feelings will never be considered until you become more considerate of other people's feelings.

Whenever you make a mistake acknowledge it and you will find that it not only clears your conscience but a greater share of the time the public will forgive you.

To the People of this Community

Five billion dollars of the 14 billion dollars our country needs to press the war against our enemies must come from individual investors. That sounds like, and is, a lot of money. Actually success or failure of the Sixth War Loan is up to each individual American. Every war loan has been oversubscribed because Americans by the millions have shared its responsibility. Americans such as you have recognized the need of extra War Bond purchases over and above their normal payroll savings.

There is no such thing as a little fellow in a War Bond drive. Your War Bond purchases, multiplied by the War Bond purchases of your friends and neighbors, become fighting power which saves lives of Americans on the battlefronts and brings us nearer our common objective.

THE EDITOR

REAL ESTATE ASSESSMENTS

The Grundy Center Register recently discussed the problems of adjusting real estate assessments and made recommendation as follows:

Real estate in Iowa is assessed only once every four years. Next year real estate will be assessed again. There hasn't been any time for many years when there was so much importance attached to real estate assessment as there will be next year.

Real estate like other property should be assessed at 60 per cent of its sale value. What makes next year's assessments so important is because there has been an unusual advance in sale value of real estate during the past four years.

The sale value of all real estate in the county has probably advanced 50 per cent in the past four years. If assessments are to be made on the basis of this advance, they will be too high because the advance has not been normal and values of today in all probability will not hold during the next four years. If values of four years ago were to be continued they would be too low: if present values are taken as a basis they will be too high. A medium between the low and the high will have to be established and that medium must be used as a guide for assessors when they fix property valuations next year.

The state will recommend a basis for determining land values. The cities and towns will have to establish their own basis and the town assessors will need guidance to assist them in equitable valuation of real estate values within their area.

THAT BOY!

He wants to be like his Dad! You men,

Did you ever think, as you pause,
That the boy who watches your every move
Is building a set of laws?

He's molding a life you're the model for
And whether it's good or bad
Depends upon the kind of example you set
To the boy who'd be like his Dad.

Would you like him to go everywhere you go?
Have him do just the things you do?
And see everything your eyes behold,
And woo all the gods you woo!

When you see the worship that shines in the eyes
Of your lovable little Lad
Could you rest content if he gets his wish
And grows to be like his Dad?

It's a job that none but yourself can fill;
It's a charge you must answer for;
It's a duty to show him the road to tread
Ere he reaches his manhood's door

It's a debt you owe for the greatest joy
On this earth to be had;
The pleasure of having a boy to raise
Who wants to be like his Dad!

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

The president of the board of directors of the Easton, Pa., school district, Richard N. M. Snyder, addressed the 1944 Easton High School graduating class as follows:

What I have to say will necessarily be brief. I have no message or advice to offer. Rather, I want to apologize to you. After 2,000 years of Christianity my generation has dragged you through the worst depression the world has ever seen, and now to prove our unfitness we are immersing you in the most horrible blood bath civilization has ever known.

This mess that we are handing you is a flagrant case of adult delinquency. We now look to you for a better world. Despite your teen age, I believe that your jitter-bugging, boogie-woogie, and bobby socks represent a more mature mentality than our slot machines, politics and radio singing commercials.

We have given you the tools so that you might justify yourselves in the eyes of your children. Don't fail them as we have. Good luck and God bless you. —Belle Plaine Union

The veterans administration has already allowed pensions for 270,795 disabled veterans of this war. Of the claims allowed only ten per cent were for direct combat disabilities. Seventy-six per cent of the applicants were rated thirty per cent or less disability, and only seven per cent were totally disabled.—Humboldt Independent.

The United States navy today is more powerful than the combined navies of all other nations, and it is backed by a merchant marine equal to that of all other nations. The same is true of our power in the air. If [illegible] are smart enough to maintain that superiority after this war it will do more to insure world peace than any compact, the League of Nations pattern or any paper agreements among nations.—Howard County Times

Dogs attached to our armed forces have performed a real and [illegible] able service in this war. [illegible] hadn't, the [illegible] tal army and navy [illegible] used them. Now [illegible] dogs are being [illegible].

Most of them [illegible] returned to their [illegible] be sold.

It probably will [illegible] be necessary to urge on a [illegible] nation the need for a "veteran rehabilitation" program for these K-9 veterans which congress can't provide. Undoubtedly there will be more bidders than can be satisfied for these war dogs which, after a tour of strenuous duty, are now deserving of affection, cat-chasing, a warm corner, and other comforts of a well-regulated canine existence.

But it might be well if communities where these dogs are brought should welcome them as graciously as have the city fathers of Jacksonville, Fla., who have waived license fees for K-9 heroes honorably discharged from service. —Muscatine Journal

A very large majority of our people were glad, we believe, to hear that President Roosevelt told congress that lend-lease and reverse lend-lease "should end with the war." Many had feared that some lend lease assistance would be continued to some of our allies after peace is restored by the defeat of Germany and Japan. The United States has been very liberal in sending supplies of various kinds to all countries associated in the war on the side of the allies, but there is no good reason why that should be continued indefinitely.—Webster City Freeman

People seem never to be quite satisfied with the thing they are doing in life. It is a well known fact that persons who work on large newspapers or magazines, some rather important writers too, talk a geat deal about the pleasure and satisfaction of owning and running the small daily or weekly newspapers. Some go to extremes in their desires to be their own bosses, write what they please and "take it easy"—as they, in their ignorance, imagine. Quentin Reynolds, the Collier's Magazine correspondent abroad, tells of the time when a group in Connecticut of which he was a member put up two hundred dollars each and started a weekly newspaper called The Connecticut Nutmeg. "We were all editors" he said. "The editors and proprietors consisted of Quentin Reynolds, George Bye, Deems Taylor, Ursula Parrot, Jack Pegler, John Erskine, Stanley High, Colvin Brown and 'Gene Tunney (former prize fighter.) It was a lot of fun for one summer and all it cost us was our original two hundred dollars, which was reasonable enough."—Northwood Anchor.

Wanted: Action

Students Desire More Activities

The Student Council seems to be somewhat inactive this year. The Council is to represent the student body.

During the past years Student Council has done much for the benefits of the students. The job of the president is to get the different activities started. In the past years some of the things that were accomplished by the Student Council were fixing up of the recreational room, supplying each room with flags, presenting a carnival, establishing a social calendar and seeing that it was successful. There were many other activities that they arranged and accomplished also.

This year the students of Belmond High school want many other things, some of which are: fixing the gym floor so they can dance in it; fix the recreation room up so that it really looks like a recreatoinal; have many different kinds of parties such as sleigh rides, hay rides, and skating parties. Also many students are yearning for some action to be started toward a youth center.

It could be that the Student Council is waiting for some cooperation from the student body, so come on students of B. H. S., let's back our Student Council and have some action.

Broncos Defeat Northwood 41-42

Classick Tallies Fourteen Points

The basketball season was opened Friday night with a game that put every spectator on his feet. The Belmond five started the game with a bang by completely outplaying the Northwood five. Along about the second quarter, the Northwood team began to click together. The final quarter found our opponents in the lead. Now Belmond went to work.

With only a few minutes of playing time remaining in the game, and with a nine point margin to cover up, the Broncos stampeded. The remainder of the game was packed with thrills for both Northwood visitors and Belmond enthusiasts. The team covered that nine point lead plus one so rapidly that it left most fans on their feet and cheering. The final score was 42 to 41 in favor of Belmond.

In The Bronco Corral

'When It Rains It Pours' so goes an old and well worn adage. It seems particularly fitting this week with History and English assignments steadily piling up. Of course, that trip to Webster City cut down studying time immensely..speaking of Webster City, let's not talk about it...Ronnie Hunter really fooled several Webster City girls, they thought he was winking at them, the strange part is he was ...Les, doesn't look like the chicken pox slowed down your sense of humor...This advertising racket isn't so bad, is it Haydn???? What is that under your chin, Jean???... Jack McGuire seems to have a a good crop of soybeans this year.. Say, George, did you just go out for fresh air during the high school party???...Gene Nelson's loud heels are arousing a lot of comment from various sources.... Rocket had better find something to do during Home Room period or there is going to be a Rocket in the hall...Bob Rodemeyer will sell a muskrat cheap...Jake Gruis will buy one even cheaper...These slippery streets are convenient just in case you're in a hurry to go the other way...Marlys Parker doesn't play '500' but she knows another game—Rummy...I've got a green pen that doesn't belong to me. If it's yours claim it...If you have got something for this column tell me about it and I'll put it in. Within reason, of course.

Heard and Seen On The Court

Of course everyone thought the Northwood-Belmond game was a thrilling one. The final score ended up 42-41 in Belmond's favor. At one time though, the referee had to spend his time clearing the floor of Belmond's rooters who were so excited they probably thought they were playing.

That was also such a high scoring game between Goodell and Belmond's second five. The score was 2 -1 in Belmond's favor at the end of the half. In the last half, though the Broncos set the pace and the final score was 14-6, Belmond's favor.

I wonder how George Hinman and Jake Gruis feel about being set up as such "fine" examples of Belmond pep in rooting.

By the way where was Paul Dempsey Friday instead of being in the basketball line-up in assembly. You got a few claps, anyhow Paul.

Visits Water Works

Learns Fundamentals Of Water System

On Tuesday, Nov. 14, the freshman class visited the Belmond Water Works.

They saw many interesting things including the gas pump which is used to pump gas out of the furnace to the lime bed, the supply tank or storage tank which is used to store drinking water, the sand filters, beds of sand through which the water passes to be made pure, solutions used to test the water which are standard soap solution and acid sulpuric, the aerodator a machine used to remove the iron from the water and the storage bin for lime.

The process by which water gets into the water tower from the ground is an interesting one. The first step is getting the water out of the ground. This is done by a large pump which pumps water from six hundred feet under the ground. The water then goes upstairs to the aerodator room where the iron is removed from the water. From there it goes to the lime and alum beds where these substances are mixed with it. When this is completed it goes to a tank where gases are mixed with the water. It passes on to the filter beds where it is purified These filter beds are cleaned every day. It is then piped to the storage tank and from there to the water tower which is one hundred feet high and gives a pressure of forty-two pounds.

The cost of water is forty cents per thousand gallons and the minimum amount that can be charged is $1.38. They also found out that it takes five sacks of lime per sixty thousand gallons of water.

6th War Loan

The Sixth War Loan Drive is now on. Some of us may sigh and say "There goes some more of my hard earned money." That is definitely not the attitude we as Americans should take. We never hear our soldiers saying "I'm tired of it all so I'm going to quit fighting." Would you rather fight on one of the world's far flung battle fronts or give, perhaps ten per cent, of your income or spending money to help "our boys"? Of course if the choice must be made you would rather give your money—but are you? This strikes home to Belmond High School. Where is that old enthusiasm for buying War Stamps? How many of us are buying as many stamps or bonds as we did a year or so ago? What if the whole nation followed the example of B. H. S. in giving? Let's stop and think and then spend some of that money you earn to help America win this war as rapidly as possible. The war isn't won yet. Let's do our part as High School students in the Sixth War Loan Drive!

TIME LOST

The loss of a wrist watch now is something that is "hard to take" but Kenneth Nuehring of Guttenberg was glad it was only his wristwatch that had been injured. Nuehring was working with a young horse and the animal kicked. One foot grazed Nuehring's wrist, taking the watch and some hair off his arm, but not a scratch was suffered by the young man.

FIRST NON-RESIDENT LICENSES

W. O. Elliott, Peoria, Ill., and Louis Behnke, Morton Grove, Ill., were the first purchasers of non-resident hunting licenses in Jones county.

WARM FALL

The recent fall weather has been a "break" for some farmers. Aaron Vanderhof of Alta reported that a second crop of barley on his farm would soon be ready for a cutting. Mr. Vanderhof also stated that a second growth of oats are about three feet high and look better than last spring.

NEW ATTRACTION

don herold says:
If we make this, well need some iron, some rubber and some money

Among the raw materials which any factory needs is money.

It may need steel or rubber or asbestos or cork or oil or all of 'em —and maybe other things. But the first thing it needs is MONEY.

You could call 10,000 workers together and they couldn't turn a wheel without somebody's money to pay for the wheel and some raw materials with which to make the product.

The only way to get this money is to "rent it" from people (stockholders) who have been thrifty and smart and lucky enough to save more than they've spent.

If these people are too scared by exorbitant taxes or by politicians to risk their money, the 10,000 workers mentioned above will just stand around with no tools or "ingredients" to work with. THAT is what we don't want to happen in America after this war.

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT THE

SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

AS WE MOVE closer to victory, it wouldn't be surprising if you were saying to yourself — "What's the big idea of asking for all this additional money now? Isn't the war almost over?"

No sir, it is not! Not by a long shot. Of course, for many months now you've heard mostly about the war with Germany, where our greatest effort is concentrated. That's why many people have the idea that the war's practically over.

But make no mistake about it—nothing could be farther from the truth! The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way.

Everything Costs More—in the Pacific War

The European war is expensive, but almost everything in the Pacific war will cost more. Take transport costs, for instance: Because of the longer distances, the same amount of freight costs 25 per cent more when shipped to the South Pacific than to Europe. And it takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size because turn-around time is twice as great!

More Planes . . . Tanks . . . Ships . . . Oil

In addition, we shall need more of everything. More B-29 Superfortresses that cost $600,000 each. More P-47 Thunderbolts that cost $50,000 each. More M-4 Tanks, with bulldozer blades, that cost $67,417 each. More amphibious tanks—more aircraft carriers—more supply ships—more gasoline and oil than it took for the invasion of Europe!

Care for the Sick and Wounded

And lest anyone forget, we shall need more battalion aid stations—more clearing stations—more evacuation hospitals—more convalescent hospitals—more hospital ships.

For many, many years the sick, wounded, and otherwise disabled veterans will require medical attention and care. That's the least Uncle Sam can do in appreciation of what they've done for us.

Maintenance for Millions

Did you ever stop to think how much money it costs to maintain the 11 to 12 million men and women in our army and navy? Whether the men are actually fighting or not, they must be fed, housed, transported from one training center or battle area to another, cared for in a hundred and one different ways. That all costs money and will continue to until the last man demobilized is back in civilian clothes.

In addition, millions of dollars will be required for mustering out pay, for various benefits and services voted by Congress to help the boys get started in civilian life.

These are reasons enough why patriotic Americans will want to buy heavily during the Sixth War Loan. But here are still more—

Winning the Peace—for Your Country

If we're to win the peace as well as the war, the cost of living must be kept down and the purchasing power of money preserved. A reckless inflation that would necessarily be followed by the catastrophe of deflation—with its unemployment, bankruptcies, misery and heartache—must be prevented at all cost.

Let's make no mistake—a dangerous period lies ahead. The American people have nothing to fear, however, if they show in the future the same common sense they have shown in the past, and continue to put every penny over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of more and more War Bonds.

Winning the Peace—for Yourself

Want another important reason? Yourself! There isn't a better or safer investment in the world today than War Bonds. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Never in our entire history has it been so necessary to save as right now. We'll need money, individually, for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—and we'll need a lot of it.

As you can see there are many reasons, important reasons, why our Government must have the financial support of everyone, and have it for many months to come.

Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.

WAC Friend Writes Mrs. Courson

Sleep In French Mud

Tells of Trip on Way to Paris

Mrs. R. E. Courson received a letter recently from Sgt Mary L. Thomas, a special friend of herself and her daughter, Lt. Clara Jane Courson, in which she describes the trip when she and two other officers took a group of WAC's from England to France. "Tommy" was with Clara Jane while in training at Oglethorpe and was in England for seven or eight months before the trip to France. Her letter in part was as follows:

..."Left here with our women one morning, very, very early in a very heavy fog and mist. We rode in GI trucks for several long hours and finally reached the port. Everyone was tired and hungry at this stage so while awaiting to board the ship we ate C-rations and they were cold at that, but still we enjoyed them.

"Around 1:00 o'clock we walked up the gang-plank and were shown to our staterooms. The ship was very beautiful and the accommodations were out of this world That night we had steak and it was great...We had three grand meals on the boat the next day and even had tea at four. It was all too good to last for long, but those two days of luxury will not be forgotten for a long time."

"That night we climbed down the rope and on to a landing barge and headed for the beach it took us over an hour and a half and it rained all the way....we were all soaking wet when we did get to the beach, but we were too excited to even think about the rain.... After weaving in and out through the other ships and passing many that were sunk on D-day, we reached the beach head, only to step in mud up to our knees.

"We were put in open trucks and taken about two miles to the area where we were to stay. Arriving there we found tents already set up for us...The tents were large enough for 10 women so everyone started getting ready for the night It was still raining, and the floor in our tents was very muddy and wet, but we just put our blankets on the ground and went to bed. We all laughed about the whole thing because it was such an experience for all of us After three days of this, three trucks arrived to take one of the officers and her group off, so that left the other officer and me sitting there waiting for our trucks. Each day it rained a little more and the mud got a little deeper. but the deeper it got the more fun we had. All this time we were living on K-rations and C-rations and water. Those rations are very good and serve the purpose, but one surely does get tired of them. The next night the trucks came for the officer and her group of women and they all climbed aboard and left only me there with my women. We were beginning to believe we were the lost battalion...

"By the way we had only two canteens of water the whole time we were there, and I didn't wash my face but once, and then we would put out our canteen cups in the rain for water to brush our teeth We would build fires in the middle of the tents to keep warm, but the smoke would get so thick and we nearly choked to death. We finally had a brain storm and would wear our gas masks in the tents and they really worked.

"The fifth day there, I got word that the rest of us were to leave at ten that night. Everyone packed and sat in their tents waiting for me to give the final word. The trucks arrived at five the next morning. Everyone was so tired and sleepy that we no longer cared whether we ever left the mud. When all were loaded and we started to pull out, the third truck was stuck in the mud. Well, that was the end.

"It was a most interesting trip Some of those towns in France are nothing but a pile of stone and debris, and it is really heart-breaking to see some of those sights that we passed on the way to Paris."

Sgt. Thomas wrote this letter after returning by plane to London to train a new group of basics.

NO, DEER!

Neal Boersma, Inwood, wasn't out after a deer but he got one anyway in a round-about way. A deer came in contact with the car driven by Boersma on the highway near Canton, South Dakota, and came out the loser. Mr and Mrs. Boersma escaped injury in the accident. A game warden called from Sioux Falls handled the details of disposing of the dead deer A man from Minnesota topped Boersma's bid for the animal so the Boersma's hadn't much evidence to show that they had really "gotten" a deer.

COYOTE PACKS

Farmers in the Inwood vicinity have reported coyote packs numbering 10 to 20 are roving the hills and fields.

4TH WAR-WINTER TO BE TOUGH ON CARS!

Mom and Pop and the Car...

"That reminds me, George ... we'd better have our Standard Oil Man give the car its regular 60-day oil change."

A lot of cars that seem to be going strong today won't be able to "stand the gaff" of the 4th war-winter. Sticky sludge that can clog oil lines, unseen rust and corrosion inside the motor, will cut down many cars. The situation calls for proper preparation for winter driving.

Now, of all times, use top-quality motor oil. Use instant-flowing, full-bodied, sludge-resisting, low-in-carbon oil. Use Standard's famous Iso-Vis 10 W, the full-protecting, fastest-starting, easiest-on-the-battery 10 W motor oil. Get Iso-Vis 10 W today.

And while you're doing it, make sure your car has all-over protection. Arrange for a complete service "package" that covers the vital spots . . . get a 4th War-Winter 10 STAR TUNE-UP at your Standard Oil Dealer's.

A Little Planning Goes a Long Way

at Holiday Time

Furloughs and essential business trips will tax travel facilities during the holidays. To those who find it necessary to travel during this difficult season, we offer these suggestions:

Plan ahead. Discuss your trip with our representative ... at the City Ticket Office, or passenger station. Our employees, though busy war workers, will always try to help make your trip more pleasant.

There is a mighty good reason why all of us must plan more carefully right now. This year, the ROCK ISLAND LINES' passenger traffic is almost six times as large as it was in 1939, yet war shortages have prevented our adding new coaches, diners and Pullmans to handle the year 'round increases, let alone the heavy holiday burden.

Allow flexibility in your plans as to dates of departure and arrival. A suggestion that you change to another day, or an earlier or later train, is just our way of trying to eliminate unnecessary discomfort for you.

We firmly believe that COOPERATION, given in the truly American manner, is the finest way to solve any problem.

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation

THEY'RE REMEMBERING

TODAY DEC. 7

We're remembering a lot of things on this anniversary of the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japs on Dec. 7, 1941. We're remembering, of course, that we owe them something in kind. We're remembering that buying War Bonds helps pay them back in kind. We're remembering that the 6th War Bond campaign is on and that this day is the logical day for Americans to buy an extra bond during the drive. We're remembering that the drive total is $14,000,000,000 and that the Japs won't feel so good to know that their Dec. 7 treachery evoked a peak day in War Bond sales. We're remembering, too, that Christmas is almost here and that an extra War Bond is the gift "with a future."

Double Attraction In Basketball Tuesday

To Hold Coronation Of Queen at Game With Lake Mills

A double attraction is in store for Belmond basketball fans next Tuesday night, Dec. 12, when the coronation of the 1944-45 Basketball Queen takes place in connection with the Lake Mills-Belmond game.

Lake Mills, though defeated earlier by Garner, recently won over Alden, Minn., and is expected to give the Broncos the toughest kind of opposition.

The local basketeers, after winning by the narrowest of margins, a basket in the last 20 seconds of play, over Northwood last Friday slumped Tuesday against Eagle Grove, losing by the score of 34 to 26.

The Eagles, though lacking the height of the locals, showed more speed and better ball handling to spring a surprise victory. The Belmond players were off form in basket shooting, taking 40 shots during the game and connecting with only 8.

Much interest has been shown among the student body in the outcome of the election of basketball queen, results of which will not be made known until the evening of the 12th. Vote is by secret ballot in connection with season tickets sold. The sale of tickets this year has far exceeded last year's mark.

Six candidates, sponsored by the various classes from 7 through 12, are in the running; they are Doris Christie, Betty Green, Grace Meints, Doris Easton, Loretta Rubendall and Eunice Mehl.

The ceremony of coronation which will take place between halves of the game, is in charge of the Pep Band and the Pep Club, directed by Miss Hansen and Miss Gantenbein, respectively. This will consist of a processional of the queen and her attendants, and the awarding of the crown to the successful candidate by Don Hewlett, president of Student Council.

20% Response In Christmas Seal Sales Is $90.00

Boxes at Drug Stores and Benson's Office For Contributions

Only 20 per cent of people of Belmond who have been contacted through the mails in regard to the purchase of Christmas Seals had been heard from by Tuesday, but the size of the individual purchases indicated the possibility of a new record for Belmond.

According to Supt. Johnson, local chairman of the drive for funds to fight the menace of tuberculosis, the 20 per cent of responses now in have totaled over $90, not quite half of the total collected last year.

Last year the total collected in Belmond was $198, as compared with $159 in 1943. It is hoped that the amount raised this year will go well over $200.

For the sake of convenience to contributors, boxes have been placed in the two drug stores and in the office of C. C. Benson, in which purchasers of stamps may deposit the envelopes containing their contribution. The committee originally planned to carry on the entire campaign by mail, but now feels that the presence of boxes in the places mentioned, will expedite the project.

A major share of the money collected in this drive is used annually at the county and local level. Each year the state association sponsors a case-finding campaign and a clinic in the county. In addition, last year every high school student in the county was given an opportunity to have a chest X-ray examination free of charge. The Belmond Public Schools, as the agency sponsoring the sale each year, was allocated $101 last year for use in its health program. This money was used to help defray the expenses of 23 tonsilectomies performed during the summer.

Telephone Companies Make Post-War Plans

Work on Program to Improve Farm Service

A joint committee of representatives of Bell and Independent Operating Companies throughout the United States, with which Central Telephone Co. of Belmond is cooperating, has been formed to advance the nation-wide postwar programs which the various telephone companies have been working on individually to extend and improve farm telephone service, it was announced today.

Co-Chairmen of the committee are John P. Boylan, President of the United States Independent Telephone Association, the national organization of the thousands of independent telephone companies, and Keith S. McHugh, Vice-President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, representing the Bell Operating Companies.

"Rural telephone service is more highly developed in this country, under the American system of private enterprises, than in any other country in the world," Mr. Boylan and Mr. McHugh said today in a statement issued by them for the committee. "However, it is by no means as highly developed as we in the industry want to see it, and the industry intends to do everything in its power to provide more service, and better service, at a cost which the farmer can afford.

Since operating telephone companies throughout the whole country have been working on this problem, a representative joint committee has been formed consisting of a number of their most experienced officials. We believe that the application of new facilities and methods which were under development by the industry before the demands of war interrupted our research and construction program will help to bring telephone service to many new farm customers. As soon as war demands are reduced, we propose to resume and expand our research effort and, along with it, the intensive program for extending farm service which was being carried on before the outbreak of hostilities.

Mayor's Proclamation

Invokes Belmond Citizens to Aid in Grocer-Consumer Anti-Inflation Program

Whereas the price ceilings are essential to the wartime welfare of the citizens of Belmond and of the merchants who serve them,

Whereas, during the Second World War, military victories will not immediately remove the dangers of disastrous inflation, and

Whereas, for some time to come we will face inflationary dangers that could rapidly destroy from within the very security our Armed Forces are fighting to protect,

Therefore, I, Mayor of Belmond, invoke each citizen to participate wholeheartedly in the Belmond GROCER-CONSUMER ANTI-INFLATION CAMPAIGN by frank and friendly adherence to our ceiling price program.

Christmas Shopping In Belmond Is Both Pleasant and Profitable

Ceiling Crashes

While Mrs. Phoebe White was working in the kitchen of her home last Saturday evening, she was startled by a loud crash and wondered if an automobile had collided into her house. Going into the living room, she discovered that about half the ceiling plaster had fallen to the floor, upsetting furniture, pulling pictures from the wall and overturning a lamp as it came down. Mrs. White recalls that her home was built over 60 years ago, and that she has never known an accident of this kind to happen in the house before. No cause was found for loosening such a large area of plaster, which measured about 6 by 12 feet.

Used Car Tires Ration Free

Result of Scarcity, Not from Existence Of Adequate Supply

Removal of used passenger car tires from rationing this week resulted from extreme scarcity and NOT from the existence of an adequate supply, it was declared by C. C. Benson, chairman of the local war price and rationing board.

In recent months distribution of used passenger car tires had become very spotty, with holders of ration board purchase certificates being unable to find suitable used tires in many areas, he explained. Thus it had become apparent that rationing of such tires had ceased to serve any valuable purpose and had become an unnecessary burden on local boards. Because of this and also because most of the used tires still available need repairs and recapping to make them serviceable, OPA decided to remove them from ration controls.

Used truck tires will continue under rationing, Chairman Benson emphasized. He also explained that in removing used passenger car tires from rationing, OPA also changed the definition of Grade I tires to include factory seconds and tires made of reclaimed rubber. Both of these types, as well as new and undamaged synthetic rubber tires, will continue under rationing and may be bought only upon presentation of purchase certificates issued by ration boards.

All tires, both new and used, are under price control. Purchasers have been urged to note whether dealers have their maximum prices posted and to check the ceiling price of any tire they intend to buy.

Cpl. Joseph Skarr Describes England

Was Impressed By Church Services

Cpl. Joseph O. Skaar wrote the Independent describing some of his experiences shortly after landing in England early in November. His letter, in part, reads as follows:

"I have just spent my second Sunday here in ———, England. Today my buddy, Pfc. Rodney Benner of Mason City, Iowa, and I attended services at the Church of England...The service was quite a bit like ours, and I must say that they can really sing. Then we were invited to tea at the Reverend's house.

"His home is over 200 years old but looked very good yet and is quite large..but different from ours...their water system and electric lights are also different...no stoves or furnaces but old-fashioned fire places and all the different tools that go with them.

'The Reverend told us that the church was built in 1200, and we saw tombstones at the grave yard dated in the 1500's and 1600's.

"English highways are not as wide as ours and their automobiles are just a little larger than the Austin...The English money is what gets us. We are getting three-day passes to different cities now and I guess we will visit London. We have been to Plymouth and it has seen quite a little of the war, too.

"The boat ride was pretty good except for a couple of days of rough weather when the teeter-totter just didn't agree with some of us...I saw whales, sharks and flying fish...I will say that the sunset and sunrise on the ocean is quite a sight....

"The English people talk a little different than we do but are very friendly and hope this war will be over soon. This then is England, and as we are bound to say now in order to speak the language, 'Cheerio, old top—pip-pip, 'aw what's the use."

Stores Display Variety of Toys and Gifts

Considering that this mond's third wartime Chris we were pleasantly surprised, our trip through the local to find such attractive stocks Christmas goods. There are kinds of useful, practical gifts be found, very attractive plenty of toys and luxury too.

Of course, we are not that it is a wartime C The First State Bank reminds in their fine advertisement in issue that today, Thursd 7, is Pearl Harbor day, for us to really show that we member that disaster by more and more War Bonds. Bonds and stamps will be used for Christmas gifts in community, which has shown loyalty in every bond drive.

But the boys at the front think that Christmas is place back home much as when they could be here— want to hear about it afte when families write to tell how much they were missed that day as on all others.

Getting back to Belmond one of our first visits was made the Schultz Drug company, we found a grand selection. line of cosmetics is most plete, they have many att toys, some beautiful leather two lines of bright pottery that useful as well as ornamental, lovely jewelry items. You tice in their advertisement in special Christmas issue that are featuring a lovely new you'll want to know about.

Crossing the street with folks in mind, we visited C. McGuire's clothing store, gifts of every kind of wearing parel for men and boys are played. We were particularly terested in the fine men's the wool sweaters, the line of shirts and the jackets. A gift of a boys' or suit from McGuire's would any Christmas one long to be membered.

Another store we enjoyed ping in was Elliott's which has one of the most plete stocks we have seen in time. Toys are being there and they have many, kinds for all ages. The ovenware and Pyrex items took our eye, and we saw granite ware than we there was left anywhere. The lery stock is unusual too, fine knives, singly and in sets, with steel blades. The Aladdin lamps would surely make a ful gift for a farm home.

Ben Franklin Store really like Santa's gift "Gifts for Her," "Gifts for H "Gifts for the Home." Besides there is a splendid array of toys, dolls, books to fulfill hopes and expectations of boys and girls on Christ ing.

No Christmas trip would complete without a visit to the mond Greenhouse, where lovliness can be bought by the armful. When a girl or woman receives a gift of flowers, or a lovely potted plant, on Christmas morning, you may sure that thought will be membered. Flowers and flattery go hand in hand, and don't you

Wright County Has Only 49% Of Sixth War Loan Quota

County Chairman Says, "Remember Pearl Harbor" today and Do Your Duty."

"There are just eleven more days to make our bond quota of $922,000 in Wright County's Sixth War Loan Drive." C. J. Christiansen, Wright County War Finance chairman, stated on Wednesday.

Official figures reported from the various sales agencies in the county indicated that $448,756.70 had been sold to Dec. 5th, which represents only 49 per cent of the quota. It was reported also that "E" bond sales were lagging even farther behind the quota than the total sales.

Total sales of bonds at the First State Bank of Belmond to Wednesday, Dec. 6, were $91,049.41. Belmond's quota is $184,400.

Chairman Christiansen urges everyone to remember Pearl Harbor today, Dec. 7, saying "Let this be an added incentive to move people to do their duty in putting Wright County over the top in meeting the Six War Loan quota."

Personal solicitations are being made in various parts of the county in an effort to meet the quotas assigned before the end of the campaign.

The state war bond office describes as "soft, dangerous money" the all-time record of cash and currency in the hands of Iowans who have in their possession approximately $343,750,000 in currency and silver.

This figure is based on treasury department day to day figures, and is an estimate by the research section of the Iowa War Finance committee.

Officials of the committee were of the opinion that a large percentage of this money was hidden in safe deposit boxes, mattresses, and sugar bowls, where it did not earn anything or help in the war effort, and in some cases where it could be easily lost, stolen or destroyed.

By putting this money into war bonds, it is safe from theft, or other destruction, because Series E war bonds are registered bonds and can always be collected upon, even though the original bonds may have been destroyed, the committee says.

"War bonds have other advantages not found in cash or currency," the committee report says. "They bear approximately 3 per cent interest if held until maturity, and thus form what might be termed 'interest bearing currency.'

"If just a part of this cash and currency could be placed into War bonds right now, we would be far along toward our goal for the Sixth War Loan campaign, instead of in the serious plight of being behind on the pattern for the drive," V. L. Clark, executive manager of the Iowa War Finance committee, said.

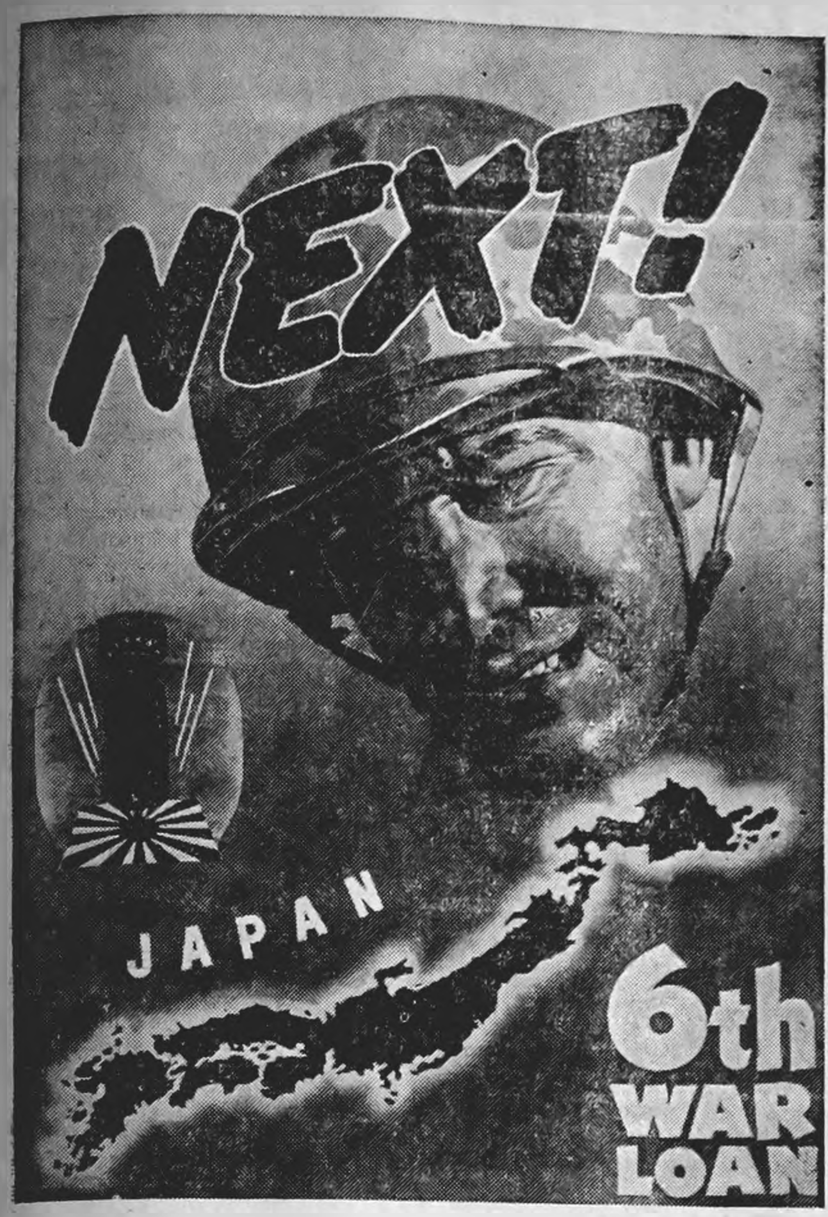
DEC. 7th - BEAT THE JAP, BUY A WAR BOND



Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every waking moment for a sky-darkening cover of friendly planes. They thank America for giving them the finest medical care in the world when their rendezvous with destiny in a Pacific jungle is at hand. They know the war with the Japs is just beginning.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success:

The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing.

In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month. The Jap cannot leave his job, change it, or strike. The highest daily wage equals about three American dollars—30% to 75% of which goes to taxes and compulsory savings.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.

Telephone—

telephone pole lines serving rural areas have already been built so that more than two-thirds of al rural families in the United States can be served from exising lines Since 1935 more than 500,000 additional families in rural areas have become telephone subscribers —an increase of 35 per cent. One of the major objectives is to continue this upward trend by making the service over existing lines increasingly valuable and attractive. This the industry intends to do to the limit of its ability.

A second major objective is to extend service at reasonable cost to families not now reached by existing lines. Telephone industry research in the last several years has successfully developed new construction materials and methods which substantially lower the cost of building wire lines to areas not previously reached. In addition, work was started by the industry in 1938 to develop a practical system of transmitting telephone conversations over electric power lines. A similar system can be used over telephone lines to increase their capacity. This so-called rural carrier system transmits a very high frequency current over the wires. From 1940 on, experiments with this system for telephone service over rural power lines were carried forward in a cooperative effort of Bell Telephone Laboratories and the Rural Electrification Administration. Before this work was interrupted by the war, it was clear that a suitable system of this kind could be produced.

One practical effect of these developments is to make it physically possible to furnish telephone service wherever there are rural power lines and no telephone lines The Telephone Companies plan, in cooperation with the R E. A. Cooperatives and with power companies serving rural territory to determine the full extent to which rural carrier telephone service can be used economically and effectively.

The telephone companies also plan to study the possible application of microwave radio systems to rural telephone service and to make use of this and any other new methods which will be helpful in serving the farmer."

TO STUDY CLOTHING IN WARTIME

Mrs. Helen Scott Sage, Extension 4-H club clothing specialist, Iowa State College, discussed conservation of clothing with 24 local club leaders, assistants, county committee members and older 4-H girls at the first leaders training meeting at the First Lutheran Church in Clarion on Tuesday, Nov. 28. All but one 4-H club was represented.

With the wartime clothing outlook as a background, Mrs. Sage emphasized the need for 4-H girls to adjust the present clothing situation.

4-H girls will learn to identify fabrics in order to know how to better select and care for them.

The second lesson will cover simple tailoring steps for new and remodeled garments. In view of fabric shortages, the girls will also learn to repair used clothing.

Christmas Shopping—

men forget it! Of course, this is the place to get a lovely plant to send to those old folks on your list, to whom the winter is long because all or nearly all of it must be spent shut-in.

Down the street to the Adams Pharmacy, where the lovely fragrance of Old South toiletries greets you as you come in the door. This is a truly beautiful line of cosmetics which you will want to see for yourself. In addition, this store has a variety of lovely gifts which defy description because they are of so many kinds. But you will spend a pleasant hour or two choosing gifts, there, we know.

Gamble Agency has many fine toys for the children as well as practical gift suggestions for the grown-ups.

And speaking of the ladies, there's many a lovely gift for them to be found at Sue Fritz' Hat and Dress shop. Costume jewelry is close to the feminine heart and there you will find a grand assortment. And other lovely things to wear ,pastel sweaters, pretty scarfs, blouses, underthings. Or a new Christmas dress would make the holidays a great occasion for any girl or woman.

At the Coast to Coast Store, we found a nice selection of toys, priced to fit any pocketbook. Here is a fine assortment of glassware and kitchen ware of all kinds. Tools are suggested as father's Christmas gift and you will find a complete line at this store.

Our trip finished. we were convinced that Belmond stores have an abundance of gifts to help make this year a happy, merry Christmas for every member of the family, both at home and those away with Uncle Sam's armed forces.

About this time on any shopping trip, it is time to rest a bit, so we stopped in at the Mello-Maid store and enjoyed some of that delicious ice cream. Such a grand dessert for Christmas parties and dinners—as eveyone likes it and it saves the hostess much preparation.

Another one of those sure-to-please gifts is to be found at the Flower and Gift Shoppe. Those clever little pieces of pottery, which come in nearly every color, filled with a bit of ivy or cactus, are always popular. This shop can supply you with cut flowers and blooming potted plants for your Christmas giving.

Just before starting home, we went to Pete's Candy Kitchen to buy a pound of his good homemade candy. That peanut brittle is delicious. Pete also has some handsome boxes filled with chocolates that any man would be proud to give to his girl.

35 Classifications Federal Jobs Open In Panama Canal Zone

Federal jobs are open in 35 classifications in the Panama Canal Zone, one of the nation's most vital war centers, according to Fred F. Desing, area War Manpower director.

Jobs range from shipbuilding and repair work to cafeteria attendants and customs guards. All activities of the Canal Zone are under federal operation, and Area Director Fred Desing urged interested persons to visit the local U. S. Employment Service office to see if they are qualified for any of the openings.

Transportation is furnished accepted applicants by rail to New Orleans, and thence by plane to the Canal Zone. Housing facilities are available for individuals, but it will be three months before workers will be permitted to bring their families because of the present lack of family quarters.

A 48 hour work week is now in force in the Canal Zone, with overtime pay for all work over 40 hours.

Broncos Victorious Twice in Past Week

Travel to Forest City Friday Night To Meet Bisons

Victorious in two conference games within the past week, the Belmond Broncos travel to Forest City tomorrow night (Friday) to face the Indians.

Belmond and Garner are at the present time leading all the other teams in the Conference with perfect records of three games won and none lost. Forest City was nosed out by Garner last Friday night by a one-point margin. The Indians are expected to have their usual strong team, and will give Belmond a close game. Among their victims so far this season is the Eagle Grove team which defeated Belmond.

The Broncos defeated Lake Mills here Tuesday night 40 to 30 with Les Classick, center, leading in scoring with 15 points. A much shorter Lake Mills team resartel to a close man to man defense in an effort to stop the Belmond team, and threw a scare into the local fans by taking an early lead. However, this was soon erased, and the locals forged ahead in the second quarter, largely due to a hot streak of basket shooting by Daryl Beavers. Beavers made three successful one-hand shots from difficult angles to take the lead, and Belmond led the half-time 20 to 19.

The Broncos continued to widen the lead in the last half, the final score being 40 to 20. Coach Lanning used nine men and the reserves showed up surprisingly strong.

Last Friday night the Belmond cagers won over Buffalo Center 39 to 32 after halting a last quarter rally by their opponents. Long shots by the Bisons kept them in the game most of the way, but the outcome was never in doubt until the last quarter when a successful flurry of baskets put them within three points of Belmond. The rally fell short, however, and the Broncos won handily. Les Classick led in this game also with 13 points.

Loretta Rubendall Crowned Basketball Queen Tuesday night

In a special ceremony between halves at the Lake Mills game here Tuesday night, Loretta Rubendall was crowned Queen of Basketball for 1944-45.

Loretta was chosen by a large majority of the votes of the students in the Belmond junior and senior high schools.

The ceremony consisted of a queen; and her attendants; Doris processional - - made up of the Christie, Betty Green, Grace Meints,, Doris Easton and Eunice Mehl; a page boy bearing the crown, Marlin Cunningham—from the east door to the throne at the west end of the gymnasium.

The crown was placed upon the Queen's head by Don Hewlett, president of the high school student council, who afterwards conducted the party to the place of honor in the stands.

The queen and her attendants were all in formal attire, the attendants wearing corsages and the queen carrying a large bouquet.

123 Bushels Was High Yield in Corn Contest

Myron Hill, Grant Township Topped 36 County Entries

A yield of 123 bushels per acre topped the 36 entries in the Wright County 1944 10 Acre Corn Yield Contest sponsored by the Wright County Farm Bureau.

Sixteen of the 36 fields were checked officially with nine of these fields yielding 100 bushels to the acre or more.

The high yielding field was on the Myron E. Hill farm in Grant township. The official yield was [illegible] bushels per acre and was a 10 acre rectangular section taken from each acre of the 10 acre field. This field has been in pasture for two years, was fall plowed and planted 40" each way. All yields in the contest were on a 15 per cent basis.

Second highest yield wac 115.02 bushels to the acre on the farm operated by J. Ross Mechem in Lincoln township. This was spring plowed land which was in clover pasture in 1943. This field was drilled 9" apart with 40" between rows. An application of three tons of barnyard manure was applied to this field per acre.

Third highest yield was on the H. P. Pick farm in Lake township. This field was in clover-timothy pasture in 1943. Seventy pounds of phosphorus fertilizer per acre was applied on this field and was planted 38" each way. This yield was 112.66 bushels per acre.

The soil management plus a good stand were the two most important factors affecting the yield. The past history of all fields where 100 or more bushels to the acre was secured showed that they were in fields which had been in legume pasture or hay in 1942 or 1943. The farmers who had 10 acre fields which yielded 100 bushels to the acre or more will be awarded a medal by the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers Association

Other high yielding fields on which official yields were checked were as follows: Oscar Holmes, Blaine township, 109.79 bushels per acre, fall plowed alfalfa, check planted 38" by 40"; Robert Ransecow, Blaine township, with a yield of 105.60 bushels per acre, alfalfa and red clover with 150 pounds of 0-14-7 commercial fertilizer per acre and was check planted 41" by 42"; Ollie Klinger with a yield of 103.28 in Liberty township, fall plowed red clover pasture with four tons of manure applied per acre and with corn check planted 40" each way; Harry Christenson of Eagle Grove Township with 102.94 bushels per acre, fall plowed alfalfa field, drilled 12½" in the row with 38" between rows; Lawrence Murphy, Grant township, 101.73 bushels per acre on a fall plowed alfalfa field on which 200 pounds of 0-16-4 commercial fertilizer had been applied. This field was drilled 12" apart with 38" between rows; Fred Gates of Lincoln township, 101.40 bushels per acre on a fall plowed legume pasture on which had been applied six tons of manure per acre. This field was checked 40" each way; Edwin Varo, Norway township, 99.82 bushels per acre on a fall plowed legume pasture field on which 240 pounds of 0-14-7 commercial fertilizer had been applied per acre and six ton of manure per acre. This field was checked 40" each way; George Miller, Wall Lake township, 97.06 bushels per acre on a fall plowed legume pasture on which had been applied two tons per acre of manure. This field was checked 40" each way: Howard Hansen, Iowa township, 94.46 bushels per acre on a fall plowed red clover pasture with four tons of manure per acre checked 40" each way: Rammer Goeman, Pleasant township, 93.40 bushels per acre on a field of sweet clover pasture in 1942 followed by beans and flax in 1943, three tons of manure applied to flax ground and checked 40" each way; Cliff Hill, Liberty township, 92.92 bushels per acre on fall plowed sweet clover pasture checked 40" each way; John

Cpl. James Waddington In Air Transport Command Of Army

Has First Furlough Since Entering Service Early in '43

Cpl. James Waddington, who entered the service early in 1943, was in training only a few weeks with the Air Transport Command of the Army Air Force when he was sent on overseas duty, and had his first furlough when he returned to the States Nov. 21, 1944, arriving in Belmond to visit his wife and family a few days later.

When Jim left the states in March 23, 1943, he was sent to Australia, arriving there on April 10. On June 28 he flew from Australia to New Caledonia and from there flew to the Fiji Islands, where he was stationed a year until June 28, 1944. During the time he was there, he was Squadron Supply clerk. After his duty on the Fiji Islands he was sent to Hawaii via the Canton Isles by air and was in charge of the Tool Room and Technical Supply, Aircraft Maintenance until he came home to the States, in November

The Air Transport Command is that part of the Army that sets up airlines all around the world. Over these all kinds of cargo and people are flown. There are large civilized terminals such as those in Australia, America or Hawaii and there are terminals in the theatres of action where the men work in spite of Jap bombs and gunfire and malaria mosquitos and where solitude, boredom and confinement are other enemies they must face.

In the Air Transport Command's some of the men work in operations, following the progress of the planes, dispatching them, checking their safe arrivals, listing their contents, their weights, their range. Some work in communications, some in the freight gang, some are grease moneys, others do the administrative work, kitchen work, carpentry, plumbing, etc.

After his furlough, Cpl. Waddington will be assigned at an Air Transport base on the West Coast.

Farmers Get Dividends From Cornbelt NFLA

Over 500 farmers in Wright, Hancock and Humboldt Counties have now received checks totaling $11,143.50, representing dividends on stock they own in the Cornbelt National Farm Loan Association, it was announced yesterday by Charles Troyer, president of the association.

The Board of Directors declared this 4½ per cent dividend on all stock of the Cornbelt NFLA, credit cooperative, outstanding on August 31, 1944.

A short time ago, said Mr. Troyer, the Federal Land Bank of Omaha declared a dividend on its stock which it owned by the National Farm Loan Association in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wyoming. This has enabled us to pay a dividend to our Association members.

The Cornbelt association's president said land bank officials in a recent meeting with the associations presidents and secretary-treasurers, emphasized the point that this was "the resumption of a dividend paying program." Resumption of dividend payments was made possible by greatly improved agricultural conditions, said Troyer.

Improved condtions also made it possible to eliminate fees on all Federal Land Bank loans made after Sept. 1 of this year, he added.

The Cornbelt National Farm Loan Association has loans totaling $4,500,000.00 outstanding to farmers in Wright, Hancock and Humboldt Counties. Jay Vendelboe is secretary-treasurer of the credit cooperative. Directors in addition to Mr. Troyer are Emil Bock of Belmond; M. L. Thompson, Kanawha; Jelske Cramer, Blairsburg; and Henry Goeman, Belmond

Don Herold says:
Why, I didn't know Free Enterprise meant me!

Some people think that free enterprise is for big business people alone.

But that is wrong. A little business man is a free enterpriser. A farmer is one. A factory worker can be one. He can be free and he can have enterprise (meaning ambition, dreams, energy, initiative.)

Anything which reduces your freedom or keeps you from enjoying the rewards of enterprise is bad for you. Your own fears may do this to you. Your employer may do it to you. Your union may do it to you. Your government may do it to you. By too much control.

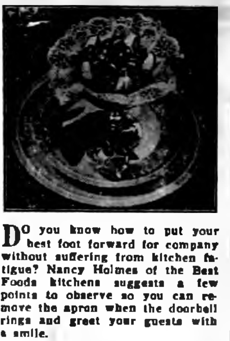
Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS



Do you know how to put your best foot forward for company without suffering from kitchen fatigue? Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens suggests a few points to observe so you can remove the apron when the doorbell rings and greet your guests with a smile.

Set the table, making sure that the silver is highly polished, the crystal gleams, that all serving pieces are handy. Plan food that is simple and easily served—but plan garnishes and such to give it an attractive air that will inspire your guests' appetites.

One simple dish that Nancy suggests is Bouquet Appetizer Salad. It is made of only three fruits with a delicious real mayonnaise variation but, as you see, it is so beautifully dressed up your guests will be impatient to begin.

BOUQUET APPETIZER SALAD

2 pears, peeled, sectioned	Chicory or salad greens
1½ cups grapes	Fluffy mayonnaise
½ cup maraschino cherries, halved	OR Appetizer mayonnaise

Remove center from 8-inch paper doilies. Paste doily border around upper edge of glass sherbets. Arrange fruit and chicory in sherbets. Serve with Fluffy Mayonnaise or Appetizer Mayonnaise.

To make Fluffy Mayonnaise: Fold ¼ cup real mayonnaise into small, stiffly beaten egg white.

To make Appetizer Mayonnaise: Beat ¼ cup real mayonnaise and ½ cup French Dressing together until smooth. Yield: 6 servings.

Science Class has been interesting. The children have been finding out some new things about the sun, moon and stars.

Notes From English Room

The Freshman English Class has been doing work with conjugations, declensions, synopsis, and sentences using them for the past three weeks. In class we do work with them and then our assignment for the following day is similar to the work done in class. In that way we have a chance to ask questions and receive help with what we don't understand. We usually stay on the same idea of work for about two days.

Also, once a week we have a spelling lesson of twenty-five words which we have studied from work sheets a few days beforehand.

A book report is due once every six weeks from each English student. The books must all be written by different authors and each book must be approved.

Even though English is hard at first, after you get on to it, it really is much fun and quite simple.

K. H.

The sophomore English classes have been studying verbs, their uses, and their conjugation. Thus far only the active and passive voices of the indicative mood have been taken up. The next topic of study will be the active and passive voices of the subjunctive mood

The students are now working on a required assignment which is a written description of some character whom they have especially noticed.

EDITORIAL

We in Belmond are very lucky to have such a very good basketball team this year. Our team shows good sportsmanship and courtesy at the games but the student body could show better courtesy at them. For instance, at the Northwood game. when the referee called a foul on our team, the student body booed his decision. That is a very bad example of courtesy. Also when their team received a free shot we made as much noise as we possibly could, but whenever our team got a free shot we expected everyone to be quiet so he could concentrate on his shot.

It is true that we are becoming more known as a basketball town since we got our new gymnasium, but we must also have the name of a COURTEOUS basketball town. That is how we judge others when we go away and that is how they get their impression of our school when they come here. It is expected that everyone should have pep and school spirit at these games, but shey should be directed in the right channels. We should accept the decision of the officials because they know the rules and it is very seldom that you will find a referee who is prejudiced

Let's get behind our team in the right way and help bring the conference title to Belmond this year.

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"There are probably still some G.I.'s who would not give their last cigarette or blanket to Ernie Pyle. But nothing that any G.I. can scrounge from another is too good for him." This glowing tribute to one of our top war correspondents was recently paid by Time Magazine, and from all we hear Ernie Pyle more than deserves it.

ERNIE PYLE

His book on the African campaign, "Here Is Your War," sold over a million copies, all told. His new book, "Brave Men," which covers the war from the Sicilian campaign to the liberation of Paris, is the Book-of-the-Month Club selection for December. A special feature of "Brave Men": the author lists every service man with whom he talked and the name of his home town.

Ernie Pyle hates war, everything about it except the men who are fighting it. He tells about it in all its grimmest aspects: the thousands of dead on the Normandy beach-head—and among the litter and debris, thousands of sheets of blank letter paper, on which the men had planned to write home about their first visit to France. He tells innumerable heroic exploits; among his "brave men" was the wounded English flier, pinioned for eight days under his plane, whose first remark to his rescuers was an apology for the trouble he was causing them.

But there was one glorious moment: "I had thought that for me there could never again be any elation in war, but I had reckoned without the liberation of Paris. . . . The streets of Paris are very wide and they were packed on each side. . . . The women were all brightly dressed in white or red blouses and colorful peasant skirts. . . . Everybody was throwing flowers."

Ernie Pyle says he didn't hear any classic remarks when the American troops entered France, such as the famous "Lafayette, we are here," of the last war. The nearest to it was made by an ack-ack gunner, sitting on a mound of earth about two weeks after D-Day reading the "Stars and Stripes." All of a sudden, he said, "Say, where's this Normandy beach-head it talks about in here?" Pyle realized he was serious and he told him, "You're sitting on it." The gunner looked up in surprise. [illegible] never knowed [illegible]

OBITUARY

MRS. R. D. BOX

Mary Martha, daughter of Joshua and Abigail Leonard, the seventh child in a family of eight children, was born on Jan. 30, 1873 in Tama County, Iowa. When she was eight years of age her parents moved to a farm west of Belmond on the south bank of Morse Lake. It was a venture into pioneer country. They knew the hardship of those early days. Her father purchased some sheep sheds and sodded them for their first home at Morse Lake.

She attended the county rural schools and later enrolled at Ellsworth College in Iowa Falls for a time. For five years she taught rural schools in Iowa and South Dakota.

She was united in marriage to Ross David Box at the parental Leonard home, on Sept. 8, 1896, with the Rev. Mr. T. D Sands officiating. To this union five children were born, the first child having died soon after birth.

After their marriage they farmed for two years west of Belmond. After a short time in South Dakota they returned to Iowa and settled in Clarion. After seven years in Clarion they returned to South Dakota. They purchased the parental Leonard farm, moving on it in the spring of 1914. There they resided for 28 years.

In March of 1942 they moved to the home they had purchased in Belmond, where they have since resided.

On Nov. 21 of this year Mrs. Box fell in her home suffering a broken hip and a broken leg. She was taken to Iowa City, where an operation was performed from which she was showing much improvement, when heart complications caused her death on Tuesday morning, Dec. 5, 1944, at the age of 71 years, 11 months and five days.

Mrs. Box was a member of the Golden Rod Rebekah Lodge of Belmond.

Those who knew Mrs. Box best knew her to be of a cheerful disposition. Her pride in life was her home and her family. Her thought even in her illness was not for herself but for others. She liked to help her loved ones and friends, though it caused her to deny her own wants. Out of the pioneer of her young life she developed the value of patience. Patience coupled with a sense of humor helped her over many of the rough places of life.

She leaves to mourn her departure her husband; one son, Rose of Royal Oak, Mich; three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Menke of Clear Lake, Iowa; Mrs. Ruth Van Haaften of Bellevue, Neb., Mrs. Bernice Anderson of Galt; one brother, Arthur Leonard of Belmond; two sisters, Mrs Mariella Berryman of Nora Springs, Iowa, and Mrs. Alice Reynolds of Oakland, Calif; also ten grand children, and many other relatives and many firends.

Funeral services were Friday at 2:00 . m. at the Methodist church, H W. Faris officiating. Interment was in the Belmond cemetery.

HAROLD ARVIN ELLIS

Harold Arvin Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Ellis, was born on Jan. 5, 1920 in Wells, Minn. He was baptized in early infancy by the Rev. Ganschow. He attended a school close to Belmond, and the Belmond public schools graduating with the high school class of 1938.

On April 9th, 1933 he confessed his faith publicly, being confirmed by the Rev. Arthur Langholz. He was united in marriage to Gertrude Braun on Oct. 13, 1940.

He attended barber school and after completion of the course, worked in Belmond briefly as a barber. Later he worked in a San Diego, Calif., aircraft company.

In September, 1943, he enlisted in the Army Air Corps, entering the service from his home town. His basic training was at an army base at Amarillo, Texas. From Lowry Field, Denver, Colo., he attended gunnery school at Harlengen Field, Texas, there winning his air corps wings. His last training was at the heavy bomber combat flying base at Tonapah, Nevada.

His death came on Nov. 17 in a plane accident in which his fellow crew members also met their death.

Mourning his untimely death are his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Ellis, a son, Steven Wayne; his father and mother; sisters: Mrs. Viola Angus, Sheffield, Mrs. Helen Cross, Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Laura Braun, Limo, Ohio, Mrs. Lorraine Boyington, Belmond, Marilyn and Eleanor at home. One brother, Donald, serving with the U. S. Navy in Florida, also survives him.

Funeral services were held in the parental home and in St. John's American Lutheran Church, on Nov. 24, Rev. H. Senft officiating. Military rites were held at the cemetery. Six American Legion members of the Eimbrink Post of Belmond served as pallbearers.

This may seem a little harsh but not a few of us have to agree with the statement in a recent magazine article that: "Human intelligence has about hit bottom when some of the tax-supported pensioners of various kinds are enabled to live better than many of the taxpayers." Northwood Anchor.

Some editor has suggested that Hitler go back to paper hanging when physically and mentally fit. But he has become so used to hanging people, especially Jews, he would hardly know how to hang paper, and he was not a very good paper hanger when he followed the business, as he had his mind on something else, dreaming how he was going to make a living without honest toil. The best thing Hitler can do for himself, for Germany and for the world is to hang himself, and we wouldn't be surprised if he does that.—Webster City Freeman.

It would seem that the first project for any community to tackle in the matter of aiding returning veterans would be to provide a reservoir of available living quarters. Without first solving the housing situation, all other plans, regardless of how well worked out and how complete they may be, will be more or less wasted. If we want our service men to return and establish themselves happily in civilian life, we must first be able to offer them suitable living quarters for their families.—Mitchell County Press.

Already there have been hundreds of warnings against the dangers of monoxide gas from automobiles in closed quarters and the casualties and fatalities hidden in moving power farm machinery. Yet the reports of accidents from those causes are appearing with sickening frequency in newspapers from coast to coast. Sometimes one wonders if there isn't enough common sense in the world to go around.—Northwood Anchor.

Wright County Buys Over A Million In Bonds

"Over the Top" Of Quota In A Big Way

Sales In Belmond Go Over $200,000

Announcement was made this week by C. J. Christiansen, Wright county War Finance Chairman, that Wright county had gone "over the Top" of the Sixth War Loan Quota in a big way by Saturday, Dec. 16.

Total sales in the county to last Saturday, the day the drive was to have ended, were $1,001,007.85 as compared with the quota of $922,000. The county also exceeded its "E" bond quota of $529,000 with total sales reaching $570,865.

Bonds purchased through the First State Bank of Belmond through Wednesday, Dec. 20, soared to a total of $201,390.00, going far beyond the quota set for this territory of $179,000. Belmond was still about $6,000 short of its "E" bond quota of $106,000 by Wednesday.

Roy Henderson, chairman of the campaign for Belmond, said this week, "The local committee is very well pleased with the total sales reported from this community, but is disappointed in the fact that we have failed to meet, as yet, the "E" bond quota. We urge the people in this community to make a special effort to buy as many "E" bonds as possible before the extended time for the Sixth War Loan Drive expires on December 31st."

County Chairman Christiansen made the following statement on Wednesday. "I am a very happy man over the outcome of the 6th War Loan in Wright county, and I wish to thank all the people who cooperated in the purchase of bonds to make the drive a success as well as the many volunteers who helped with the work."

Christiansen reported that the following towns in the county had all exceeded their quotas by Saturday night: Belmond, Clarion, Eagle Grove, Goldfield, Galt, Rowan and Woolstock. All of these towns, with the exception of Belmond, had also gone over their "E" bond quotas.

1st Conference Defeat Handed Broncos, 15th

Nevada Team Plays Here Friday Night

The Belmond Broncos suffered their first conference set-back last Friday night when the Forest City Indians defeated the local team 37 to 23.

This defeat cost the Purple and White the lead in the conference standing which is now held by Garner. The Broncos are now tied with Forest City, both teams having three wins and one loss.

In losing last Friday night's game, it is believed that the Indians hold a so-called "jinx" over the local quintet, the loss was the third straight in two years, even though the Belmond aggregation was stronger this year.

The game Friday night was a loosely played contest with both teams playing ragged ball. The home boys were never in the lead and threatened only in the third quarter when they came within four points of the score.

In the opening minutes of the conflict, Forest City made three rapid baskets, mostly through interception of poor passes. After taking the lead in the opening minutes of the game, the Indians were never in danger. During the first half of the game, the score stood at 19 to 7 with the opponents leading. It was during the first two quarters that the Broncos couldn't penetrate the defense and registered only two baskets from the field.

The scoring honors for the night went to Bartlesen, the "hot shot" from Forest City who tallied 12 markers. Roger Pals was high man for the Purple and White with 5 points.

This coming Friday the local fans will have the opportunity of seeing the fine Nevada team in action on the home floor. The preliminary game will be played at 7:15 when Rowan opposes Belmond's "B" team.

So far this year the Nevada team has won three games and lost one to Ames high school. Among the teams they have defeated was Dowling high school of Des Moines on Dec. 19 with a score of 36 to 35.

Last year the Brncos won over Nevada 33 to 19 when they played the team on the Nevada floor.

The boys who will make the trip to Belmond include the following: Seniors—Peterson, Leeper, Haynes and Hand; Juniors—F. Evans, W. Evans, Knight, Marshall and Soper; Sophomores—Boyce. all letter winners.

Probable starting line up will be Peterson, center; Boyce and F Evans, forwards; Leeper and Haynes, guards.

Captain Finn Returns From

25 Months In Pacific

In Belmond after 3½ Years

Captain Clair Finn and wife are spending part of his 30-day leave visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Finn, Belmond, whom he hadn't seen for three and a half years.

Captain Finn entered the Marine Corps four and a half years ago as a volunteer, took his basic training at San Diego, Calif., was commissioned a Lieutenant (J. G.) July 15, 1942, and promoted to the Captaincy in March, 1944. He had been overseas on Pacific duty for 25 months before his return to the states about two weeks ago, when he was hospitalized at Arrowhead Springs, San Bernardino, Calif., for treatment of malaria, which he contracted in the south Pacific.

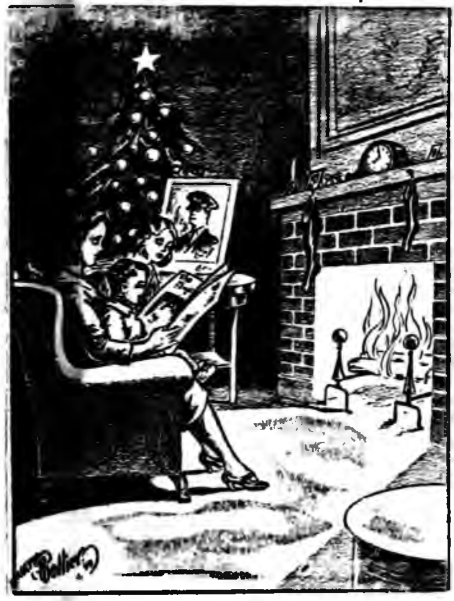
He was with the light artillery of the [illegible] Marine Division, [illegible] on Guadacanal, Tarawa, Saipan and Tinian. It is the job of the light artillery to follow the first assault waves of the Marines, supporting the infantry from 500 to 1000 yards behind the front lines.

Captain Finn doesn't have much to say about his experiences on the Pacific war front except that he "came too darn close to the Japs" and "spent quite a bit of time in fox holes."

About Belmond, he says, "It seems just like the same old town. Faces and places haven't changed much."

Captain and Mrs. Finn will leave on the 28th to visit Mrs. Finn's parents at Defiance, Iowa, over New Years and will then return to San Bernardino where he will enter the hospital there for further treatment.

A DREAM OF CHRISTMAS By COLLIER



"Re-Indorse Gasoline Coupons," Says OPA

Iowa automobile owners who endorsed their A, B and C coupons with old license numbers of their cars need only re-indorse them with their new 1945 plate numbers to be in full compliance iwth OPA requirements, it was declared today by Walter D. Kline, director of the Des Moines OPA district.

State authorities recently announced that a single metal plate will be issued each automobile registrant for 1945 and that this plate must be affixed to the rear of the car. Since no new metal plates have been issued in Iowa since 1942 the numbers for that year have been used in endorsing all A, B and C gasoline coupons upon their receipt by drivers from OPA war price and rationing boards.

Since the 1942 plates now carried by Iowa automobiles will soon become obsolete, the Des Moines OPA district director has received numerous inquiries regarding the validity of A. B, and C gasoline coupons endorsed in advance with old license numbers.

"The solution to this much-magnified problem is quite simple" Kline asserted. "Automobile owners need only re-indorse their coupons with their 1945 state license plate numbers, either on the face of the coupons if space permits or on the reverse side of them."

"Man From Frisco" At Lyric Theatre Sunday, December 24

"Man From Frisco", screen story of Henry Kaiser's amazing revolution of the shipbuilding industry, will be shown at the Lyric Theatre on Sunday, December 24. Michael O'Shea and Anne Shirley head a large supporting cast.

"Two Girls and a Sailor," originally billed for December 24, 25 and 26 will be shown on Monday and Tuesday, December 25 and 26.

To Take 1945 Farm Census Early In Year

Information Covers Items Relating To Agriculture

Aaron R. Bowman, Wright County Extension Director, reminds farmers of the county that soon after the first of the year they will be called upon for the 1945 farm census.

This is the regular farm census taken every five years under the provisions set up by the act of congress. Most farmers are well acquainted with the type of information wanted, covering farm acreage, land values, crops, livestock, and other general items relating to agriculture.

The important thing to remember is that the farmers themselves will benefit most by all-out cooperation with the farm census enumerators. The schedules will be long, covering 12 pages, and it will take some of the farmer's time to give complete answers. However, the farm census has a very definite purpose, giving agricultural leaders the information they need for planning national farm programs for the farmers' benefit.

All census information is confidential and will be used only by the Bureau of Census. It will not be made available for purposes of taxation or investigation.

Training Schools For Census Enumerators

The Second District of Iowa, Bureau of the Census, with headquarters at 714 Snell Building, Ft. Dodge, Iowa, announces the following dates for the schools of training for Enumerators:

Algona—Dec. 20, 21 and 22.
Carroll—Dec. 27, 28 and 29.
Fort Dodge—Jan. 3, 4 and 5.

Anyone interested in attending a school and becoming an Enumerator is asked to contact this office immediately.

High School Groups and All Grades Will Participate

IT'S THE THOUGHT THAT COUNTS THIS CHRISTMAS

It is the thought that counts this Christmas thoughts of our boys and women off to the wars... thoughts of the big job we have to do here at home to help them all we can...thoughts of the peace to come and how to insure that peace.

Christmas is a time for people all over the world to call a halt to the worries, confusions and hatreds of a war-torn globe...Thoughts on Christmas go back to simple faith ...Go back to that day in Bethlehem, when a savior was given the world. And as we quietly think of that day, a feeling of compassion comes to us. Our hearts lighten and we wonder about the mistakes of man. But we do not despair—only grow stronger in our faith for a better world to come.

We pray God on Christmas that he will help us to be strong, help us to end tyranny and fear and put back in the hearts of man Faith, Kindness and Love for all.

Christmas always brings thoughts of peace, and this year, above all, our hearts are filled with the hope that soon there will be real "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

SUPERIOR RACE

We have heard a great deal about the "Superior race." When we look at the record made by the United States in this war in four short eventful years the question presents itself, have not we, with no thought of trying to do so, created a superior race? Where else in the world could the world have gone four years around and found a people that not only could raise and train a magnificent army of infantrymen, sailors and fliers that have no peer in history, and at the same time build a navy and a merchant fleet that surpasses the dream of any empire builder the world has ever known. And, in addition to this, arm and feed and equip the armies of two great nations—all within the space of four years. Nothing short of a superior race, superior in every way, could have accomplished such a thing—superior not by design, but as a result of a way of life that makes for a great people.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

There were only 400 strikes in October, involving 220,000 work hours. Oh, well, that's only nine-tenths of one per cent of the available time that might have been used in useful work, the Federal Labor Department explains. As a matter of information why couldn't they compare that with the number of strike hours the men in military service lost—especially those fighting on foreign fronts and crawling into dirty mud-holes and cess pools to sleep at night?—Northwood Anchor.

Planes are on drawing boards or in the process of construction that should forever silence the pessimists who claim that the age of adventure and new frontiers is over. We have hardly begun to push back the frontiers, a fact that Americans are going to find out for themselves when they can start traveling again.—Sheffield Press.

Although we grant that one can reside in the country on less money than it takes in the city, there seems to be an idea afloat in cosmopolitan centers that living in the country is practically free.

Ask any inhabitant in Pocahontas county and he will tell you that one can still live beyond an income in rural centers the same as in the metropolitan settlements. To maintain a farm there may be milk, butter and cream, eggs and chickens, pork tenderloins and beef steaks, but to get food you must buy feed, and the price of feed is no small item. Surely vegetables from your own acreage is fine, but don't forget to add to it such incidentals as tools, fertilizer, seed for instance, and you have more than applesauce and tomatoes and canned corn. There also seems to be a matter of taxes, insurances, maintenance and probably hired hands, to add up to making life in the country not accomplished on little or nothing.—Pocahontas Record Democrat.

Generalissimo Chiang Kaishek insists the prospects for a united China is now excellent and that harmonious operations with American forces are assured. Which sounds good, but will sound much better when proof of the promised co-operation is a fact established.—Sioux City Journal.

Nothing could be more American than ice cream, and to that extent at least Americans may incline to sympathize with the home-front situation of the British, who have had to go without ice cream for 4 years. Ice cream is popular with the British, young and old, so the concept of an America without ice cream may well be applied to a Great Britain without ice cream—for 4 long years. Oelwein Register.

Ninety-four life insurance companies doing business in Iowa had close to two billions of dollars of policies in force in the state at the beginning of 1944. This is an average of over $765 for every man, woman and child and is in addition to 133 millions of insurance carried in fraternal societies These figures pay tribute to the look-ahead training of Iowans. Laid down beside thousands of family-owned homes, freedom from debt and bank accounts of Iowa citizens, they are indicative of the industry, thrift and provident nature of our people.—Clear Lake Mirror.

Those who like to collect things could make an interesting hobby of collecting rumors about Hitler. One rumor says he is dead, another says he is mad, still another says he has fled to Japan. Now comes the London Daily Express with the assertion that Hitler isn't Hitler at all.—Waterloo Courier.

CARRY RATIONS TO FRONT LINES

With the First Cavalry Division on Leyte— Private Herman H Pruisman of Kanawha, Iowa, can think of better things to do than carry rations. He once carried rations 27 miles in 24 hours, through a typhoon, swamps and jungle Rations were needed by front line troops. It was up to Pruisman and his group to get them there. Each man shouldered a 45 pound case of rations and his weapon. The trip was through muck-filled swamps, tangled jungle trails, and rain-swept mountain passes. Once the groups got lost and were misled by a Filipino who was actually a Jap spy. The ration train was saved by geurillas who knew the spy.

Pruisman is the son of Mr. F. W. Pruisman of Kanawha, and a graduate of the Belmond high school at Belmond, Iowa. A former farmer for Otis Cook of Belmond, Pruisman joined the army in 1942 at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He received his basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif. then joined the First Cavalry at Fort Bliss Texas, and came overseas in 1943. Pruisman fought with the Division through the Admiralty Islands Campaign

CHRISTMAS
Greetings
1944

IN THESE LAST SHORT DAYS OF 1944

when beaming faces tell that Christmas is very, very near, we are reminded again of the supreme value of friendship. He who has no friends, though he may have amassed a fortune, cannot be happy.

We have many friends in this area—friends from many years back as well as friends who have become friends during this past year. These friendships are a great source of pride and happiness to us.

To all these friends we wish a very Merry Christmas Season.

THE STAR IN THE EAST

Down through the ages has come the story of the shepherds tending their flocks at night, awed by the Star in the East.

During this sacred season, mellowed by the thought of those who cannot be with us, we have abundant reason for gratitude. We have come a long way since the dark Christmas of 1941. The Star in the East shines brighter now.

That this may, indeed, be a Merry Christmas for you and yours is our ardent wish.

Classroom News From the Grades

Third Grade News

We have been having several absences because of colds and chicken pox. There have been a lot of tardy people lately, too.

We made decorations for our Christmas tree and have put them on it. Most everyone has finished making Christmas gifts so we are almost ready for Christmas.

We have been studying about the care of teeth in our Health work. Now we are studying about the framework of our bodies and how to build strong bodies.

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade has a new student, Tommy Ostrand, from Des Moines. We are glad to have him with us.

Those who got an A in spelling are: Judy Baker, Donald Busick, Joan Dorr, Delores Faris, John Flynn, Betty Clare Henderson, Adelaide Jenison, Rolland Kling, Larry Knudson, Jeanette McGuire, Shirley Meyers, Thelma Meyers, Frances Palmer, Odean Severseike, Ruth Kalkwarf, Lynne Tyrrell.

We drew names for our gift exchange. Our tree and fireplace look very nice.

Several of our pupils have come back from their sickness.

Fourth Grade

Martha Ostrand is a new pupil in the fourth grade. Martha moved here from Des Moines.

In Science we are studying the structure of animals: animals with and without backbones. These include the study of fishes, amphibians, reptiles, mammals, birds and insects.

Francis Chapman, Jack Johnson and Mavis Pierce have returned after a week's illness.

In reading we started our new reader, "Singing Wheels" This is a story of pioneer life stating historical facts in an interesting narrative style.

Staff Holds Skating Party

Roller Skating Party Proved to be Successful

The Hoofbeats skating party at Lake Cornelia last Thursday evening, Dec. 14, was a huge success.

In spite of the fact that several invited guests did not show up because of pressing engagements, there was a considerable number of skaters.

Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves though they were forced to wear coats, scarfs, gloves while skating. Winter, you know.

Cars were provided by various members of the student body.

Heard and Seen On The Court

That was quite an assembly we had for the Lake Mills game A pretty good idea for a member of the team to speak every week. Don't you think so? Let's have more of it.

Ed Gabrielson's part just fit him (a wolfman) and with Loretta winning the contest she played the perfect part of Victory.

The game Tuesday night was swell. Keep up the good work, boys. and we'll keep backing you. We'll win the conference yet!!

Say, did you see Mutt and Jeff at the game? (alias M. P. & J. F.)

Who is the certain Junior girl who received a large colored picture of a certain Senior boy, Tuesday night after the game? Do you know M. S.?

Why wasn't D. A. at the Lake Mills game? The Rowan girls had a game at Woolstock. Could that be the reason?

In The Bronco Corral

Congratulations are certainly in order to Loretta, Juniors, you nave done well in choosing and electing a Basketball Queen...Jean Ferguson is an authority on the subject, any subject...With Christmas and Christmas vacation in the air here are a few (helpful) hints on gifts desired by high school students.

Notes From Math Room

Many Puzzles Facing Students

The Freshman Algebra Class has been studying coin problems, age problems, mixture problems, and motion problems. As a rule most of the problems are very hard—so the Freshmen say at least.

Most of the Freshmen agree that motion problems are the hardest of the problems they have recently studied.

Here's two examples of the Freshmen headaches: Bud leaves Belmond on a bicycle at 1 p. m. traveling 10 miles per hour. At 3 p. m. Joe starts after him on a motorcycle traveling 45 miles per hour. How soon will he overtake Bud? Sam had 22 coins, nickels, and pennies, worth 90 cents. How many nickels and pennies has he?

If you can't get these ask any Algebra student. They'll be sure to know.

Mathematics Class

The Geometry class has been studying instructions and have just completed projects of quilt patterns and geometric designs. The high scores in the last unit tests were made by Cortland Haupt, Bonnie Hunst, Junior Slining, Allen Ter Hark and Glen Meints.

The Freshman mathematics class has been studying methods of paying money, writing out checks and check stubs, and balancing them with bank statements. They are now starting a new unit on the auto, discussing such things as depreciation, repairs, other expenses, and actual operating cost.

EDITORIAL

Have you ever thought of all the things that you have to be grateful for? Most people do as Christmas draws near. No one will realize what they have to be grateful for until they witness the deep sorrow of a mother who receives a notice from the war department stating that her boy has been killed in action, or they read the thoughts of one of service men as he boards train to return to his position in this war.

Just what does Christmas mean to you as an individual? To some it means just the mere exchanging of holiday gifts and cheer. To others it means much more, it means a feeling of security, peace and happiness. All of the families of America should be more than grateful that they are sure of a feeling of security. We may not be able to have peace among all men and all the happiness we wish this Chrismas but we should put forth our greatest effort to see that we will be assured all three—security, peace, and happiness—next Christmas.

Our New Year's resolution for the coming year is naturally to end the war which is the biggest and the most serious we will ever make. Let's be sure to see this resolution through and not fail our boys on the battle fronts.

Advanced Home Ec.

The Advanced Home Ec. class has just finished an inclusive pie unit. This unit included one crust pies, two crust pies and lattice work.

Now the cake unit is being taken up and the various cakes were made such as devils food, chocolate and sponge cake. To help in the study the girls brought their own sugar and pan and baked a full size cake.

After Christmas vacation the class will be divided and will have a dinner or luncheon at 5:30. Each group will have their own menus and table decorations.

TRINITY AND ST. OLAF LUTHERAN CHURCHES
O. M. Severseike, Pastor

As Christmas comes to us this year, the old expression, "A Joyous Christmas," seems to be out of place. And yet, if we can look beyond the things and circumstances of the immediate present, the old phrase "A Blessed Christmas" is still full of meaning.

It is the sincere wish of all at the parsonage, to all our members and friends, that Christ may become more real to you this Christmas.

"Joy to the world! The Lord is come:
Let earth receive her King:
Let every heart prepare Him room,
And heaven and nature sing."

DOWN RIVER

A bottle containing the name and address of Jeanette Bennett of Elkader traveled some distance before it was picked up. It was thrown in to the Turkey river at Clermont, July, 1940 by Jeanette. Four years later it was discovered by Dorothy Thul, of Graf. The bottle had floated down the Turkey river and entered the Mississippi river, traveling a distance of approximately 50 miles. The girls, now corresponding, have learned that both are freshmen in high school and are approximately the same age.

GOING STRONG

The headlines of a recent copy of the Sioux City Air Base newspaper, "The Flying Sioux-' read: "Janitor William Lee, Oldest Civilian Keeps Fighting at 88. Mr. Lee, the oldest employee at the air base, drives a 45-mile round-trip daily from Morville, to keep up his work as janitor at the parts and equipment warehouse. Doctors examining Mr Lee during the time he was applying for the job, advised him they could not believe he was 88 years old if he had not had documentary proof Mr. Lee says, "If the day ever comes when they draft men my age, I am ready".

SAVED HOME

"Fluffy" mewed and yowled loud enough one night to waken the Rev. Chas. A. Hyde who got up to learn the cause of the confusion Reverend Hyde found the house filled with smoke and the ceiling rafters in the basement over the furnace almost ready to burst into flames. The Peterson fire department made the nine-mile trip to the Hyde farm home and extinguished the fire. "Fluffy" now holds a very high place of honor in the Hyde family circle.

CAN YOU BELIEVE IT?

Last summer, a sow on the Lawrence Amos farm near Griswold was buried under a pile of straw. Seventy days later, when Mr Amos was cutting away straw he was much surprised to see the sow to make its way to the feed lots. Mr. Amos assisted her and gave her extra care. The animal gained strength and a few days later farrowed nine pigs, all living at the last report.

Christmas Greetings

"Now all our neighbors' chimneys smoke,
And Christmas blocks are burning,
Their ovens they with baked-meat choke,
And all their spits are turning.
Without the door let sorrow lye,
And if for cold it hap to die
We'll bury it in Christmas pie,
And evermore be merry."

These 17th century verses typify the old-time Christmas spirit we wish for you this Yule season of 1944.

15 Wright County 4-H Boys To Attend District Short Course

Scheduled at Mason City January 2-3

Plans are now being completed for 15 delegates from Wright County 4-H clubs to attend the district 4-H Club short course to be held in Mason City Jan. 2 and 3. According to Aaron R Bowman, County Extension Director, the theme of these district meetings is "Sailing Forward in 4-H" with club leaders all over the state attending some meeting during the month of January. Progress and development of 4-H Club work in the state are the chief aims of the training schools.

Discussions will be held on 4-H meetings, soil conservation, health programs, music training and development of character and personality. The Wall Lake Faithful Workers 4-H club will present a demonstration at the district 4-H short course at Mason City. Several club leaders will accompany the boys to the Mason City meeting in addition to Aaron R. Bowman, County Extension Director.

Farm Bureau Women To Discuss Technique Of Making Slip Covers

Bright new slip covers will help make old furniture last for the duration of the war. Wright County homemakers will discuss techniques needed in making professional looking covers, Jan. 5th, when they meet with Miss Elizabeth Diehl, county extension home economist at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Clarence Johnson in Norway township.

Other meetings with discussions on this subject will be held Jan. 17, Lincoln township; Jan. 24, Belmond township; Jan. 26, Wall Lake township.

Homemakers attending these extension "Family Living" meetings will consider all aspects of making slip covers: Selection of suitable material, fitting the cover on the chair, correct seams and finishing touches.

Although choice of materials may be limited by wartime shortages, Miss Deihl will discuss the market outlook. Wartime slip covers must be attractive for morale, be practical, durable, washable and dust resistant.

Barbara Jean Rankin of Kanawha visited at the Otto Hanson home Tuesday afternoon.

Candle Has Burned At Christmas Time For Twenty-five Years

Part of the annual Christmas festivity at the C. C. McGuire home consists in the burning, for about an hour, of a red candle. This does not sound unusual, but this particular red candle is an extraordinary one. Over twenty-five years ago, Mr. McGuire's daughter, Loretta, now Mrs. Leslie of Waverly, was attending St. Mary's College at Notre Dame. She sent her father a large red candle, about 18 inches tall in a beautiful candle stick. The candle was trimmed with holly and a red bow. The candle has been burning in its original holder every Christmas season since that time. This year it is about 9 inches tall.

Ensign and Mrs Lloyd Basler and daughter, Mary Ann, of Melville, R. I., were dinner guests last Wednesday night at the R. E. Ferguson home. The Baslers were en-route to California.

COX'N. D. D. FINN DESCRIBES "THE ANCON"

Cox'n. D. D. Finn wrote the Independent recently and part of his letter is as follows: "I see where Philip Lowenberg did some duty on the U. S. S. Ancon, and also that it is still afloat. I went aboard the same ship in Frisco and was transferred in Boston. I can plainly see where that ship is taking a large part in this war. While I was aboard her, we were the first troop transport into Brisbane, Australia. The Ancon was a beauty, a first class ocean liner... In peace time it would cost a small fortune to get a berth on it, something that only J. P. Morgan and myself could afford. I would be very happy if my orders read to report aboard the Ancon for the duration."

79 In County Took Advantage of x-ray Conference in July

Chest x-rays of seventy-[illegible] Wright County adults and children were taken at an x-ray conference held July 17 in the Presbyterian Church at Clarion, as part of a countywide search for tuberculosis while still in the early and [illegible] stage.

The program, fifth in the annual series, was sponsored by the Wright County Medical [illegible], the Wright County Public Health Nursing Service and the Wright County Christmas Seal Committee in cooperation with the tuberculosis control service of the Iowa Tuberculosis Association and the Iowa Department of Health. Local Christmas Seal funds helped finance the costs.

Miss Wilma Seabren, county nurse, was in charge of the program. She took histories of one hundred twelve patients. The majority of histories were made of persons who had been in contact with known tuberculosis cases and deaths. Sixteen physicians in the county referred patients because of suspected contact.

The physicians and nurse emphasized the importance of discovering tuberculosis before the appearance of symptoms of ill health. They explained to patients that the tuberculin skin test is a means of detecting the presence of tuberculous infection in the body. It was pointed out that a "positive" reaction to the test does not [illegible] active disease, but must be followed by an x-ray of the chest to discover whether damage is being done to the lung tissue.

Thirty-one persons visited their family doctors for the tuberculin test. Five of these tests resulted in positive reactions, indicating infection with the disease. Twenty-six were negative.

Fifty-nine patients were x-rayed for the first time at the x-ray conference, while twenty x-rays were taken of patients who had been examined previously and for whom another film had been recommended.

Four cases of pulmonary tuberculosis were reported, two of which were in the beginning stages. Thirty-five cases of the "first infection" type of the disease were listed. Thirty-three x-rays were listed as negative for tuberculosis.

Results of all x-ray films were sent to the family physician.

1945 GOAL, SHORTEN THE WAR

Jimmy,—poor kid, lookedout upon a cold, star-lit night, wondering where his daddy was. He would have given everything he had: tricycle, train, scooter and other toys dear to him if his daddy could have been home for Christmas. Dad, too, was lonesome. Out there in the soggy mud and insect infested jungle, Christmas wasn't too pleasant. Kneeling with bared and bowed head he had heard the chaplain whisper the immortal words "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men." Then he stood up, put on his helmet, grasped his rifle and started off in quest of more Japs. He knows the price of maintaining peace on earth and a free world.

This didn't happen in just one home—but thousands and thousands of homes throughout America, and it will happen again and again in the new year that lies ahead of us. We'll find it a little easier to think about the problems, the sadness, and the heartaches of war if we know we are doing all we can to help shorten the war.

In 1945 let us all keep on doing all we can to shorten the war: Buy bonds; Collect scrap; Conserve on critical items of food, gasoline, tires, etc.; Avoid strikes in industry; Keep busy. Dong all these things cheerfully and gladyly on the home front will in more than one way, help the men on the war front.

SOCIAL SECURITY TAX

The nation as a whole will approve of the action of Congress in freezing the Social Security tax at one per cent in view of the fact that there is reliable information that the present levy of one per cent is raising all the money needed to finance the program as it is now set up It is generally understood that the President may veto the action of Congress If he does, and Congress does not pass the bill freezing the tax over the veto by a two thirds majority, the tax will automatically go to two per cent January 1. Until such reason is given and as long as the one per cent tax will finance the present program it should remain one per cent. If the program is to be increased the plan for such an increase should be presented and discussed before the levy is made for it, not after. Until all the facts are on the table where they may be seen, Congress should continue to freeze the tax at one per cent, both by vote and by overruling vetoes.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

The move for enforced military training is meeting some opposition. It is argued that there is no hurry Again it is pointed out that the men at the front should have a say in the move. Also the present armed force will serve this country for several years, and a later move could fill the gap if there is one. There are many arguments on both sides: So far as I am concerned I believe it would be a good thing. I believe it would have been a good thing in the years gone by and will be a good thing in years to come. In the first place it will place this nation on a basis where it will not be caught as it was when both the world wars broke out. More, a year's military training never hurt anyone—generally speaking. Also there is in every generation a lot of unlicked young cubs that need a military straight jacket to straighten out their ideas. They are not controlled at home, not in their home town, and they need straightening out if they are to become good citizens. A year in the army will straighten them out if it can be done.—Wright County Monitor.

The Des Moines papers reported last week that Gov.-Elect Blue had been there, house-hunting, and had no luck. He may not be able to have his family with him when he takes office.

The Sheldon Mail suggests that the state of Iowa ought to have an executive mansion for its governor—an opinion long held by many Iowans.

For honest men like Iowans pick for public servants. politics and office-holding are not profitable. Some governors are comparatively poor men. They ought not to have to pay high rent on a home suitable to gubernatorial dignity.

It is hardly revealing a secret which ought to be kept to say that when the present governor became a candidate he expressed doubt to a friend that in the best interest of his family he ought to give up prospects of pecuniary success in his profession to serve in even Iowa's highest office.

The national government provides the president with not only a home but the furnishings. Why should not Iowa follow that example?

And while Iowa is about it, why not also give the governor a salary commensurate with his office? It seems rather a humiliating circumstance that the governor of this state is far outranked as regards salary by men of lower official status.—Kossuth County Advance.

Few people realize that agriculture is one of America's largest industries and employs approximately one-fifth of America's total workers. During war-time, our farm families have performed their difficult task of supplying food for our armed forces and Allies, only by working long, hard hours, seven days a week, 365 days a year—coping daily with the shortages of farm machinery, equipment and manpower. While this industry will not need time for conversion of its processing plants at the end of the war—it will face a tremendous responsibility of producing greater quantities of food than ever before in history—so that the people of these United States and throughout the world may have better food, better health and better life.—Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc. —Belle Plaine Union.

Looks like we will have to use plenty of force to keep peace in Europe, and it will not all be confined to the "enemy" countries. Most of the fighting now is confined to countries listed in the Allied cause, or were a few months ago. Watching over Europe will be a great game, and it looks like we will have to be 'America Firsters" on this side of the ocean as well as on the other side. The war is not over yet. It looks like we should have spent more effort to win the war first. The peace plan would then have been much easier to promote.—Hampton Chronicle.

It was hope that sent the Spanish galleons plowing through uncharted seas . . . hope that kept them on their course until they sailed between the Virginia capes. It is hope that "springs eternal in the human breast." hope that gives to New Year its magnificent spirit and the will to do.

Hopes are stronger than wishes. We hope for you in 1945 the fulfillment of all you plan for today, the best twelve-month that Father Time has ever meted out to you. And for right now, the happiest of New Years.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

You can always depend on A. J. Cronin to tell a good story, and he doesn't disappoint us in his latest novel, "The Green Years."

A. J. CRONIN

"The Green Years" is about a little boy during the painful years of adolescence, and the setting is far away—a provincial Scottish village. Robert Shannon, orphaned and alone, has been sent to live with his maternal grandparents. He finds himself in a hostile world; his name, his clothes, his religion are all the wrong kind for the new environment.

His grandmother is a good old soul, and colorless. His grandfather is about as mean and scrimping as they come. It is great-grandfather, however, who is the most stimulating of the family, a wicked old sinner to be sure, but who serves as the youth's buffer against his persecutors and who rises to glorious heights before the story is over.

Dr. Cronin is also the author of "The Keys of the Kingdom," which was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection and which Twentieth Century-Fox will soon bring to the screen.

Funerals were one of the foremost forms of entertainment in her Cape Cod village, Edith Austin Holton reports in "Yankees Were Like This." Once when old Mr. Applebee was rushing to one, a friend who tried to stop him was told, "Hold on, Abner. I'll have to hear ye out another time. Right now I'm headin' for Silas Bacter's funeral and it's somethin' I've been wantin' to go to for so long I ain't aimin' to lose a minute of the pleasure."

Burges Johnson, in "As Much As I Dare," tells that once when he was a little boy, his mother took him and his brother to visit the poet Whittier. In advance, she admonished them to treasure every word the poet said so they might relate them to their grandchildren. Writes Mr. Johnson, "We were as little interested in grandchildren then as in poets, but I still remember all his words to us." It seems they were climbing a tree, which they afterwards learned was Whittier's especial pride. High up in the branches, neither of them noticed the slender, white-haired old man in a fur-brimmed black hat who was hurrying toward them. He shook his stick at the boys and said, "Here, get down out of that tree." No, Burges Johnson never forgot those words.

BEST WISHES for 1945

★ Freedom of Opportunity is an American heritage. It was this, more than all else, that made America great.

We hope that 1945 will offer each of you more abundant means of turning "the American way" to better account—that each day will bring you more and richer blessings.

Everything's jake!

We decided to try Pan-a-min because of the feed situation. Its tonics stimulate body functions and help the layers make better use of the ration. You can see how important that is these days. Another thing, Pan-a-min provides essential minerals and every one knows a bird doesn't do so good without her minerals. Yes sir, I feel pretty sure Pan-a-min will be a must around here from now on. And if you are interested in Pan-a-min, just get in touch with don herold says:

Why, I didn't know "capitalist" meant me

There are practically 120 million capitalists in the United States.

Anybody who ever wants to save five cents a week more than he earns is a capitalist.

Anybody who puts money in a piggie bank is a capitalist. So is anybody who buys a war bond, or who invests in life insurance (about 65,000,000 of them), or who owns a farm or a home or a taxi or a store or a service station or anything.

Most of us hope to put some savings to work somehow. And we figure that the self-denial and extra effort we exert to get savings entitle us to a little reward.
